

20 Best AI Assistants for 2025

Jennifer Wales Sep 30, 2024

Simplify your work with AI assistants and enhance productivity. Discover their benefits and the best AI certification programs to boost your AI knowledge.

Considering the worldwide AI scenario, an AI assistant can be your new smart digital companion accessible anywhere, anytime. With just a tap or words, it can help you easily manage your nuisance tasks or find effective solutions. According to a survey by McKinsey, 50% of companies in 2024 have reported using AI in at least one business function, a significant rise from 20% in 2017. This report highlights the rapidly increasing role of AI in driving business transformation and economic growth. The main task of an AI Assistant is to provide accurate information and complete the designated tasks. AI Assistants mainly depend on natural language processing and large language models to translate speech or text inputs in an interactive format.

Most Popular AI Assistants

These AI Assistants are immensely popular given they can complete tasks within a short period with minimal errors. The below-mentioned AI tools are used for various purposes starting from managing meetings to personal finances. Let us see the details:

1. Google Assistants

Brief: As you can guess from the name, this AI tool was developed by Google. Google Assistant is designed to perform a broad range of tasks such as scheduling meetings, alarms, controlling smart devices, and replying to the prompt.

Key Characteristics:

● Understanding complex prompts- It understands the most complex queries and offers simplified and explanatory answers.

● Compatibility with smart home- It controls smart home devices perfectly.

2. Alexa

Brief: One of the popular AI chatbots, Alexa was launched in 2014 by Amazon. Soon after its release it was hit among youngsters due to its unique key features and easy interfaces.

Key Characteristics:

● Music and audio- Alexa offers the facility to play music and video as requested.

● Skills- It can answer your questions, and give accurate weather updates, and recent news headlines.

3. Siri

Brief: This is one of the oldest and most widely used AI chatbots launched by Apple to assist people smartly. Soon after launching Siri, Apple equipped it with iPhones, MacBooks, iPads, AirPods, and its other products.

Key Characteristics:

● Hands-Free Control: It can be used to control your iPhone, iPad, and Mac with your voice.

● Messaging and Calls: It can be used to send messages and make calls hands-free.

● Personal Assistant: It can be used to set reminders, alarms, and timers.

4. Bixby

Brief: Another global tech giant, Samsung launched this AI tool that is supported in all its smartphones, and other devices.

Key Characteristics:

● Contextual Awareness: It understands your context and provides relevant information.

● Bixby Routines: It creates custom routines to automate tasks.

● Bixby Vision: It uses the camera to identify objects and provide information.

If you are looking for AI assistants for your specific needs, then here are some suggestions:

Your Go-To: Writing Assistants

AI writing assistants simplify the writing process by quickly generating content and enhancing grammar and style. Therefore, it is mostly used to save time; and ensure consistency. Here are some go-to writing assistants for your reference:

1. Jasper

It offers a wide range of writing templates to fit any writing requirement of yours be it work, studies, or anything. The premium starts only at $39 a month but they have many free features.

2. Grammarly

It is an AI-based writing service that offers services for social media, messaging applications, mail, and many more. It is free and can be added as an extension in your browser.

3. Rytr:

It offers standard grammar-checking except generate content. Here you have the scope to write different tones in content as you wish. Generally, it has free products but there is an upgrade option to get better service.

4. WriteSonic:

It is an SEO-friendly tool that helps to complete articles plagiarism-free in the form of both short as well as long content. Their AI chatbot is powered by GPT-4 but it has a free plan unless you choose to upgrade.

Your Go-To: Work Assistants

AI jobs are very trending be it in finance or in education or any other sector. Having skills with Gen AI tools will not only provide better career opportunities but a better future! If you are new to this, then pursuing AI certifications is the easiest way you can learn. Here are some Gen AI tools for doing your work better:

1. Pluralsight:

This tool is popular for creating a wide range of training videos, especially for professionals working in the field of IT, software development, or any creatives. Pluralsight can be used by beginners also because it has a basic interface but offers personalized solutions.

2. Fireflies:

Fireflies is another important AI-based working assistant that allows its users to record, search, and register real-time notes from meetings, audio, or video. Not only just registering, it is also responsible for summarizing accurate information from the meeting.

3. Clara:

This performs like a human assistant who manages all your scheduling needs. You just must add Clara in CC on an email, it will take care of the rest starting from sending follow-up emails to organizing your calendar.

4. Dropbox:

This is the most popular AI working assistant that offers a feature named Dropbox Dash which is widely used to share and sort files present within Dropbox. This assistant can be connected to any device, but their plan starts from just $10 a month.

Your Go-To: Travel Assistants

Travelling is made easy with these AI assistants where you can give all essential tasks of traveling to these AI assistants. These AI tools will do travel planning, find the best offers, suggest customized itineraries, or even give real-time updates on your train or plane. If you are interested in implementing these tools or working with these tools, then exploring the best AI certification programs will be ideal to dive deep without many hassles.

1. Abhi:

Designed by Mondee (a travel company), this technology integrates AI, and deep learning, along with a recommendation engine to offer customized travel itineraries. The best part of this tool is that it is based on IBM's Watson, OpenAI's ChatGPT, and Google's Bard.

2. Ava:

Designed by Navan (a tech platform), that addresses any issues with bookings. Ava integrates directly into web applications to reduce time and effort by learning your travel patterns & preferences.

3. Eddy Travels:

Designed by Eddy Travels (a Travel firm) to assist people find the best options in terms of flights and hotels depending on schedule, budget, and destination. The best part of this tool is that it can be used just by text or a voice message.

4. Maya:

Designed by Live the World (a trip planning company) that analyzes your whole trip to draft a high-level plan in a few minutes to help users. This tool can be used for free on their official website (that is Live the World).

Conclusion

These AI tools are designed by start-ups and big companies to advance our work out of which many tools are free, or they charge minimum for services. If you are interested in developing any such tool, then it is the right time as the market is booming. However, if you do not have the necessary skills, learn from the best AI certification programs available online and grab the opportunity now.