

DORCHESTER HISTORY INITIATIVE PRESENTS:

Building A People's History of Dorchester

Dorchester Historical Society
195 Boston St.
Dorchester, MA 02125
Saturday, April 22nd, 2017
10am – 12pm
Coffee and refreshments

Come and share your aspirations for Dorchester history. Help make Dorchester's past visible. Please join us in a conversation about our communities' histories, sharing your thoughts on what histories you want to know and explore. What history is missing and why does it matter to you?

History empowers us. Sustaining our communities and supporting active citizenship requires that we understand and share our histories. Building a people's history depends on your participation.

For more information, contact:

Jane Becker, PhD (Graduate Internship Coordinator and Lecturer, History Dept., UMass Boston), jane.becker@umb.edu

Monica Pelayo, PhD (Dir. of the Public History Track and Assistant Professor, History Dept., UMass Boston), monica.pelayo@umb.edu

The Dorchester History Initiative includes John McColgan, City Archivist; the Dorchester Historical Society; UMass Boston's Department of History (Public History Track); and the University Archives and Special Collections, Joseph P. Healey Library.