

40 years ago, 3% of UD full professors were women.
Today, 24% of UD full professors are women.

The Women's Caucus at the University of Delaware announces its 2013 Annual Report

Find out how women are faring at UD today and how their status has changed since the Commission on the Status of Women began its advocacy 40 years ago.

20 years ago, 59% of UD's female employees held non-exempt/hourly positions.
Today, 65% of UD's female employees hold professional staff or faculty positions.

Find the report online at <http://sites.udel.edu/women/>

Dear University Community:

We are pleased to bring you the 2013 Annual Report of the Women's Caucus. A project of our Board of Directors and dedicated volunteers, the Annual Report assesses the status of women employees at UD and makes recommendations for achieving fairness and gender equity.

In partnership with individuals throughout the University, the Women's Caucus brings attention to gender inequities when they arise, provides evidence-based recommendations for addressing inequities and improving work conditions, and advocates for change on issues of concern to our membership.

To learn more about the Women's Caucus or join our list serve, please email womenscaucus@udel.edu or visit our website: <http://sites.udel.edu/women/>.

Sincerely,
Rebecca L. Davis & Christine Scheirer, Co-Chairs

Mark your calendar for the Women's Caucus spring events.

Spring General Meeting & Elections

Thursday, April 24, 12:00 - 1:00 p.m.

83 E. Main Street (UD Bookstore, third floor)

(Open to all UD employees who identify as women)

Spring Social Event

Thursday, May 1, 4:00 - 6:00 p.m.

Location TBA

(Open to all UD employees and the UD community)