

How to share your research with 6th graders?

1. What is ONE thing about your research that you want the young people of the world to know?
2. How will you simplify this for 12 year olds? Remember, focus on the big picture. How can you get them to care?
3. What are some fun activities you could incorporate and that are realistic for you to implement?

Now it's time to put this into action! Below, plan out 2-3 minutes where you teach something specifically from your research with a target audience of 6th graders. After 5 minutes of planning, pair up and present to each other!
