An evening of listening and sharing in response to disturbing symbols found on campus.

As a collaborative strategy to move toward a culture of care, we will engage in a creative circle practice format to become more actively aware of the emotional resonance that visual and physical signs can carry.

Food will be served.
Bring your own drink.
Bring a mat or blanket to sit on.

CIRCLE PRACTICE RULES of ENGAGEMENT
- Mic goes around in our center circle.
- Step up behind someone who already spoke to take their seat and speak when it is your turn in the circle
- Speak until done, nobody interrupts you
- What is said here stays here, what is learned here leaves here (confidentiality)
- Listen actively and with respect
