

DID YOU KNOW?

The Perspectives of Transgender People Are Necessary in Schools!

According to the Williams Institute at UCLA:

- 1.6M people in the U.S. ages 13+ identify as trans
- 18% of people who identify as trans are ages 13-17

According to the CDC in 2021:

- 69% of queer youth reported feeling persistently hopeless
- Queer students were 4 times more likely to attempt suicide than cis/het peers
- Queer youth consistently report higher rates of bullying and violence, and are more likely to miss school as a result

LOOKING FOR MORE RESOURCES?

<https://www.thetrevorproject.org/>

<https://www.them.us/story/orgs-fighting-back-anti-trans-legislation>

<https://translifeline.org/>

<https://srlp.org/>

<https://transequality.org/>

<https://blogs.umb.edu/beauandrews/projects/>

PROTECT OUR
Trans
SIBLINGS

WE NEED
TRANS
CONTENT IN EDUCATION!

VISIBILITY BENEFITS STUDENTS, HERE'S WHY:

- Nursing Education that includes LGBTQ+ content in its curriculum helps nurses provide better care in the field.
-Nurse Education Today, Journal
- Inclusion of LGBTQ+ perspectives in the classroom helps combat homophobic and transphobic practices.
-English in Australia, Journal
- Transgender youth who can identify at least one supportive adult at school have better social-emotional outcomes.
-Journal of School Psychology

A CALL FOR TRANS INCLUSION

- In Individual Classrooms
- In School Administration
- In Required Textbooks
- In Class Readings
- In Student Activities
- In Conversations
- In Sports Teams
- In Students' Lives

IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE!

Introducing students to the writings and perspectives of transgender people enhances the experience of students and school staff everywhere!

Decreasing the stigma around LGBTQ+ lives lowers incidents of homophobic and transphobic violence, reduces the rate of attempted suicide, and improves student learning outcomes.

Increasing the presence of trans staff in schools creates safe environments!

