The leadership of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences and School of Engineering & Applied Science request that readers of student course evaluations from Fall 2023 keep in mind that the mechanism that prevents students from viewing grades prior to submitting a course evaluation was out of operation for several weeks. If students visited Yale Hub during the affected timeframe, they could have viewed their Fall 2023 course grade before submitting an evaluation.

- 1713801 Strengths: Lea is AWESOME! Lea provided very thoughtful feedback on assignments and always made herself available to work with students. She was also very knowledgeable about her fields, and she did a great job presenting information in class on the digressions in the novel (especially slang!). I also enjoyed the way she built up discussions by providing key context first and then gauging students' opinions on the effect of the content. Weaknesses: N/A
