

Developing an Innovative Hybrid Curriculum for Professional Development and Leadership

Fall 2017

New MS degree requirement
 ENGI E4000 Professional Development and Leadership (PDL) was introduced.

Fall 2017 - Fall 2019

PDL Requirements Refined
 Resume
 LinkedIn & Job Search
 Business Writing
 Communication
 Ethics & Integrity
 Interviewing Elective
 Life Management Elective
 Additional Electives (3)

PDL Elective Highlights

- Financial Wellness
- Leadership in Crisis
- Public Speaking
- Cryptography
- Python
- Job Search Techniques
- Life After F11: H1B Visa
- Engineer Your Happiness
- Stress Management and Reduction
- Multicultural Competence
- U.S. Legal System & Employment
- Communicate with Impact
- Amazon Web Services
- Creating Authentic Connections
- Data Visualizations
- Interview Skills
- Managing Anxiety
- CloudProc

Spring 2020

PDL Readjusted for COVID-19
 The shift to teaching via Zoom has allowed for more flexibility in the delivery of PDL.

Fall 2022 and Beyond

Furthering the Work
 Implementation of hybrid PDL model, including best practices from both in-person and online teaching
 Further partnership (industry and academic) to support professional development for diverse audiences
 Ongoing pedagogical training for PDL faculty and staff

Fall 2021 - Spring 2022

Large Scale Teaching and Learning Grant
 Set Up New Assessment Methods
 Launching Hybrid Instruction
 Augment DEI Workshops for students
 Training opportunities for faculty and staff (eg Navigating HOT Moments: Before, During, & After Class)
 Implement and iterate grading tools, including introduction of expanded Speedgrader functionality

This project was funded by a Large Scale Teaching and Learning Grant from the Office of the Vice Provost for Teaching, Learning, and Innovation and undertaken with the support of the Center for Teaching and Learning.

Special thanks to Soulaymane Kachani, John Foo, Sam Sadeh, and the CTL team, Sandesh Tuladhar, Merrell Norden, and the VPTLI team, the Digitally Enhanced Class project, Ryan Day, Austin Cartagena, and the GCP team.