

Extended-Use License: Free

Freely granted to the University by the course creator

Creating Instructor to University:

To support the development of new, high-quality online courses in a timely manner, instructors may freely grant to the University an extended-use license to grant other instructors the use of designated parts of personally-created digital materials for online courses. The creator retains ownership of the copyrighted material. Hence an extension of access to the materials outside of the class setting, by an instructor or student, in any medium, requires permission of the copyright holder.

Ordinarily, a course creator will fill out this form and email it to the dean. The dean will indicate acceptance by entering his/her name below. The dean then emails the completed form to the Office of the Academic and Technical Coordinator of Distance Learning for archiving.

Course Creator: Click here to enter text.

Course Number & Name: Click here to enter text.

Restrictions:

Allowable Terms of Source Material: (e.g., "Fall 2015 only" or "All" or "All after Summer 2, 2015")

Click here to enter text.

Term of License: (e.g., "Until I revoke it" or "Academic years 2015-16 through 2017-18")

Click here to enter text.

Materials excluded: (e.g., "Tests, study guides" or "Graphics" or "PowerPoints")

Click here to enter text.

Appearance: (e.g., "Unmodified source files" or "Graphics included with all text" or "No restrictions")

Click here to enter text.

Further Distribution: (e.g., "None outside of class setting" or "No restrictions")

Click here to enter text.

Other: Click here to enter text.

I agree to the terms of this extended use license set forth above.

Creator: Click here to enter name.

Date: Click here to enter date.

Dean: Entering your name below signifies acceptance of this offer.

Click here to enter name.

Date: Click here to enter date.

Details on this license may be found in "Copyright Guidelines" at MySiena, under QuickLinks.