My dearest Carson.
I thought it wise to put together a "Book of Wisdom" for you for your future. These pages will be filled with not only my words of wisdom, but also they will be filled with affirmations of my love for you. When you feel confused, homesick or just need a smile, I hope you find me in these pages. I am so excited for all you have in store and can't wait to get to experience Carson, the adult. There will be headings to help you navigate these pages because I know this will serve as a solid resource for you for the rest of your life. As I've said numerous times before ... thank you. Thank you for your beautiful love that you've shown me from day 1. Thank you for always holding true to who you are. Thank you for always making me so proud. Thank you for loving Cecile in the most patient and beautiful way. Thank you for admiring and respecting your father's love and acknowledging his leadership in our family. Thank you
