

Introduction to Urban Planning

PLAN/ESCI 3451

Course Objective

The course objective is for students to gain an understanding of the role of urban and regional planning in twenty first-century cities and regions. Contemporary issues are introduced in this course with reference to foundational literature on theory, methods, and practice of urban and regional planning.

Topics

Learn about the state of world's cities, the new face of the suburb, how to make a town, the role of the master plan and development regulations, how to plan for cities and regions sustainably in the face of demographic, economic, and climate change.

For further information, contact Reza Banai, PhD, Professor of City and Regional Planning, 217 McCord Hall, University of Memphis, email: rbandai@memphis.edu, or phone: 901-678-4559 or visit <http://blogs.memphis.edu/rbanai>