

Georgia Tech College of Engineering

George W. Woodruff School of Mechanical Engineering

Woodruff School Young Alumni Speaker Series

Featuring Robert "Bobby" Henebry

Date: Nov. 16, 2021, 11:00am to 12:00pm

Location: MRDC 4211

Title: "Reinventing Yourself in the Digital Age"

Join us on Tuesday, November 16, 2021, to hear investor, entrepreneur, and Woodruff School graduate Bobby Henebry (BS ME '03) deliver a talk titled "Reinventing Yourself in the Digital Age." Henebry is a Georgia Tech Alumni Association 40 Under 40 honoree from 2020 and is the founder of Henebry Blockchain & Cryptocurrency Consulting, LLC. The Young Alumni Speaker Series is part of the Woodruff School Connections program.

Please RSVP if you plan to attend.

Event Info

Title: "Reinventing Yourself in the Digital Age"

Speaker: Robert "Bobby" Henebry, entrepreneur and investor

Location: MRDC 4211

Date: Tuesday, November 16, 11:00 am- 12:00 pm

Bio

Bobby Henebry, CFA, is Chief Investment Officer at Elway Capital, LLC, an investment firm based in Denver, CO. Previously, he was a partner at DM Capital, an investment fund with a concentrated portfolio of listed equities. Bobby was also an early adopter of cryptocurrencies in 2016, having started an Ethereum mining operation before traveling the world and speaking globally on blockchain and digital assets. Previously from 2006 to 2011, Bobby was a partner at SeaBridge Investment Advisors, advising wealthy individuals and family offices on global allocations across asset classes. Bobby earned a BSME ('03) and MBA ('06), both from Georgia Tech. He is a member of the Society of International Business Fellows (SIBF), and is very active in the Middle East Leadership Academy (MELA) and Central Eurasian Leadership Alliance (CELA), as well as mentoring in the Global Good Fund (GGF). Bobby has traveled to 55 countries. He also loves music, and in 2017 founded the YouTube channel Chord Savvy, a music education platform.

For questions, contact Courtney Sykes at courtney.sykes@me.gatech.edu.