INTRODUCTION

The District's Professional Development Committee will undertake the work described in this document during the 2023-2024 school year. The Professional Development Committee (PDC) reviewed the requirements of the most recent Commissioner's Regulations, the existing district Professional Development Plan, and the current needs of teachers, administrators, and staff. This document represents the mechanism by which Professional Review and Professional Development continues to advance in South Orangetown. The committee believes that quality results will be evaluated by means of the document, the quality of thinking, cooperative dialogue, and collaboration that takes place within this committee and district staff. At the end of the Plan, there is a reference section aligning goals and objectives with suggested evaluation tools.

SOUTH ORANGETOWN CENTRAL SCHOOL DISTRICT

Professional Development Plan

Our Professional Development Plan contains five components: Preamble, Theory of Action, Student Needs, Goals and Objectives, Implementation, and Evaluation.

Professional development activities are aligned to one or more objectives of the Professional Development Plan. When conceived and implemented, professional development activities must include an indication of which evaluation activities will be used to determine the extent to which objectives were achieved. When professional development activities are completed, evidence will be provided on how the objectives were achieved.

Each year, the Professional Development Team will review activities directed at achievement of goals and recommend adjustments or changes in the Plan.

Preamble:

Teachers will meet the needs of all students by continually re-examining their beliefs, actions, programs and expectations. A broad range of both quantitative and qualitative evaluation tools may be employed to measure and monitor student success.

Theory of Action:

If we develop a culture of trust which enables people to take risks through providing ample opportunities to discuss and share best practices, while engaging in professional development then teaching and learning will continuously improve.

Student Needs:

Student needs are viewed as positive needs rather than as deficiencies.

- Students will be actively engaged and self-reliant learners.
- Students will be critical thinkers and problem solvers.
- Students will be effective communicators.
- Students will develop intellectual curiosity and a love of learning.
- Students will acquire knowledge and understanding through discussion and
- Collaboration on real-world problems. .
- Students will appreciate and experience the social context of learning and growing.
- Students will have opportunities and supports that will enable them to reach their full potential.

Goals and Objectives

Goals are aligned with the District's Strategic Plan, including Focus Area A: Promoting academic success for all students by ensuring equitable access to rigorous curriculum, aligned instructional materials, and meaningful assessments that guide instructional practice, and Focus Area B: Developing and retaining a team of highly-qualified staff through recruitment and professional development.

- Goal 1: Teachers will stay current with Best Practices and support their students in becoming responsible, self-reliant, and life-long learners and provide them with the skills to Promote Academic Success.
- Goal 2: Teachers will be supported in helping students develop a growth mindset and skills needed to be independent readers, writers, mathematicians, communicators, and researchers.
- Goal 3: Teachers will address the diverse needs of all learners by using formative and summative assessments to differentiate lessons and activities to meet students' needs.
- Goal 4: Teachers will create a community of learners that help to support the social and the emotional needs of all students.
- We support new teachers with mentors using Title II funds for professional development and ongoing mentoring support.
  - We provide all teachers with support through a blended model of professional development, which includes instructional coaches for literacy, math, science, and technology to enhance teaching and learning.
  - Our Instructional Coaching Model helps provide specific feedback to teachers to help them improve. Our coaches primary roles are:
    - Model best instructional practices.
    - Help teachers implement effective instructional strategies, new ideas, often by planning with and observing a teacher to provide feedback, demonstrating a lesson, or co-teaching.
    - Curriculum: Excel at understanding content state standards, how the components of a curriculum link to strong instructional practice,
    - Data: Leads conversations that assists teachers in analyzing data and then applying the data to strengthen instruction.
    - Provides resources that are aligned with New York State Standards, including curriculum maps.

Blended Model of Professional Development

We pride ourselves on our blended model of professional development, which includes outside expertise in specific content areas coupled with in-district administrators, instructional coaches, and teachers who help plan and facilitate and differentiate Professional Development for the district. The instructional coaches provide a variety of professional development for a wide spectrum of teachers using powerful methods of coaching that are differentiated to meet individual teacher needs. The coaching relationship emphasizes the importance of community building—of relationships, identities, personal motivation—as well as skill development. The coaches guide students and teachers and find ways to support skill development along with a collaborative, vibrant, and respectful classroom community. The coaches focus on ensuring that we are implementing a model of instruction that provides time for: Direct teaching of explicit content; strategies, and skills; ample opportunities for students to discuss and explore that content through problem solving; and time for assessing that the content has been learned and can be applied in a variety of situations. The instructional coaches also attend the BOCES Curriculum Council for each of their subject areas.

Implementation Component

Implementation of the plan will follow the process below. Each year, it is intended that teachers' professional goals will be aligned with school and district goals.

The District administration and/or the Professional Development Committee will decide on specific activities to achieve the defined goals and objectives. These activities will become part of the District's professional development opportunities and catalog.

Or,

School administrators and/or building teams may decide on specific activities to achieve plan objectives.

Or,

Individual teachers may design professional development activities aligned to the achievement of specific objectives.

The objectives and goals in the plan can be achieved through the use of one or more of these implementation strategies. A key to successful implementation is thoughtful and reflective consideration of one's teaching and learning experiences.

Continuing Teacher and Leadership Education (CTLE) Credits

CTLE Credits will only be issued for content area professional development activities, pedagogy, or language acquisition activities. Additionally, educators acting as a mentor to a new classroom teacher as a part of the school district's mentoring program will receive credit up to 30 hours of such time towards their CTLE requirement in each five-year registration period. Also, educators acting as a mentor to a teacher candidate may receive credit up to 25 hours of time towards their CTLE requirement in each five-year registration period.

CTLE credits are tracked for each teacher in MyLearningPlan for each teacher. Teachers are required to retain their own records for at least three years from the end of the registration period in which the CTLE Credits were completed. Teachers have the ability to generate certificates (CTLE pre-approved by the District) for record purposes from their Frontline Professional Development portfolio.

Observation and Evaluation

Administrative observation and evaluation (3012-d)

Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE): The New York State Education law requires that holders of a professional certificate in the classroom teaching service or educational leadership service and holders of a Level III Teaching Assistant certificate (not permanent certificates) who are practicing in a New York public school or board of cooperative educational services (BOCES) to complete 100 hours of Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE) during each five year registration period. SOCSO is an NYSED CTLE Provider. Teachers should review professional learning activities as within www.mylearningplan.com to determine if an offering qualifies for CTLE credit. It is each educator's responsibility to complete CTLE hours and to maintain documentation.

Evaluation Component:

The intent of this plan is to provide for a variety of methods to assess progress towards achieving the goals of the Professional Development Plan. Each professional growth endeavor must have an evaluation component.

The following tools are available to assess progress towards achievement of goals and objectives:

- Administrative observation and evaluations
- Goals and Evidence Collection
- Action research
- Student interviews and surveys
- Analyses of student work
- Teacher interview and surveys
- Test data analyses (Disaggregated and longitudinal data)
- Formative and summative assessments
- Consultant review/Tristate review
- District/School Report Card
- BEDS Data

District-Wide Opportunities

Innovative Designs in Education (IDE)

IDE Summer Workshop

July 10-14, 2023

In addition to providing CTLE credits for certification, these sessions are in-service workshops that count as credits towards either salary movement or stipend.

The workshop will address equity within classroom culture, instruction, and assessment through IDE Corp.'s 7 Lenses for Instructional Equity: opportunity, access, empowerment, relationships, representation, authenticity, and cultural responsiveness. The workshop is designed and differentiated for teachers with any level of experience.

We will focus on real-world problems that provide choice and voice for all students.

4-Day Workshop Overview

Developing Your Equitable Learning Environment.

Given students' varied experiences and cultural backgrounds, it is necessary to plan instruction to reach every student. Only then can we ensure that content/instruction for a student's individualized and incorporates cultural backgrounds and experiences. Cultural responsiveness has four areas of focus: home and school partnerships, culture of high expectations, student-driven learning, and teacher facilitation.

During this workshop, participants will explore, but will not be limited to, the following topics:

- Designing facilitation tools and strategies for leveraging language of high expectation
- Developing strategies and tools to create a student-driven learning environment
- Developing structures and activities to increase student representation in the classroom
- Design of authentic learning experiences related to real-world issues, including those of social justice
- Design of materials to build parent/caregiver partnerships

IDE Virtual Learning Communities

In addition to providing CTLE credits for certification, these courses (online) are in-service workshops that count as credits towards either salary movement or stipend.

We will be offering the following online professional development opportunity through IDE Corporation throughout the year. There are a number of online courses that run asynchronously during the time periods listed below. Although they are asynchronous, the courses run over a specific time period because there are several timed opportunities for online collaboration with the instructors and classmates during the courses.

These courses all involve you creating resources that you can use right away in class, opportunities to reflect on implementing the tools created, many open video conference times to talk with a consultant each week, model a differentiated online environment with choice, and an opportunity to collaborate with teachers from other districts who are also taking the course.

Building Executive Function to Support Student Success Executive function is critical to students’ academic achievement and social-emotional learning. Focusing, shifting attention from one activity to another, working toward a goal, persisting in a task, catching and correcting errors, and managing time are all executive function skills that students need to be successful in any learning environment. Executive function skills often determine student resilience and success. The good news is that executive function skills can be developed and accelerated. Participants will explore six key life skill areas that are uniquely supported by executive function, and design instructional plans to intentionally build these critical achievement prerequisites in all learners. Participants in this course will use Dr. Nancy Sulla’s book Building Executive Function: The Missing Link to Student Achievement as a resource. Prioritizing Social and Emotional Learning Social and emotional learning (SEL) plays a major role in one's success in life and career. Being in touch with emotions, controlling them, setting and achieving goals, engaging with others in socially appropriate ways, demonstrating empathy toward others, establishing positive relationships, and taking responsibility in life are critical skills that are not necessarily included in your current curriculum. In this course, participants will develop strategies to promote self-awareness, self-management, social awareness, relationship, and responsible decision-making skills in a student-driven learning environment. Participants in this course will use Dr. Nancy Sulla's book Reinventing the Classroom Experience as a resource. . ## Structures and Strategies to Support Individualized Learning

How can you ensure that each of your learners is able to access learning and succeed in any learning environment? How can teachers make the most of their time with students to cover a lot of curriculum? The teacher's role as a facilitator of learning has become more relevant than ever. Explore strategies to help students navigate their learning environment to build academic resilience, accelerate student learning through a focus on the power standards, and support social-emotional learning and executive function. This course will help you rethink instruction to prioritize differentiation and scaffolds that will meet all learners' needs. Participants will deconstruct their curriculum to identify and teach to the power standards in ways that build foundational standards in the process.

Participants in this course will use Dr. Nancy Sulla's book Reinventing the Classroom Experience as a resource. Please contact Ann Quigley if you need a copy of the book.

TRI STATE CONSORTIUM PARTNERSHIP

SOCSD has been a member of the Tri States Consortium since 2004, and we have conducted visits in the areas of ELA/Writing, Math, Response to Intervention, Science and Engineering, Social Studies and Student Conversations, Debates, and Public Speaking.

During our most recent review, held March 22-24,2023 we explored several themes and decided to refocus our efforts on fostering opportunities for students to collaborate and communicate through discussions in authentic and meaningful ways, which has been severely hampered by the pandemic. We are reminded that one of the core competencies our students must continue to develop is their listening and speaking skills. We see a unique opportunity to collect evidence about how students are developing and honing communication skills.

GENE THOMPSON GROVE

Gene is a long-time South Orangetown Educational Consultant that works with administrators and staff on Professional Learning Communities, Response to Intervention, Differentiated Instruction, and Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion.

APPENDIX A

New York State Professional Development Plan

The Professional Development Plan (PDP) is a requirement of New York State Education Commissioner's Regulations. Its purpose is: to improve the quality of teaching and learning by ensuring that all teachers participate in substantial professional development to meet the learning needs of their students. An important feature of the PDP is that professional development must be linked to improved outcomes for students.

The Plan must include a needs analysis, goals, objectives, implementation strategies, activities, and evaluation standards. The Professional Development team reviewed data related to student achievement and determined that our District would be best served by a plan that addressed generic and positive student needs rather than student deficiencies.

We also determined to develop relatively broad goals and objectives to encompass a range of professional development opportunities directed at the student needs. Given that the goals are broad, the evaluation activities are suggestive and intended to be made more specific as specific professional development projects are conceived.

It is expected (and required by Regulation) that all teachers will participate in professional development activities each year through one or more of the mechanisms specified in the implementation component. It is also expected that each professional development activity – whether created at the district level, building level, or by individual teachers – will specify the goals and objectives that are being addressed and the manner by which the participants will know if the objective was achieved.

It is envisioned that the Professional Development Plan along with the Annual Professional Performance Review (APPR) will integrate professional development and teacher review toward the common goal of improved student outcomes.

Highlights of the State Plan

Goals of the Professional Development Plan

- To improve the quality of teaching and learning through differentiated professional development
- To meet the diverse learning needs of students
- To be based on teachers' needs
- To be tied to student achievement
- To provide for participation in planning

- To coordinate planning process
- To strengthen evaluation

Professional Development Plan Required Components

- Needs analysis
- Goals
- Objectives
- Strategies
- Activities (Implementation)
- Evaluation standards

For Teachers:

- Provides substantial professional development
- Is aligned with students' learning needs and teacher capacity
- Participation is expected
- Is aligned with NYS learning standards
- Is articulated across grade levels
- Is continuous and sustained
- Indicated how effectiveness is determined

For Teachers With Professional Certification

- Provides CTLE 100 hours of participation every five years to maintain Professional Certification

Members of the Professional Development Team

- Appointed according to Board of Education policy
- Must have a majority of teachers (appointed by bargaining unit)
- Must include Superintendent or designee
- Must include school administrators (selected by bargaining unit)
- Must include at least one parent (selected by parent group)
- Must include a curriculum specialist
- A higher education representative (where feasible)

Professional Development Team Schedule

- Has 180 days to develop a Plan
- Must convene prior to October 8, 2017
- First year for plan implementation: September, 2000

Board of Education Role and Schedule

- Professional Development Team will submit revised components of plan based on feedback from the Professional Development Committee by 6/30/23
- Board of Education may accept or reject plan in whole or in part by July 1, 2023
- BOE will implement Plan by 9/01/23
- Plan will be in place by 9/1/23
- Plan will be reviewed annually or multi-plan must be reviewed annually by the Professional Development Committee

Reporting Requirements

Superintendent assures:

- That the District has complied with the PDP requirement in the current year
- That the District has a plan in place for the succeeding year

Commissioner may request a copy of the PDP and recommend changes

Other Provisions:

- Voluntary participation by teachers for after-school hours or subject to collective bargaining
- Variance for districts with existing contracts that conflict with regulations.

APPENDIX B

SOUTH ORANGETOWN CENTRAL SCHOOL DISTRICT

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the South Orangetown Central School District is to elevate, engage and inspire through personalized and exceptional educational experiences that ensure all students achieve to their fullest potential.

Our values are:

- To challenge our students with the highest quality education
- To foster an inclusive school district community based upon respect, responsibility, equity and global citizenship, and
- To provide a safe and nurturing environment which prepares every student for future success

APPENDIX C

South Orangetown Central School District Mentoring Program

New Teacher Induction and Mentoring Program

Each year we provide mentors to all new teachers. We also provide mentors during the second year if necessary. The district works with EASO to provide the best match between the new teachers and thementors. New teachers meet three times a year with the Assistant Superintendent and the Director of Staff Relations to focus on the district's vision and best practices.

The new teachers are involved in a New Teacher Orientation before school starts. This session will be held on August 28, 2023 and focuses on lesson planning, project-based learning, student-centered classrooms as well as the Teacher Evaluation system (3012-d) used by the district. The new teachers also spend time at their new schools with activities planned by the school leaders. New teachers are issued their passwords and receive technology training. At least three additional new teacher workshop sessions will be planned throughout the 2023-2024 school year.

During each year of the probationary period, each teacher is observed formally at least three times using our district's teacher evaluation program, which includes a pre-observation, observation and post observation. In addition, the teachers are observed informally via learning walks. The teacher has a mid- year and end of year conference with the administrators.

If a probationary teacher is not progressing in a satisfactory manner then a professional teacher improvement plan will be collaboratively developed and implemented by the teacher in need of improvement, school leaders, and EASO representatives (Per EASO contract). Specific goals and outcomes are developed based on identified needs. If the teacher improves, the professional improvement plan will be suspended. The district's expectation is that a teacher receiving tenure will be effective in most of the evaluated areas.

APPENDIX D

Evaluation System

Our district's APPR is based on an evaluation model developed from Charlotte Danielson's Framework for Teaching. We customized the indicators based on the district's goals and expectations. Administrators are trained in this model every year. Administrators are also provided with re-calibration and inter-rater reliability training as we recognize that providing meaningful feedback to administrators and teachers is a craft that must always continue to be developed.

During the course of the year, the Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum leads professional development on the evaluation model. The principals and assistant principals share their evaluation reports and provide critical feedback to help improve their work. In addition, informal and unannounced observations will occur on a frequent basis. All observations, formal and informal are documented in an online evaluation system (Staff Trac). The central office administrators also observe instructional staff.

Administrators are evaluated using a similar APPR. Each year the administrators develop their goals based on their individual strengths and needs. They review these goals with the Superintendent to develop their yearly plan and meet for a midyear and end of year review.

APPENDIX E

Building Executive Function to Support Student Success Executive function is critical to students’ academic achievement and social-emotional learning. Focusing, shifting attention from one activity to another, working toward a goal, persisting in a task, catching and correcting errors, and managing time are all executive function skills that students need to be successful in any learning environment. Executive function skills often determine student resilience and success. The good news is that executive function skills can be developed and accelerated. Participants will explore six key life skill areas that are uniquely supported by executive function, and design instructional plans to intentionally build these critical achievement prerequisites in all learners. Participants in this course will use Dr. Nancy Sulla’s book Building Executive Function: The Missing Link to Student Achievement as a resource. Please contact Ann Quigley if you need a copy.	Building Executive Function to Support Student Success

Strategies for Supporting ELLs How can teachers help English Language Learners (ELLs) thrive in their classrooms? This VLC will offer strategies based on the 7 Essential Elements for ELL Support: Physical Space, Scaffolding, Resources, Explicit Language Instruction, Facilitation, Emotional Wellness, and Social Engagement. Participants will learn actionable strategies to implement to help both students and teachers thrive. Strategies will be tailored to each participant's grade level and subject area.	Strategies for Supporting ELLs
Prioritizing Social and Emotional Learning Social and emotional learning (SEL) plays a major role in one's success in life and career. Being in touch with emotions, controlling them, setting and achieving goals, engaging with others in socially appropriate ways, demonstrating empathy toward others, establishing positive relationships, and taking responsibility in life are critical skills that are not necessarily included in your current curriculum. In this course, participants will develop strategies to promote self-awareness, self-management, social awareness, relationship, and responsible decision-making skills in a student-driven learning environment. Participants in this course will use Dr. Nancy Sulla's book Reinventing the Classroom Experience as a resource. . ## Structures and Strategies to Support Individualized Learning

How can you ensure that each of your learners is able to access learning and succeed in any learning environment? How can teachers make the most of their time with students to cover a lot of curriculum? The teacher's role as a facilitator of learning has become more relevant than ever. Explore strategies to help students navigate their learning environment to build academic resilience, accelerate student learning through a focus on the power standards, and support social-emotional learning and executive

function. This course will help you rethink instruction to prioritize differentiation and scaffolds that will meet all learners' needs. Participants will deconstruct their curriculum to identify and teach to the power standards in ways that build foundational standards in the process.

Participants in this course will use Dr. Nancy Sulla's book Reinventing the Classroom Experience as a resource. Please contact Ann Quigley if you need a copy of the book.
