CANCELLATIONS, NO SHOWS & POSTPONING EVENTS:

To cancel a reservation for this major event venue, a group must email cscreservations@neu.edu. Please provide at least two weeks' notice for such cancellations. If an event is cancelled within two weeks of its event date, the group will be charged staffing fees. All cancellations must be in writing and submitted before 2 weeks from the event to not incur charges. For weekend events, cancellations must be made by 4pm on the Friday two weeks before the event to avoid charges. If a group needs to postpone an event and it is within 2 weeks of your event, you will still be charged staffing fees. Any events where a group does not show up and there is no prior notification, the group will be charged for staffing and may not be able to book future reservations in Event Management venues. If the group is more than fifteen minutes late from the scheduled start time, the building will close and it will be regarded as a "NO SHOW". For each no-show, we will send the group an official warning letter. The 3rd "No Show" or late cancellation in an academic year will result in the withdrawal of reservation privileges. "No shows" for a space that involves a custom set up/staffing may result in a charge for the cost of the set up.

FRONT OF THE HOUSE EVENT COORDINATION

- All Front of House requirements (i.e. House Managers, Event Assistants, public safety concerns, receptions, etc.) are to be included in the Event Management Form (<https://tinyurl.com/nuemform>).
- In the case that the Director of Operations/Activities in conjunction with the Public Safety Division of Northeastern University decides that NUPD will be needed for the event, these costs will be charged directly to the group by NUPD unless the event is funded by the SGA Finance Board. If the event is funded by the SGA Finance Board, the cost is absorbed by the SGA Finance Board. Certain events may require more detail officers than others. This will be determined by the NUPD. Tickets for certain events will be limited to those with NU IDs. Staff reserves the right to use wristbands, or any other means determined to ensure proper crowd control.
- The use of the Fenway Center for book signings, meet and greets, or merchandise sales must be approved (and reserved) through CSI scheduling desk and approved by the Director of Operations. These additional areas are to be included in the crowd control decisions made by NUPD.
- If the performer wishes to sign autographs, the group hosting the event MUST include this information on the Event Management Form so that special arrangements can be made by the Event Management staff to accommodate the request prior to the date of the show. NUPD and Event Management staff reserve the right to not allow a meet and greet if they feel that this type of activity causes a flood of patrons to the stage and it does not meet Public Safety/Fire Safety standards for crowd control.
- Volunteer/student group Event Assistants must be approved by the Event Management staff and are only allowed as a supplement to the paid Event Assistants provided by the Fenway Center.
- City ordinance requires that all shows must end by 10:00pm and the Fenway Center must be completely vacated by 11:00pm.

STAFF ASSOCIATED WITH EVENTS AT FENWAY CENTER

Venue/Event Manager (for large-scale and VIP events)

The Event Manager oversees the entire event. They serve as the point-person for any issues, and the intermediary between client, performers, house staff, tech staff, and security. Since we have the majority of large events on weekends, some large events will require a dedicated event manager to see that all aspects of the event run smoothly. This is typically either the Associate Director or the Technical Operations & Events Manager.

House Manager

This person is the primary contact for all aspects of the Front of the House, including training and supervising Event Assistants, and coordinating with the Media Services Technician and Event Manager to decide when the performance will begin. They will be available to move throughout the room and solve any problems that might arise, and supervise any and all performers, as well as Event Management staff. Additionally, they are responsible for enforcing all fire safety rules and regulations as well as working with detail officers to ensure the general safety of all patrons. If the House Manager feels that safety precautions are not being met or that the performers and/or hosting organization are not following instructions, they have the authority to shut down the event (in conjunction with the Event Manager and Security).

Event Assistant

Under the guidance of the House Manager, the Event Assistants are responsible for executing front of house tasks like checking tickets, handing out programs, and answering patrons' questions. Event Assistants are also responsible for varied tasks involved in keeping patrons safe and meeting the requirements set by the Fire Marshal as well as the NU Division of Public Safety. This includes keeping order at the entrances as well as inside the entire venue before, during, and after the show.

Media Services Technician

Media Services Technicians execute the technical/backstage elements of the production to ensure the program runs as smoothly as possible. MSTs work with the House Manager to get the event started, keep the show running on time and keep watch for safety violations. They must be available to move throughout the venue to solve any problems that might arise. Their roles may be divided as the following:

- Light Board Operator: While the Lighting Board Operator is not considered a lighting designer, they can advise groups on best looks and practices while operating the lighting console. This person will be at the tech booth for the entire event.
- Audio Engineer: An Audio Engineer will set up microphones and run the sound board, as well as run playback for music. This person will be at the tech booth for the entire event.
- Video Engineer: The video engineer will assist with projection, streaming, recording and video elements of the event. They are typically backstage throughout the event.
- Stagehand: A stagehand will assist the other technicians with various tasks such as moving microphones, tables or any other set pieces etc. during a performance or operating in their absence.

Fenway Center Event Costs for 2023-2024

To be consistent going forward, Event Management will be charging a standard flat rate to cover staffing costs for events in Blackman Auditorium & Fenway Center. These costs are associated to running a typical 4 hour event (including setup and breakdown), and for longer events or rehearsals please note the additional charges. In all of our venues, our staff will arrive 30 minutes before the client is scheduled to arrive, but that could increase depending on the complexity of the event. The Event Management staff reserves the right to require extra staffing per their analysis of the event as necessary, and additional charges could incur. If you have any other questions or need a quote, please contact Marie Siopy at m.siopy@northeastern.edu.

Fenway Center Event Staffing Charges

The flat rate for the first four billable hours in Fenway Center is $1100. Each additional hour will cost $260. Event Management only bills for staffing, so billable hours begin when the Event Management staff arrives and ends when Event Management staff leaves. Our standard practice is for our staff to arrive 1 hour before the client for setup and leaves 1 hour after for clean up/breakdown. Note: these times may be extended for more complex events at the discretion of the Event Management staff.

The charges include:

- House staff (House Managers, Event Assistants)
- Technical staff
- Stage staff
- Event Managers

The charges do not include:

- Ticket Center staff costs
- Rent (for external organizations)
- Outside security company fees for bag checking (RSIG)
- NU Police detail fees
- Costs for security barricades or magnetometers

Staffing may vary at each individual event

Rehearsal Charges

If your event requires rehearsals with our technical staff only, the cost is $120/hour

All events in Fenway are administered by Event Management, who will provide and determine appropriate staffing. If a group wishes to provide their own Event Assistants/technical support, they must be approved by Event Management two weeks in advance and are only allowed as a supplement to the paid staff provided by Fenway Center

OTHER POTENTIAL CHARGES

- These charges do not include rent (for external organizations), outside security company fees for bag checking, or NU Police detail fees.
- Some events (like concerts) may require extra funds for security barricades, magnetometers, and outside security personnel. These costs are not included as well.
- Please consult your Event Management contact before your event if you have any concerns regarding charges.
- If changes are made to your event times within 2 weeks of your event, you will still be charged for the staffing of your original reservation times. Please check your reservations before this 2 week window and make sure they are correct.
- If your event has 3 or more media presentations (ppt, video, etc.) or requires live video streaming / recording it will require an extra staff member at $40 an hour (4 hour minimum).

2 Week Window for Event Time Changes

Changes to event times can be made up to 2 weeks of your event with no change to the fee. If time changes are made within 2 weeks of the event, then you will still be charged for the staffing of your original reservation times. Please check your reservations before this 2 week window and make sure they are correct. Example: If your event is on a Wednesday, we will need to know any changes by noon two Wednesdays prior to your event. If your event happens on a weekend, please make sure all changes have been submitted by noon on the Friday before the weekend.

CANCELLATIONS

To cancel a reservation for this major event venue, a group must email cscreservations@neu.edu. Please provide at least two weeks' notice for such cancellations. If an event is cancelled within two weeks of its event date, the group will be charged full staffing charges. All cancellations must be in writing and submitted before 2 weeks from the event to not incur charges. If your event is on a Wednesday, we will need to know any changes by noon two Wednesdays prior to your event. If your event happens on a weekend, please make sure all changes have been submitted by noon on the Friday before the weekend to avoid charges.

This estimate is based on basic event setups and is subject to change. The Event Management staff reserves the right to require extra staffing per their analysis of the event as necessary, and additional charges could incur. If you have questions or need a more detailed quote, please contact Marie Siopy at m.siopy@northeastern.edu or the Director of Operations, Jeremy Reger at j.reger@northeastern.edu . Thank you.

INVOICES & FISCAL RECONCILIATION

Event Management automatically bills the client at the end of every month. The process works like this:

- Around the 15th of each month, Event Management produces an invoice containing the front of house and technical staffing costs for the event and e-mails it to the person who made the reservation as well as their budget administrator (if we have their contact).
- If the client notices any errors with the bill, disagrees with any charges or wants to change a budget number, they must notify email Event Management at eventmanagementbilling@neu.edu within 10 days (by the 25th). If there are no issues with the invoice, you do not have to take any more actions.
- At the end of the month, the charges are sent for automatic processing to the Accounting Department. After charges have been processed, you will have 90 days to dispute any errors.
- The NU Ticket Center provides all ticketing financial reports separately, if applicable.
