

A Workshop for Women Faculty: BUILDING ACADEMIC LEADERSHIP STRENGTHS

The goal of this workshop is to increase the capabilities of powerful women to effect change within an organization

September 9, 2016

9 – 12 noon

Trabant Rm 209/211

Light lunch to follow

To reserve your spot: UD-ADVANCE@udel.edu

The Workshop Includes:

- * Exploration of leadership roles at universities and colleges
- * Communication techniques for clarity and impact
- * Differentiating types of challenges in leading change, understanding how roles determine strategies and identifying the pressures behind the resistance to change
- * Learning how to make effective interventions
- * Self-assessment of personal leadership strengths and development areas
- * A proven technique for giving feedback – both positive and developmental
- * Case study practice of leadership skills

WORKSHOP PRESENTERS

Nancy Houfek when at Harvard was Head of Voice & Speech for the Tony Award winning American Repertory Theater. She has worked with performers and public speakers. She presents workshops combining theater, negotiation, and leadership techniques.

Jane Tucker received her PhD in Organizational Development from UNC. After many years in higher education teaching and administration, she has developed her own consulting firm specializing in negotiation, leadership skills, and executive coaching.

The Workshop Presenters are consultant educators with COACH (coach.uoregon.edu) through support from the National Science Foundation and the Department of Energy.

*Workshop is free but attendance is limited.
Email ud-advance@udel.edu to reserve a seat*

QUESTIONS? Please contact:

Pam Cook cook@udel.edu

Rachel Davidson rdavidso@udel.edu

Sponsored by:

NSF Grant No. HRD-1409472