

Annual Conference 2025

Sustaining Justice

Food, Environment, and New Technologies

23.10-26.10

Join us for the 2025 YGJP/ASAP Annual Conference, where scholars, practitioners, and policymakers from around the world come together to explore how justice can be sustained in the face of today's global challenges. This year's theme "Food, Environment, and New Technologies" will be addressed through keynotes, panels, and interactive discussions led by ASAP members and invited experts.

A highlight of this year's program is our environmental journalism deep dive, "Stories & Systems: Voices in Environmental Justice," featuring Vernon Loeb (Inside Climate News), Emily Atkin (HEATED), Bill McKibben (Third Act), Rick Lopes (Connecticut State Senator and Chair Senate Environment Committee), Latha Swamy (City of New Haven Director of Food System Policy), and Kai Chen (Yale Associate Professor in Environmental Health Sciences), moderated by Jamie Taylor (Vice President for Corporate Affairs at Protagonist Therapeutics). Together, we will share research, reflect on practice, and exchange ideas that push forward our collective mission of fighting poverty and injustice. For the full program schedule, speaker details, and registration information, scan the QR code. We warmly invite you to be part of this space for critical dialogue, collaboration, and community.

Scan
QR Code

for full details on the agenda, and speakers

<https://globaljustice.yale.edu/>

FOLLOW US

Collaborating Partner:

POYNTER
FELLOWSHIP IN JOURNALISM

For the Zoom link and registration, contact: min.sttk@academicsstand.org

Your Guide to the Program

Content	Pg. No.
ALL ASAP DAY 23.10 Program (Virtual)	1-2
Friday, October 24 Program (Hybrid day)	3
Student Video Showcase “Visions in Motion”	4
Friday’s Featured Speakers (in alphabetical order)	5-6
Saturday, October 25 Program (Virtual)	7
Saturday Featured Speakers (in alphabetical order)	8-9
Sunday, October 26 Program (Virtual)	10-11
Thursday and Sunday Speakers (in alphabetical order) (A)	12
Thursday and Sunday Speakers (in alphabetical order) (C-D)	13
Thursday and Sunday Speakers (in alphabetical order) (F-G)	14
Thursday and Sunday Speakers (in alphabetical order) (L-M)	15
Thursday and Sunday Speakers (in alphabetical order) (M-S)	16
Thursday and Sunday Speakers (in alphabetical order) (T)	17

ALL ASAP DAY 23.10 Program (Virtual)

Time (EST)	Speaker	Title
9:00	ASAP Family	ASAP Family Gathering with ASAP Board, ASAP members, & ASAP's Global Coordinator; moderated by Zeke Ngcobo
9:40	Alberto Cimadamore	Food Security in the Era of the SDGs. A Latin American perspective.
10:20	Rakhmat Hidayat	Dispossessed but Not Defeated: indigenous poverty, cultural resilience, and the struggle for justice among the Sunda Wiwitan of Indonesia
10:40	Aanchal Seth	Sustaining Justice for Tribal Communities and Forests in the Western Himalayas, India
11:00	Skylab Sahu	Environmental Justice, the State, and Capital: reclaiming the commons
11:25	Clautrida Mutabaruka	Indigenous Peacebuilding: pathway to sustainable justice
11:45	Christopher Ryan Maboloc	Addressing Poverty in Muslim Mindanao: perspectives from Thomas Pogge and Iris Marion Young
12:05	Madhuri Kamtam	Labor Laws, Welfare, and Gendered Collective Action in India's Home-Based Occupations
12:25	Gabriel Amitsis & Foteini Marini	The Challenging Regulatory Context of Care Poverty in Greece
12:45	Carol Cravero	Exploring the Cultural Dimension of Public Procurement

ALL ASAP DAY 23.10 Program (Virtual)

Time (EST)	Speaker	Title
13:10	Danielle Denny	Traceability and Low-Carbon Cattle: pasture restoration pathways
13:30	Tobias Orthen	The impact of AND: bridging prosperity, climate justice and soil solutions
14:00		Children as Social Witnesses: literature and art in global context
14:40	Mohammad Abedi	Mohammad Abedi's feature film: ALL THE EYES
15:00		Q&A and discussion with award-winning filmmaker Mohammad Abedi, internet permitting.

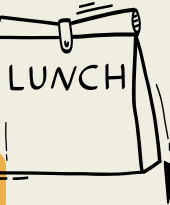

Friday, October 24, hybrid day, Rosenfeld Hall, 109 Grove Street (enter from Temple Street)

9am EST Thomas Pogge

"Ecological Impact Fund:
A New Path to Global Justice"

9:45am-12:15pm

Student Video Showcase
"Visions in Motion"

12:30pm-2pm
Enjoy lunch and networking at Silliman Colledge

2pm

Deep Dive Discussion "Stories & Systems: Voices in Environmental Justice"

- Vernon Loeb (Inside Climate News)
- Emily Atkin (HEATED)
- Bill McKibben (Third Act)
- Rick Lopes (Connecticut State Senator and Chair Senate Environment Committee)
- Latha Swamy (City of New Haven Director of Food System Policy)
- Kai Chen (Yale Associate Professor in Environmental Health Sciences)
- Moderated by Jamie Taylor (Vice President for Corporate Affairs at Protagonist Therapeutics)

05:30pm

Evening Gathering &
Dinner at Blair Room
at Pearson college

ASAP Academics Stand
Against Poverty

Yale University
Global Justice Program

Albert Schweitzer Institute
Quinnipiac
UNIVERSITY

The background of the page features a stylized illustration of a student presentation stage. A male student in an orange shirt and pants stands on the right side of the stage, holding a microphone. In the foreground, the backs of several audience members' heads are visible, showing a diverse group of students. The stage is set against a dark backdrop with blue vertical panels on the sides.

Student	Topic
Jessica VanOss	Financial Literacy and Democratic Finance
Sana Quadri, Elizabeth B. Hutchison, Aslin Argueta, Janet Paida	Beyond Borders: Immigration Support in the U.S.
Edith N. Rodriguez, Ava Poletski	Rehabilitative Education
Samantha L. Gerossie	GIS as an Emerging Technology for Equitable Access
Pranav Velunathan, Dhruva N. Khanna, Aurelien Buisine	Crypto for Good: Tokenized Reward Systems
Lillian R. Curtin	Media Literacy Education
Jack B. Raso	Recycling Incentives at Universities Campuses
Mikayel Sahakyan	Green Finance for Climate Justice
Cameron M. Anthony	AI and Smart Sensors Integration in Smart Cities for Crime Detection

Student Video Showcase

"Visions in Motion"

Friday's Featured Speakers (in alphabetical order)

Bill McKibben (Third Act)

Bill McKibben is a renowned environmentalist, author, and journalist, best known for his book The End of Nature (1989), the first publication for a general audience on climate change. He is the founder of Third Act, a nonprofit engaging people over 60 in climate activism, and helped co-found 350.org, the first global grassroots climate campaign. McKibben has authored over twenty books and countless articles, and is recognized as one of the world's most influential environmental advocates, regularly speaking at major institutions and leading international campaigns for climate justice.

Emily Atkin (HEATED)

Emily Atkin is the author and founder of HEATED, a weekly newsletter focused on accountability reporting and analysis of the climate crisis. She is also a contributing columnist for MSNBC. Previously, Emily was a climate staff writer at The New Republic and deputy climate editor at ThinkProgress, with her work featured in major outlets like Newsweek, Slate, and Mother Jones. Her journalism is driven by a commitment to uncover stories that matter, inspired by her mentor, investigative journalist Wayne Barrett.

Jamie Taylor (Vice President for Corporate Affairs at Protagonist Therapeutics) - Moderator

Jami Taylor is Senior Vice President of Investor Relations at Coherus BioSciences, a biotechnology firm based in Redwood City, California. She serves on boards and advises early-stage biotech companies in the San Francisco Bay Area and San Diego. With over a decade of experience, Jami is a distinguished lecturer on Investor Relations topics at top universities such as MIT Sloan, Harvard, and Yale. She holds an MBA from Northwestern's Kellogg School of Management, a master's from Harvard, and a BA with Distinction from the University of Virginia, and is an Investor Relations Charter holder.

Kai Chen (Yale Associate Professor in Environmental Health Sciences)

Dr. Kai Chen is an Associate Professor of Epidemiology (Environmental Health Sciences) at Yale School of Public Health and Co-Faculty Director of the Yale Center on Climate Change and Health. He earned his PhD in Environmental Science and Engineering from Nanjing University and has held fellowships at Columbia University and Helmholtz Zentrum München. Dr. Chen's research focuses on how climate change and air pollution impact human health, employing interdisciplinary approaches in exposure assessment and environmental epidemiology, with studies conducted across China, Europe, and the United States.

Friday's Featured Speakers (in alphabetical order)

Latha Swamy (Director of Food System Policy, City of New Haven)

Latha Swamy is the Director of Food System Policy for the City of New Haven, CT, where she supports community-led efforts to build environmentally sustainable and socially just food systems. She also serves as Senior Advisor to Dr. Ernesto Zedillo at Yale's Center for the Study of Globalization, and is active internationally on issues related to environmental degradation, health, and agriculture. Latha holds a Master's of Environmental Management from Yale, and has also trained in urban farming and food justice practices.

Rick Lopes (Connecticut State Senator and Chair, Senate Environment Committee)

Rick Lopes is a Connecticut State Senator representing the 6th district, encompassing Berlin, New Britain, and parts of Farmington. He has a bachelor's degree in English literature and sociology and a master's in social work from the University of Connecticut. Lopes serves as Co-Chair of the Environment Committee and Vice Chair of the Transportation Committee. He has a background in community organizing, housing coordination, and vocational counseling, with a strong commitment to environmental sustainability and social equity within the state legislature.

Thomas Pogge

Having received his PhD in philosophy from Harvard, Thomas Pogge is Leitner Professor of Philosophy and International Affairs and founding Director of the Yale Global Justice Program. He is a member of the Norwegian Academy of Science as well as co-founder of Academics Stand Against Poverty (ASAP), an international network aiming to enhance the impact of scholars, teachers and students on global poverty. More information at <https://campuspress.yale.edu/thomaspogge/>

Vernon Loeb (Executive Editor, Inside Climate News)

Vernon Loeb is the Executive Editor of Inside Climate News, a leading non-profit newsroom dedicated to environmental journalism. He has a distinguished career as a reporter, foreign correspondent, and editor, having worked at The Atlantic, Los Angeles Times, The Philadelphia Inquirer, The Washington Post, and Houston Chronicle. Loeb covered major events such as the Tiananmen Square uprising and wars in Iraq and Afghanistan, and under his editorial leadership, the publications he worked with received multiple Pulitzer Prize nominations and awards. He brings decades of experience in political and investigative journalism to his current role focused on climate and environmental issues.

Saturday, October 25 Program (Virtual)

Time (EST)	Speaker	Title
09:30	Sari Nuseibeh	Palestine: what next?
10:30	Isabel Ortiz	Financing Human Rights and Development: feasible even in the poorest countries
11:30	Yon Fernández-de-Larrinoa	TBA (Please visit https://globaljustice.yale.edu/ for updated information)
12:30	Branko Milanovic	Global Inequality
14:00	Dianne Calvi	Ending Hunger and Building Climate Resilience through Economic Inclusion and Digital Solutions: evidence and lessons from rural Africa
15:00	Michael Gerrard	Global Climate Change: the current legal situation

Saturday Featured Speakers (in alphabetical order)

Branko Milanovic

Branko Milanovic is a leading economist specializing in economic inequality. After serving as lead economist in the World Bank's Research Department for nearly 20 years, he is now a Professor of Economics at the City University of New York Graduate Center. Milanovic holds a Ph.D. in economics from the University of Belgrade and has written extensively on income distribution both within and between countries.

Dianne Calvi

Dianne Calvi is the President and CEO of Village Enterprise, a nonprofit dedicated to ending extreme poverty in rural Africa through entrepreneurship and innovation. Since joining the organization in 2010, she has led its expansion across seven countries, implemented pioneering funding models, and overseen rigorous impact evaluations. Dianne also serves on the board of directors of InterAction and the National Advisory Board for Stanford University's Haas Center for Public Service.

Isabel Ortiz

Isabel Ortiz is Director of Global Social Justice, a Geneva-based think tank, and heads the Global Social Justice Program at Joseph Stiglitz's Initiative for Policy Dialogue at Columbia University. She served as Director of the Social Protection Department at the United Nations International Labour Organization (ILO) from 2013 to 2019 and previously held senior roles at UNICEF and the UN Department of Economic and Social Affairs.

Michael Gerrard

Michael B. Gerrard is the Andrew Sabin Professor of Professional Practice at Columbia Law School and the founder and faculty director of the Sabin Center for Climate Change Law. He teaches environmental law, climate change law, and energy regulation. Prior to joining Columbia in 2009, he practiced environmental law in New York for nearly three decades, including as partner in charge of Arnold & Porter's New York office. Gerrard has led major legal efforts on climate change policy, chaired numerous environmental law committees, and authored several influential books and columns on environmental law and climate regulation.

Saturday Featured Speakers (in alphabetical order)

Sari Nuseibeh

Sari Nusseibeh is a Palestinian professor of philosophy and former president of the Al-Quds University in Jerusalem. Until December 2002, he was the representative of the Palestinian National Authority in that city. Often categorized as a moderate, he has advocated a one-state solution: a single, democratic, secular, binational state in which equality before the law, universal suffrage, and full citizenship are guaranteed for all inhabitants, irrespective of their ethnicity or religion.

Yon Fernández-de-Larrinoa

Yon Fernández-de-Larrinoa is Head of the Indigenous Peoples Unit at the FAO. An agricultural economist from UAM Madrid with a MABD in entitlements and food security, he has led major initiatives on indigenous food systems and coordinated emergency relief operations globally. He designed the FAO Manual on Free, Prior and Informed Consent and co-founded the FAO Pastoralists Knowledge Hub.

Sunday, October 26 Program (Virtual)

Time (EST)	Speaker	Title
8:00	Ali Fathollah-Nejad	An Islamic Emperor Without Clothes: from Iran's revolutionary process to the unraveling of the "Axis of Resistance"
9:00	Randy A. Tudy	Students' Attitudes and Motives for Using Artificial Intelligence: a structural model development
9:20	Mohammed Omer	Democratizing the Means of Production: participatory pathways for technology justice in manufacturing
9:40	Gaurika Chugh	Indian Perspectives on Environmental Justice
10:20	Matt Paneitz	Education with a Purpose: integrating poverty fighting into public school education
10:45	Soumyadeep Chowdhury	Towards a New Paradigm of Justice: civilisational leadership & public policies in India
11:05	Ghulam Abbas Alamdar	Underdevelopment in Afghanistan within the Framework of Paul Collier's Theory
11:25	Dominic Thomas-James	Internationalising the Criminal Law: too much law, not enough justice?
11:45	Liam Cappello	Gender Polarization in Voting: the role of negative campaigning
12:05	Gerardo Garcia & Lee Gregory	UK Election Manifestos: analysis and public impact

Sunday, October 26 Program (Virtual)

Time (EST)	Speaker	Title
12:45	Alexander Waller	Using your Democratic Voice on the Global Stage
13:05	Adam Ploszka	Why Social Rights Matter for Just Democracy: insights from Central and Eastern Europe
13:30	Tom Cardamone & Raymond Baker (Moderators)	Twelfth Amartya Sen Essay Prize Ceremony • First prize winner - Ekoja Solomon for "Deep Dive Into Livestock Rustling: the improvised oil well fueling under-development, animal abuse and terrorism in Nigeria and the Lake Chad Basin." • Second prize winner - Aremu Ololade Mustafa for "Ancient Riches, Modern Crimes: illicit financial flows in today's global art market" • Second prize winner - Wasima Khan for "Old Ghost, New Shadows: resource curse dynamics and the growing illicit flows in Africa's carbon market." • Honorary mention - God'sWill Dickson for "A Penny for One's Thoughts About the Future: decentralized prediction markets and its architectural risks of illicit financial flows."

Thursday and Sunday Speakers (in alphabetical order)

(A)

Aanchal Seth

Aanchal Seth is a Research Scholar at Panjab University, Chandigarh, India. Her work focuses on tribal rights to forests, with a special emphasis on the remote and ecologically sensitive regions of Himachal Pradesh. Through her research, she seeks to understand the intersections of community livelihoods, forest governance, and indigenous rights in the Himalayan context

Adam Ploszka

Dr Adam Ploszka is an assistant professor at the Center for Human Rights, Faculty of Law and Administration of the University of Warsaw. Formerly associated with the European University Institute in Florence as a Max Weber Fellow. Adam is the author of several publications on human rights and constitutional law.

Alberto Cimadamore

Cimadamore is a researcher at the National Scientific and Technical Research Council of Argentina (IIEP UBA-CONICET) and Director of the Center for Sustainable Development (FCE-UNL).

Alexander waller

Alex has a doctorate in Renewable Energy Technology and Environmental Ethics Education. He is the Head of Science at St. Stephen's International School in Thailand and a Fellow of the Royal Society of Biology. Alex has written several papers and book chapters as well as co-editing a book Planetary Health and Bioethics.

Ali Fathollah-Nejad

Dr. Ali Fathollah-Nejad is a German-Iranian political scientist and founder/director of the Center for Middle East and Global Order (CMEG) in Berlin. He specializes in Iran, Middle East politics, and the post-unipolar world order. Ali earned his PhD from SOAS, University of London, and has held fellowships at the Harvard Kennedy School, Brookings Institution, and American University of Beirut. An accomplished author and speaker, he has published extensively on Iran and international relations.

Thursday and Sunday Speakers (in alphabetical order) (C-D)

Carol Cravero

Carol is an Attorney-at-Law admitted to the Italian Bar and holds a joint PhD in Sustainable Public Procurement Law from the Universities of Turin and Paris Nanterre. She has served as a Legal Affairs Officer at the World Trade Organization and has advised governments on procurement reforms across Africa and the Middle East. As a certified OECD-MAPS assessor, she is currently conducting the public procurement assessment for Chad. A 2025–2026 Yale ASAP Fellow within the Global Justice Program, she is exploring the nexus of culture, sustainability and public procurement, with a particular focus on Indigenous traditional knowledge.

Christopher Ryan Maboloc

Dr. Christopher Ryan Maboloc is an Associate Professor at Ateneo de Davao University, the Philippines. He is the co-founder of the Social Ethics Society. In 2020, he was awarded the Public Intellectual Prize by the Philosophical Association of the Philippines as a recognition of his work and contribution to public discourse in the Philippines as a scholar.

Clautrida Mutabaruka

Clautrida Mutabaruka is one of the prize winners of this year's Nelson Mandela Essay Prize Competition. Her work focuses on Indigenous Peacebuilding as a proactive approach to reducing conflict and displacement crises

Danielle Denny

Danielle Denny is a researcher at RCGI/USP, CCarbon/USP, and a Postdoctoral Fellow at ESALQ/USP. Specialised in sustainability with a JD in international environmental law, she focuses on climate governance and pasture restoration. She held visiting fellowships at Yale, UCL, and NUS, collaborated with ECLAC/UN, and is a lead author of GEO-7/UNEP and a contributor to the Climate Technology Progress Report (UNFCCC).

Dominic Thomas-James

Dominic Thomas-James is a Postdoctoral Research Associate at Fitzwilliam College, University of Cambridge, and a Global Justice Fellow at Yale University. He is also a Tutor in International Relations and International Development at the University of Cambridge Institute of Continuing Education, and a member of the Cambridge Centre for Criminal Justice. Additionally, he is a practising barrister, called to the Bar of England and Wales, and a Door Tenant at Goldsmith Chambers, London. He holds degrees from Queens' College, Cambridge, and King's College London, and is active as a speaker and consultant on international justice and law.

Thursday and Sunday Speakers (in alphabetical order) (F-G)

Foteini Marini

Ms. Fotini Marini, PhD in social care law, is an international expert in social security law and policy, acting currently as the Head of the Social Welfare and Inclusion Hub in the Social Administration Research Lab (<https://sarl.uniwa.gr>) at the University of West Attica in Athens (www.uniwa.gr). She has undertaken research and teaching assignments in Greece and abroad in areas relating to EU and comparative, social security, social welfare, social care and inclusion policies.

Gabriel Amitsis

Gabriel Amitsis is an international lawyer and academic, first rank Professor of Social Security Law in the Department of Business Administration (Social Policy Unit) and Director of the Social Administration Research Lab (<https://sarl.uniwa.gr>) at the University of West Attica in Athens (www.uniwa.gr). He has undertaken research and teaching in Greece and abroad in areas relating to EU, comparative and national social security, social welfare, social care and social inclusion policies.

Gaurika Chugh

Dr. Gaurika Chugh is a faculty of Public Policy at TERI School of Advanced Studies, India. She has completed her PhD in Law and Governance from Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi. She works in the area of land governance, disaster risk governance and sustainability.

Gerardo Garcia

Dr. Gerardo Arriaga-Garcia is a Research Fellow in the City-Region Economic Development Institute (City-REDI), at Birmingham Business School, where he leads an inclusive innovation research agenda. His work centres on developing tailored frameworks and toolkits to enhance place-based, inclusive local innovation ecosystems. Dr. Arriaga-Garcia's current research focuses on co-creating actionable policy recommendations, advancing the academic discourse on place-based innovation, and performing in-depth data analysis to design novel intellectual models and methodologies that drive impactful change.

Ghulam Abbas Alamdar

Ghulam Abbas Alamdar is a PhD Candidate in Economic Development at the University of Yazd. His research Examines the challenges of Development and Governance in Afghanistan. and his academic interests include Development challenges and sustainable development for a better World.

Thursday and Sunday Speakers (in alphabetical order) (L-M)

Lee Gregory

Lee Gregory is an Associate Professor in Social Policy at the University of Nottingham and Chair of Trustees for Academics Stand Against Poverty UK. A founding member of the Queer Populations and Policies Network, his research focuses on poverty, inequality, LGBTQ+ issues, and welfare theory. Lee has extensive experience teaching social policy and sociology, supervising PhD students, and leading quality assurance and equality initiatives in academia.

Liam Cappello

Liam Cappello is a student at IIS De Amicis High School in Rovigo, Italy. His interests include global inequality, justice, and politics.

Madhuri Kamtam

Madhuri Kamtam is a doctoral researcher in the School of Global Development at the University of East Anglia, United Kingdom. Her research examines labour economics, gender, caste, and the political economy of development, with a particular focus on labour laws, welfare, and collective action in home-based occupations. Her PhD explores the beedi industry in India, drawing on extensive fieldwork in Telangana to investigate how legislation and women-led organising shape welfare outcomes.

Matt Paneitz

Matthew Paneitz is currently in the dissertation phase of a Doctorate in Education. His breakthrough research project in lesson plan and curriculum development will change the way primary, middle, and high school education is conducted in Comalapa, Guatemala, and potentially beyond.

Mohammad Abedi

Mohammad Abedi is an Iranian novelist, filmmaker, and child rights activist. His literary works have been translated into over ten languages and have been showcased at more than 100 international film festivals. He is also the founder of Teachers Against Poverty, a nonprofit aligned with the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals. Abedi's documentary film ALL THE EYES reflects his commitment to highlighting the voices and struggles of underprivileged children. Alongside his creative work, he is a dedicated educator in Western philosophy and Persian literature.

Thursday and Sunday Speakers (in alphabetical order) (M-S)

Mohammed Omer

Mohammed Omer is a Scientific Assistant at the New Production Institute, University of the Federal Armed Forces Hamburg and a visiting doctoral researcher at the Judge Business School, University of Cambridge. His work explores how open source industrial machines can enable sustainable industrialization and expand access to manufacturing in low-resource settings. He focuses on participatory design, frugal innovation, and distributed manufacturing approaches.

Rakhmat Hidayat

Dr. Rakhmat Hidayat is an Associate Professor of Sociology at the State University of Jakarta and a Visiting Fellow in the SDGs Fellowship at the University of Bonn. He earned his PhD from Université Lumière Lyon 2 (France) and has held research fellowships in Finland, the United States, Korea, Taiwan, and across Europe.

Randy A. Tudy

Dr. Randy A. Tudy is the deputy director of the Publication Unit of the University of Southeastern Philippines. He has published numerous peer-reviewed articles in reputable journals indexed in Scopus and Web of Science. Recently, his research has extended to examining the implications and ethical dimensions of Artificial Intelligence in education and poverty alleviation.

Skylab Sahu

Dr. Skylab Sahu is currently working as Associate Professor. She has completed Ph.D from Institute for Social and Economic Change (ISEC), Bangalore. Her Postdoctoral research as a Fellow, at SCAS, University of Uppsala, Sweden, was on "Labour, migration and rights: A case study of informal migrant labourers in Balangir district, Odisha, India'.

Soumyadeep Chowdhury

Soumyadeep Chowdhury is an Assistant Professor in Political Science at Adamas University, Kolkata and the Vice President & Head of Academics at the International Association for Political Science Students (IAPSS). An Accelerating India Fellow with PPGF, he is also a researcher with UPIASI & Yale's Global Justice Program serving as a mentor for the ASAP fellows. Specialising in Indian democracy and politics, Soumyadeep has several top journal publications and an upcoming monograph to his credit.

Thursday and Sunday Speakers (in alphabetical order) (T)

Tobias Orthen

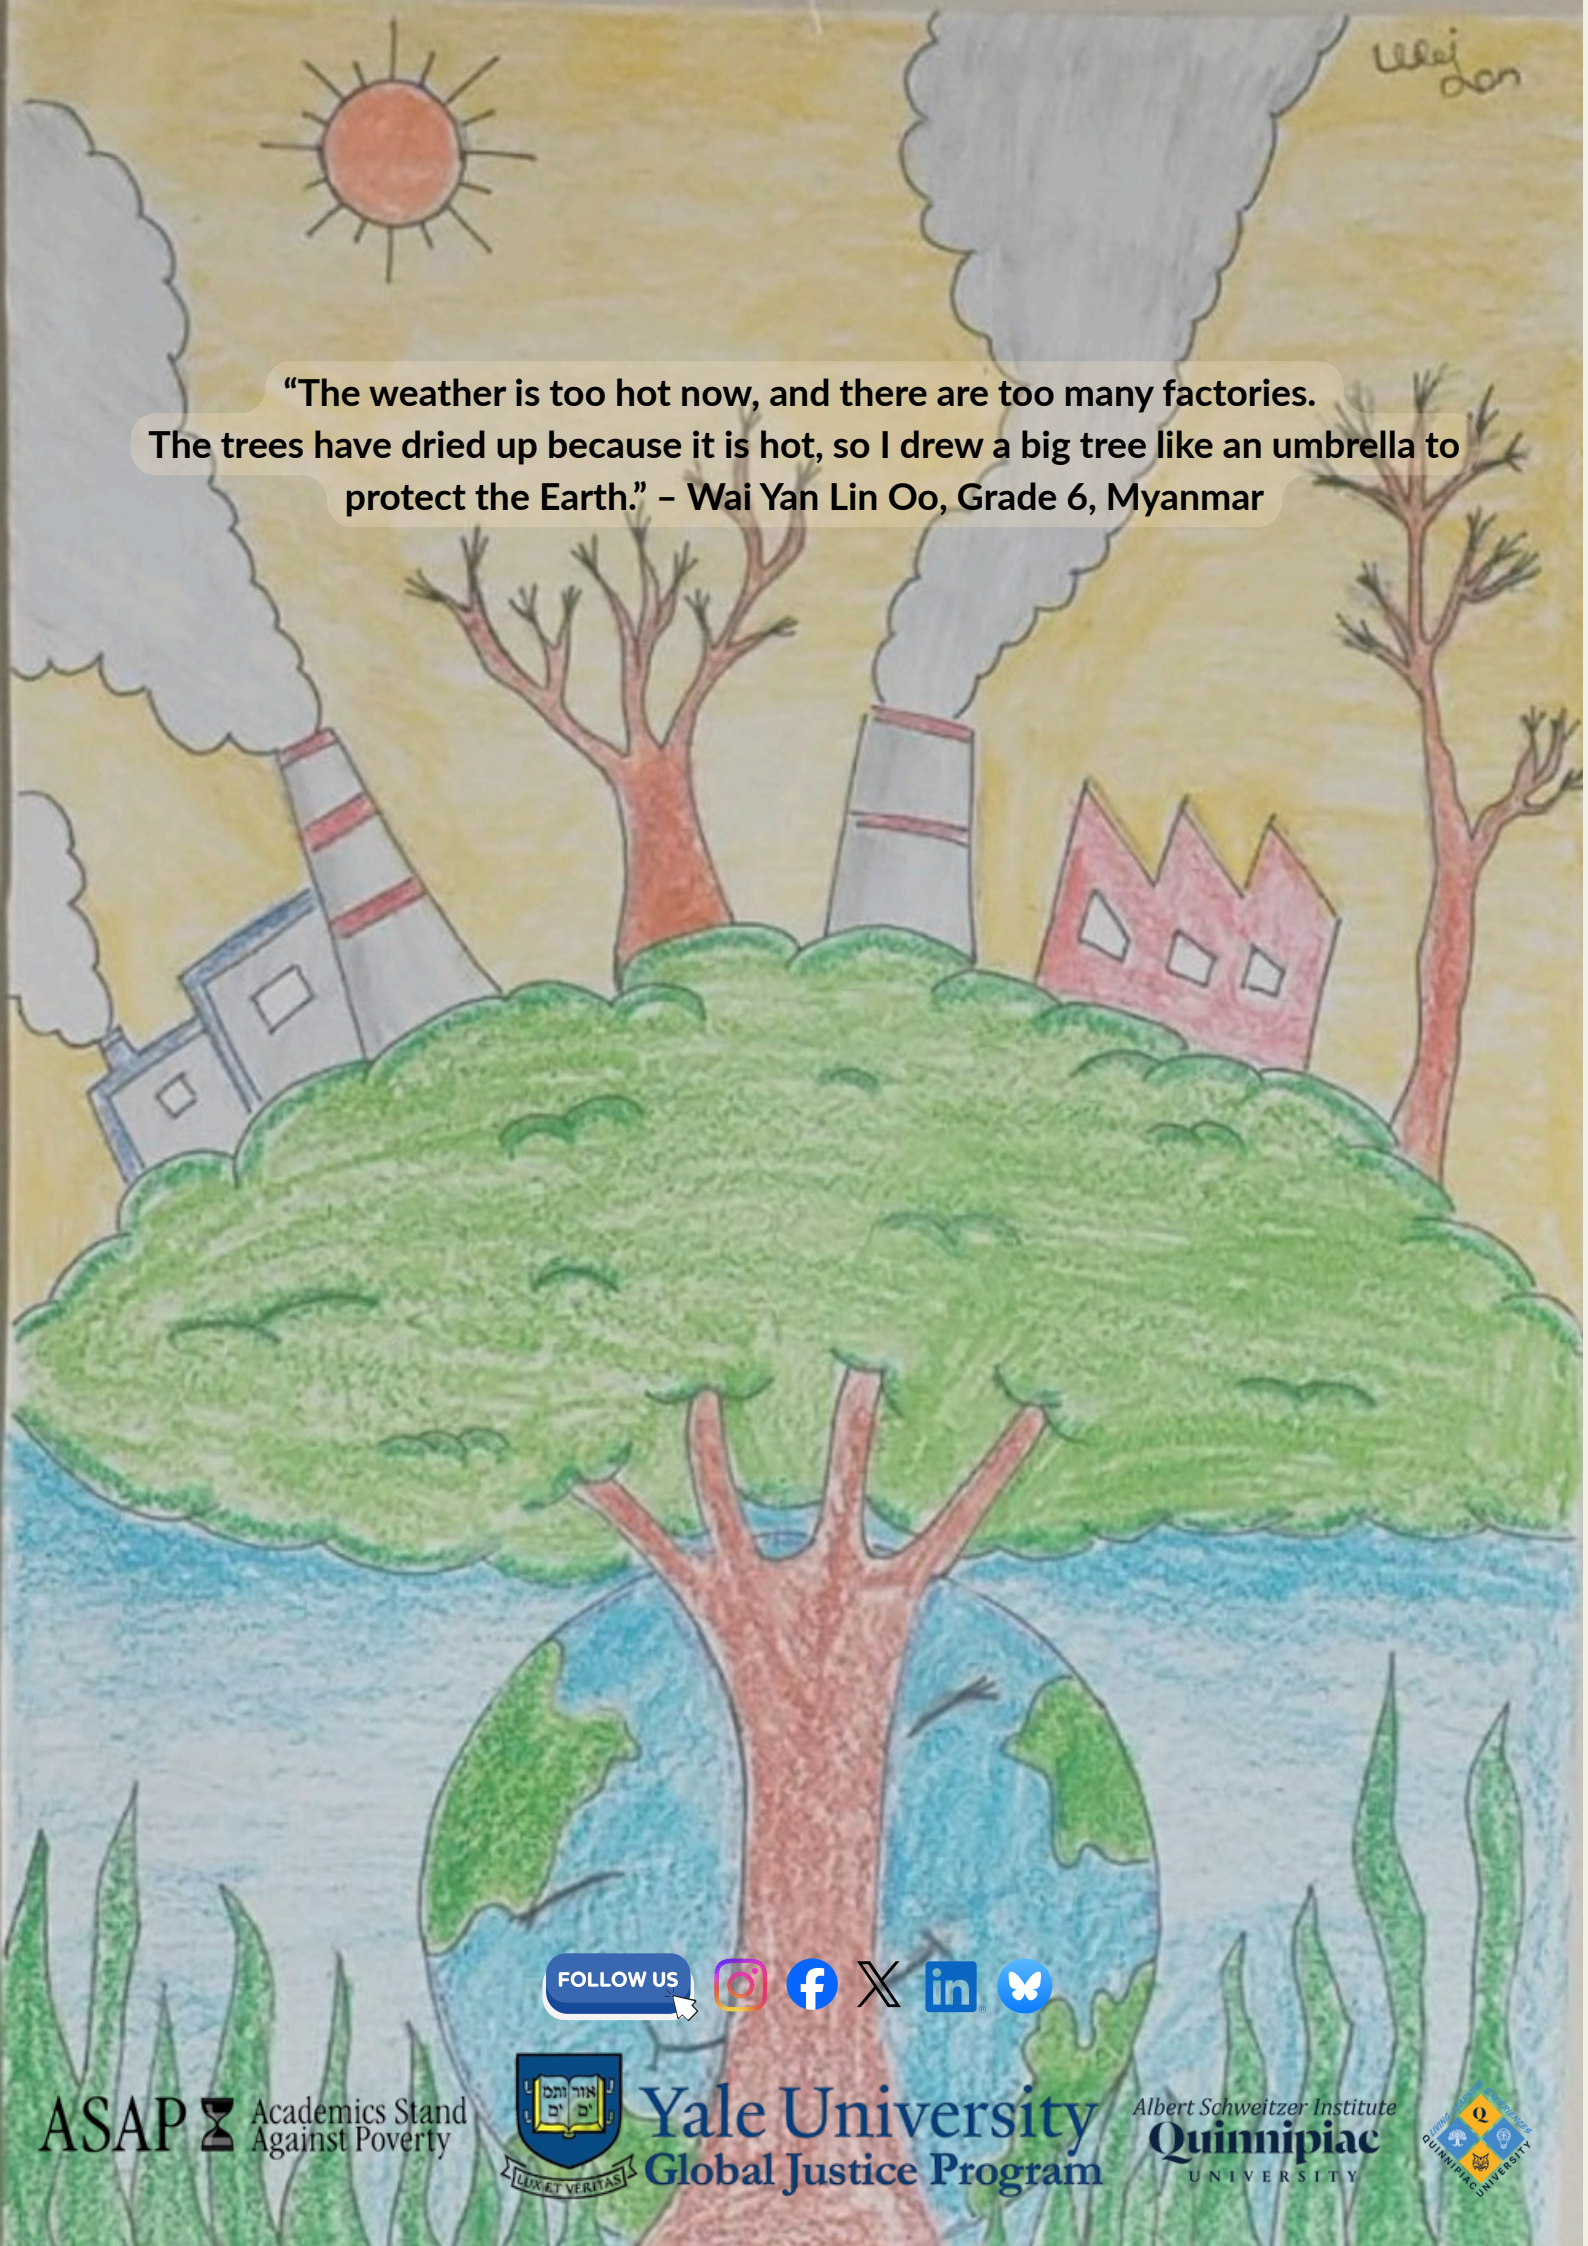

Dr Tobias Orthen is a physicist, economist, scientist and entrepreneur. He currently works as a research assistant at FAW/n in Ulm and collaborates with Global Energy Solutions e. V. on issues relating to the global energy transition. He is co-founder and CFO of betterSoil, a start-up that uses satellite data and agricultural science to develop recommendations for the management of agricultural land. Since 2022 he is working with the Council of Engineers for the Energy Transition (CEET) supporting the office of the UN Secretary General w.r.t. the global energy transition.

Sustaining Justice:
Food, Environment
and
New Technologies

Uleijon

"The weather is too hot now, and there are too many factories. The trees have dried up because it is hot, so I drew a big tree like an umbrella to protect the Earth." – Wai Yan Lin Oo, Grade 6, Myanmar

FOLLOW US

ASAP  Academics Stand Against Poverty

Yale University
Global Justice Program

Albert Schweitzer Institute
Quinnipiac
UNIVERSITY

