Date of the most recent decennial evaluation team's visit:
April 3 – 6, 2011

Verification of Compliance with Accreditation-Relevant Federal Regulations

Implementation for 2016

The following report provides a review of institutional materials submitted by the UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE (UD) to document compliance with accreditation-relevant federal regulations. This report provides verification to the Commission of institutional compliance in the following areas:

1. Student identity verification in distance and correspondence education
2. Transfer of credit policies and articulation agreements
3. Title IV program responsibilities
4. Institutional records of student complaints
5. Required information for students and the public
6. Standing with state and other accrediting agencies
7. Contractual relationships
8. Assignment of credit hours

Student Identity Verification in Distance and Correspondence Education

In accordance with 34 CFR 602.17(g), the Commission must verify that institutions have effective procedures in place to ensure that the students who register in a distance or correspondence education course are the same students who participate in and complete the course, and receive the academic credit.

Institutions must provide the following documentation:

1. Written description of the method(s) used to ensure student identity verification in distance or correspondence education courses. Include information related to the Learning Management System (LMS) and integration with college-wide systems.

To ensure that the same students who registered for the courses are taking the exams, student identity verification in UD's distance education courses occurs via proctored examinations at an Online Proctoring Center administered by UD Professional and Continuing Studies. All students' identities are confirmed by photo ID prior to sitting for each proctored exam. Students who do not bring a photo ID are not permitted to take their exam. Student privacy during a proctored exam at a distance is maintained through direct communication and the use of a secure testing service, ProctorU. This is done via a webcam, microphone, and a secure, high-speed internet connection. An Online Proctoring Center has been established to assist students in taking exams online (see Appendix 1).

2. Written procedure(s) regarding the protection of student privacy in the implementation of such methods. Include information related to the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), student record access, and process for resetting student passwords.

The Office of the University Registrar maintains written procedures regarding the protection of student privacy via detailing Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) responsibilities for UD faculty and staff. All UD faculty and staff members are considered university officials under FERPA when they perform specific functions of their position related to the student educational experience. Faculty and staff members routinely handle education records [student records] as part of their responsibilities. They are expected to understand their legal obligations under FERPA and to ensure that education records are not used for inappropriate purposes or disclosed in an unauthorized manner. The legal obligations of UD faculty and staff members are set forth in implementing regulations promulgated by the United States Department of Education and available on the Department's website. The online written procedures provide information so UD faculty and staff can better understand FERPA and access to student records (see Appendix 2). Topics covered on the website include: (1) what is FERPA and who does it protect?; (2) how FERPA impacts UD faculty/staff; (3) what is an "educational record"?; (4) what rights do students have under FERPA to inspect and correct educational records; (5) procedures regarding the disclosure of education records to third parties; (6) FERPA and parents; (7) some general rules; (8) actions allowed under FERPA; and (9) actions not allowed under FERPA. UD Faculty/Staff who work with student records are prompted to acknowledge their annual review and understanding of the University's FERPA policies and their intention to act in compliance with them (see Appendix 3).

As of April 2016, UD is retiring the use of PINs to enhance security and make it easier to reset UDeNet passwords. The PINs are being replaced with longer passwords and security questions. UD is also now using two-factor authentication (2FA) to protect UDeNet accounts. 2FA requires that you use your UDeNet ID, your password, and a unique, temporary security code to access confidential information. This temporary code is sent to a phone by voice or text, emailed, or generated by a smartphone app. Written procedures on how the UD community accesses accounts and UD apps are available online (see Appendix 4).

3. Written procedure(s) for notifying students about any projected additional charges associated with student identity verification, such as proctoring fees.

A per-exam fee applies to distance learning students who do not take their UD Online exams at a UD testing location. Students are also responsible to obtain any equipment or software necessitated by the online exam process. Students testing at a distance are informed through our website (see Appendix 5) and through email that there are additional costs associated with taking a proctored exam through ProctorU. This is also detailed on the Exam Information website (see Appendix 6).

4. Written procedure(s) indicating the office(s) responsible for the consistent application of student identity verification procedures.

UD Online staff, distance testing proctors and UD's Academic Technology Services via the Central Authentication System (CAS) ensure the consistent application of the above student verification procedures. A statement regarding the student identity verification procedures can be found online (see Appendix 7).

Transfer of Credit Policies and Articulation Agreements

In accordance with 34 CFR 602.24(e), the Commission must confirm that an "institution has transfer of credit policies that: (1) are publicly disclosed in accordance with section 668.43(a)(11); and (2) include a statement of criteria established by the institution regarding the transfer of credit earned at another institution of higher education."

Section 668.43(a)(11) states:

- (a) Institutional information that the institution must make readily available to enrolled and prospective students under this subpart includes, but is not limited to-
 - (11) A description of the transfer of credit policies established by the institution which must include a statement of the institution's current transfer of credit policies that includes, at a minimum—
 - (i) Any established criteria the institution uses regarding the transfer of credit earned at another institution; and
 - (ii) A list of institutions with which the institution has established an articulation agreement.

In addition, the Commission must confirm that any articulation agreements with other educational institutions are readily available to current and prospective students.

Institutions must provide the following documentation:

1. Written policies and procedures for making decisions about the transfer of credits earned at other institutions, including all modes of delivery.

Written policies and procedures for making decisions about the transfer of credits earned at other institutions are stated in the online Undergraduate Catalog [2015-2016 UD catalog → 2015-16 Undergraduate Programs → Academic Regulations for Undergraduates → EARNING ENOUGH CREDITS TO GRADUATE → Transfer Course Work From Other Institutions (see Appendix 8).

To transfer credits from approved institutions, students must submit official transcripts and official test scores from acceptable sources. Coursework will only transfer for grades of "C" or better in college-level courses. Remedial coursework, CLEP scores, Pass/Fail grades, life experiences and military courses are not accepted for transfer of credit. Course content not aligning with the university's curriculum may not transfer.

Additionally, academic departments may require students to repeat outdated courses and/or coursework completed more than seven calendar years earlier. Courses taken under a different credit system will be converted to UD semester hours, ex: quarter hours x 2/3 (or .67) = semester hours.

The Office of the University Registrar will complete a preliminary evaluation of transfer credit for students offered admission to the University of Delaware. At times, courses that received a preliminary evaluation of general elective credit may prove to be directly equivalent to a UD course, if re-evaluated by the appropriate academic department. Only admitted students that have earned and transferred credits to UD may pursue re-evaluation – third-parties, parents, etc. may not pursue re-evaluation of coursework. Students pursuing re-evaluation of departmental elective credits will need to provide course descriptions for faculty review. The final determination regarding equivalent coursework and the number of credit hours applicable to the program at the University of Delaware rests with the academic departments.

Students enrolled at the University of Delaware who wish to complete coursework for credit at another institution must complete a Transfer Credit Evaluation form and obtain their assistant dean's approval prior to enrolling in such courses in order to assure transferability of coursework. Credits and quality points for work completed elsewhere will not be included in the student's University of Delaware cumulative grade-point index. More detailed instructions regarding approval procedures are detailed on the Office of the University Registrar's transfer credit website (see Appendix 9).

Students who want to know whether the course(s) they are taking or plan to take will transfer to the University of Delaware may consult the Transfer Credit Matrix. The Transfer Credit Matrix is designed to be a resource to identify potential transfer credit and associated University of Delaware course equivalents from completed course work at other academic institutions (see Appendix 10).

2. Public disclosure of the policy for transfer of credit. Document the URL and the catalog location of this information; include other publications, if available.

The University of Delaware accepts credits from higher education, degree-granting institutions that are regionally-accredited by the appropriate body and at the appropriate higher educational level. Institutions outside the US must have comparable recognition by the national Ministry of Education of that country. College level coursework completed at degree-granting colleges/universities with other accreditations may be eligible for transfer credit.

Public disclosure of the policy for transfer of credit may be found online via the Undergraduate Catalog at the following URL
http://academiccatalog.udel.edu/Pub_ShowCatalogPage.aspx?CATKEY=KEY_509&AC_YEAR=2015-2016 (see Appendix 8) or via the Office of the University Registrar Undergraduate Transfer and Test Credit website at the following URL

<http://www.udel.edu/registrar/transfer/> (see Appendix 9).

3. Procedures that indicate the office(s) responsible for the final determination of the acceptance or denial of transfer credit.

The final determination regarding equivalent coursework and the number of credit hours applicable to the program at the University of Delaware rests with the academic departments. Departmental contacts for the evaluation of transfer credit can be found online (see Appendix 11).

4. A published and accessible list of institutions with which the institution has established an articulation agreement. Document the URL and publication location of this information.

The University of Delaware has established a number of articulation agreements with other institutions to facilitate the transition to a baccalaureate degree program. A variety of programs are with Cecil College, Delaware Technical and Community College (DTCC) and Richard Stockton College of New Jersey. These program-to-program articulation agreements enable admissible students to complete a bachelor's degree at the University of Delaware in the following areas: Accounting, Biological Sciences, Chemistry, Chemistry Education, Computer Science, Criminal Justice, Electrical Engineering, Finance, Health Behavior Science, Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional Management, Information Systems, Management, Marketing, Mathematical Sciences, Mathematics Education, Medical technology, Nursing (RN to BSN), Operations Management, Physics Education, Sport Management and many more. The list of institutions with which UD has established an articulation agreement may be found online at the following URL <http://www.udel.edu/registrar/transfer/articulation.html> (see Appendix 12). Approved articulation agreements detailing specific academic requirements are available in the Office of the Provost (see Appendix 13).

Title IV Program Responsibilities

In accordance with 34 CFR 602.16(a)(1)(x), the Commission must review the institution's record of compliance with its Title IV program responsibilities to determine if that record suggests the institution may not be in compliance with Commission standards and requirements. The Commission is particularly interested in reviewing significant deficiencies and material weaknesses that have been identified and any corrective action plans that have been developed to address those deficiencies and material weaknesses.

Institutions must provide the following documentation:

1. Formal documentation from the U.S. Department of Education regarding the institution's cohort default rate for the three most recent years. Provide the most recent three-year rates supplied by the U.S. Department of Education.

The most recent three-year cohort default rates supplied by the U.S. Department of Education for the University of Delaware are: FY2012 = 2.4%; FY2011 = 3.7% and FY2010 = 4.3%. These rates are documented on the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS) website (see Appendix 14). Appendices 15A, 15B, and 15C detail the 3-Year Official Cohort Default Rate Notification Letter received by our University President from the U.S. Department of Education. These letters confirm the three-year cohort default rates stated above for FY2012, FY2011, and FY 2010.

2. Reports on compliance from the U.S. Department of Education in regard to the cohort default rate.

UD has not received any reports on compliance from the U.S. Department of Education in regard to the cohort default rate.

3. External audits of federal programs (A-133) for the past three years, if applicable to the institution. Include the complete single audit report (A-133) for the most recent three years as an appendix, even if included in other documentation.

The External audits of federal programs (A-133) for the past three years, FY2015, FY2014, and FY2013 are detailed in Appendices 16A, 16B, and 16C, respectively.

4. Relevant correspondence from the U.S. Department of Education, such as program reviews and any actions to limit, suspend, or terminate the institution's eligibility to participate in Title IV. Include institutional responses, if applicable.

UD has not received any correspondence from the U.S. Department of Education, such as program reviews and any actions to limit, suspend, or terminate the institution's eligibility to participate in Title IV.

5. Financial Responsibility Requirements – documentation of the three most recent years of composite ratios used by the U.S. Department of Education.

The University of Delaware is a public institution and therefore does not calculate composite ratios. A Restatement of the Charter of the University of Delaware indicates the purpose of the University “...will contribute to the achievement of the objectives of a Land-Grant, State University” (Par. 5102. Purpose) (see Appendix 17).

Institutional Record of Student Complaints

In accordance with 34 CFR 602.16(a)(1)(ix), the Commission must confirm that institutions have effective policies and procedures for tracking and resolving student complaints.

Institutions must provide the following documentation:

1. Written description of the policy and methods used in handling student complaints.

The Student Guide to University Policies is online and available as a PDF (see Appendix 18). There is a section specific to Grievance Procedures and Special Problems (Section IV). This section describes the process by which students may bring certain grievances to the attention of the University (pages 77-84).

The University has a statement of policy related to non-discrimination (pages 77-78):

a. The University of Delaware does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, religion, age, veteran status, gender identity or expression, or sexual orientation in its programs and activities as required by Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and other applicable statutes and University policies. The following people have been designated to handle various inquiries:

i. For inquiries regarding the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Rehabilitation Act, and related statutes and regulations: Anne Jannarone, Director, Office of Disabilities Support Services, 119 Alison Hall, University of Delaware, Newark, DE 19716, 302-831-4643.

ii. For inquiries regarding the non-discrimination policies and to serve as the overall campus coordinator for purposes of Title IX compliance: Susan L. Groff, Director, Institutional Equity and Title IX Coordinator, 305 Hullihen Hall, Newark, DE 19716, 302-831-8065. The following individuals have been designated as deputy Title IX coordinators:

a) For undergraduate students: Adam Cantley, Associate Dean of Students, 101 Hullihen Hall, University of Delaware, Newark, DE 19716, 302-831-8939;

b) For graduate students: Mary Martin, Associate Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education, 234 Hullihen Hall, Newark, DE, 19716, 302-831-8916;

c) For Athletics: Richard Stumpf, Associate Director-Compliance, Intercollegiate Athletics, Bob Carpenter Center, University of Delaware, Newark, DE 19716, 302-831-0833; and

d) For faculty: Matthew Kinservik, Vice Provost for Faculty Affairs, Hullihen Hall, Newark, DE 19716, 302-831-2793.

iii. For Inquiries concerning Title VI and VII compliance: Tom LaPenta, Chief Human Resources Officer, 413 Academy St., Newark, DE 19716, 302-831-2769.

iv. For Inquiries concerning compliance with the Age Discrimination Act or Age Discrimination in Employment Act: Patricia Fogg, Director, Labor and Employee Relations, 413 Academy St., Newark, DE 19716, 302-831-1102.

Development of Grievances

The student grievance procedure was established during the 1976-77 academic year, in part as a response to guidelines established by the United States Department of Health, Education, and Welfare related to non-discrimination on the basis of sex (Title IX). University procedure states that "if a University of Delaware student alleges that he or she has been grieved because of perceived discrimination on the basis of race, sex, or handicap, or because a faculty member or University official failed to follow established procedure, the student may utilize the student grievance procedure." (page 78)

Student grievance complaints generally fall into four categories: American with Disabilities Act (ADA), Grade, Discrimination and Harassment, and Other. It should be noted that the grievance process does not replace the student conduct process.

Below are the specific procedures for handling inquiries related to the four grievance categories:

ADA Grievance Complaints (pages 79-80)

The ADA grievance procedure is as follows:

i. All ADA complaints shall be submitted to the University ADA Coordinator or, in the event that the complaint alleges a violation by the Director of Disability Services, to the Provost (or designee.) In that event, all references here to the ADA Coordinator shall mean the Provost or the Provost's designee.

ii. All complaints must be filed in writing, must contain the name and address of the complainant, and must describe the alleged violation.

iii. The complaint must be filed within 90 calendar days after the complainant becomes aware of the alleged violation.

iv. The University will conduct an informal investigation, affording all interested persons and their representatives with notice and an opportunity to be heard and to submit relevant information.

v. A written decision on the complaint and a description of the proposed resolution, if any, will be issued by the ADA Coordinator no later than 15 business days after the complaint's submission.

vi. The ADA Coordinator will, subject to University procedures and any applicable laws or regulations, maintain the files and records relating to the complaint.

vii. If the student wishes to appeal the ADA Coordinator's written determination or proposed resolution, the student may appeal within 15 business days of the date on which the determination was sent. The appeal request must be in writing, describe the basis for the appeal, and be submitted to the Office of the Dean of Students.

viii. A written decision on the appeal, and a description of the resolution, if any, will be issued by the Dean of Students no later than 15 business days after its submission. The determination of the Dean of Students shall be final and binding.

Grade Grievance and Other Related Academic Complaints (pages 80-84)

The procedure to file a grade grievance and other related academic complaint is as follows:

i. A student with a complaint should, where appropriate, first try to reach agreement with the faculty member. This concern will be forwarded to the faculty member, in writing, within 10 business days of the end of the semester. Upon being notified of a student complaint, the faculty member must meet with the student to discuss the complaint within 10 business days.

ii. If the faculty member does not meet with the student within 10 business days, or if such a meeting would be inappropriate under the circumstances, or if the issue remains unresolved after a meeting between the student and the faculty member, the student may submit a written appeal to the faculty member's department chairperson (or designee), who will attempt to mediate the complaint. If the student does not know the faculty member's department, or cannot ascertain the department chairperson, the student should contact the Office of the Dean of Students (if an undergraduate student) and the Office of the Assistant Provost for Graduate and Professional Education (if a graduate student). The appeal must be submitted within 5 business days of the meeting between the student and the faculty member.

iii. The department chair (or designee) must issue a written decision on the appeal and a description of the proposed resolution, if any, no later than 15 business days after its submission.

iv. A student may appeal a decision by the department chair (or designee) to the dean of the college in which the department is organized. If requested, the department chair (or designee) shall provide the name and contact information for the appropriate dean to the student. This appeal request must be submitted no more than 5 business days after the date on which the department chair's decision was sent.

v. The dean will select the members of the hearing panel within 15 business days of receiving the appeal or, if that is too close to the end of a semester or session, within 15 days after the beginning of the next semester. This hearing panel shall consist of 5 members, 3 faculty members and 2 students. Of the faculty members, only 1 may be from the same department as the faculty member in question. The other 2 faculty members shall be drawn from other departments within that college or, if the college has too few departments, from other colleges. Of the student members, both must be either undergraduate students (if the student submitting the grievance is an undergraduate) or graduate students (if the student submitting the grievance is a graduate student.) Neither of the student members may be enrolled in the department of the faculty member in question.

vi. The hearing panel shall:

a) Select the date, time and location of the hearing and notify the student and faculty member of this information.

b) Make available to the student and faculty member, at least 5 business days prior to the hearing, all material that has been furnished to the hearing panel and the names of any witnesses who may give testimony.

c) Provide the student and faculty member with the opportunity to hear all testimony and examine all documents or other materials presented to the hearing panel.

d) Provide the student and faculty member with the opportunity to question each witness.

e) Allow the student and faculty member each to be assisted by an advisor of their choice from among the members of the University community. The advisor may help prepare the presentation before the hearing panel, raise questions during the hearing, and, if appropriate, help prepare an appeal. A department chair who has mediated or attempted mediation is not permitted to serve as advisor to either party.

f) Permit the faculty member and student to make a summary statement at the conclusion of the hearing.

g) Make an audio recording of the hearing that shall be kept in the dean's office for at least one calendar year after the hearing's conclusion. No other electronic devices (included, but not limited to, cellphones, computers and additional recorders) may be used, unless expressly permitted by the members of the hearing panel.

h) Apply a preponderance of the information standard when deciding whether the student has proven the facts underlying the grievance.

vii. Within 10 business days after the conclusion of the hearing, the hearing panel shall prepare a written decision and proposed resolution, if any. A representative of the dean's office will inform the student, the faculty member, the Registrar's Office (for undergraduate students) or the Office of Graduate and Professional Education (for graduate students) and the dean of the college in which the student is enrolled (if different) of the decision.

viii. A student or faculty member who is not satisfied with the decision by the hearing panel may appeal to the Academic Appeals Committee of the Faculty Senate. This appeal must be submitted within 30 business days of the date on which the hearing panel's decision was sent. This Committee, on reviewing the case, may uphold the decision of the college committee without a hearing or decide the appeal should be heard.

ix. The Chair of the Academic Appeals Committee may appoint an ad hoc hearing panel from among the current members of the committee, consisting of 3 faculty members and 2 students, or the entire committee may serve as the hearing panel. If the submitting the appeal is an undergraduate graduate student, the 2 student panel members must be undergraduate students, and if the student submitting the appeal is a graduate student, the student panel members must be graduate students. During the hearing, the student and faculty member may be assisted by an advisor they have chosen from the University community. The process set forth for the hearing panel (above) also shall govern this hearing.

x. The decision of the Academic Appeals Committee or, if applicable, the ad hoc committee, shall be final. The committee shall inform the dean's office, who, in turn shall inform the student, the faculty, the Registrar's Office (for undergraduate students) or the Office of Graduate and Professional Education (for graduate students) and the dean of the college in which the student is enrolled (if different) of the decision.

xi. No grade shall be changed as a result of a grade grievance complaint, except as follows. In the case of a grade grievance, the University Registrar's Office is authorized to change the student's grade in the following situations:

a) When the student and the faculty member agree;

b) If the department chair approves the student's appeal and the faculty member does not appeal that decision;

c) If the dean approves the student's appeal based on the hearing panel's recommendation and the faculty member does not appeal that decision; or

d) If the Academic Appeals Committee approves the student's appeal.

Discrimination and Harassment Grievance (page 84)

i. All incidents of harassment based on a student's sex, gender, gender identity or expression or sexual orientation will be resolved through the Sexual Misconduct Policy.

ii. Incidents of harassment based on a student's race, color, national origin, disability, religion, age, veteran status or any other characteristic protected by law will be resolved through the Student Conduct System (if the alleged harasser is a student) or through the Chief Human Resources Officer in accordance with University personnel policies (if the alleged harasser is a faculty member, staff or vendor).

iii. A student may also seek emotional support by discussing the alleged harassment privately and in confidence with a psychologist from the Center for Counseling and Student Development.

iv. Non-Retaliation: It is a violation of University policy to retaliate in any way against students because they have raised allegations of discrimination or unlawful harassment.

Other Alleged Grievances (page 84)

The University may, at its discretion, permit a student to submit a grievance for problems other than those described above. A request must be submitted by the student to the Office of the Dean of Students for undergraduate students and Office of Graduate and Professional Education for graduate students within 30 business days after the last event giving rise to the alleged violation. If the request is granted, the University will decide upon the appropriate process to govern its resolution and may, but need not, follow the process set forth above for grade complaints.

2. Documentation regarding the record of student complaints over the last five years, including the number, patterns in type of complaints, and their resolution.

Over the last five years, the Office of General Counsel is aware of 13 lawsuits or administrative complaints filed by students against the University.

Administrative Complaints: Seven of the complaints were filed with the Department of Education Office for Civil Rights. Of those seven, three were voluntarily resolved by the parties, two resulted in findings in favor of the University and two are currently being investigated. Two of the complaints alleged disability discrimination, three alleged race/national origin discrimination, one alleged age discrimination and one alleged sex discrimination.

Lawsuits: Six of the complaints were lawsuits filed in federal or state courts located in Delaware. Judgment was entered in favor of the University in two of the lawsuits, one was voluntarily dismissed by the plaintiff without a settlement and three were settled. One lawsuit that resulted in judgment for the University alleged sex discrimination, negligent misrepresentation and negligent infliction of emotional distress and the other alleged national origin discrimination (and was a duplicate of one of the OCR complaints). The lawsuit that was voluntarily dismissed by the plaintiff without a settlement alleged sex discrimination under Title IX. The three remaining lawsuits alleged: (1) violation of the First Amendment; (2) negligence after a slip and fall in a residence hall; and (3) disability discrimination and lack of due process after a disciplinary action.

The Office of Equity and Inclusion (OEI) became responsible for Title IX and sexual misconduct in 2014. OEI is working to formalize the record retention of sexual misconduct incidents that will mirror the Office of Student Conduct's file management and retention system.

3. Written procedures for making modifications and improvements to the institution as a result of information obtained in handling student complaints.

The University of Delaware adopted a revised sexual misconduct policy (see Appendix 19) that applies to all members of the University community effective July 1, 2015. The changes to the policy ensure the University is fully compliant with Title IX requirements as interpreted by the U.S. Department of Education's Office for Civil Rights (OCR), the federal agency responsible for enforcing Title IX, as well as with the federal Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act (VAWA). The revisions to UD's policy were made in consultation with students and University leaders including the Board of Trustees, the Title IX Executive Committee, the Faculty Senate Commission on Sexual Harassment and Sexual Assault and Human Resources leaders.

The policy is intended to keep the University community free from sexual misconduct, including sexual harassment, sexual assault, stalking, dating violence and domestic violence. It is designed to ensure a safe and nondiscriminatory environment that protects the rights of students, faculty, staff, vendors, guests, visitors and volunteers.

The new policy pulls together all of the information related to sexual misconduct that was previously located in various separate policies. The comprehensive document makes it much easier for students, faculty and staff to locate and read information about the scope of UD's policy, how incidents should be reported, how they are handled by the University, and the myriad options and resources available to victims of sexual misconduct. In addition, the website that houses the policy and related resources has been redesigned and renamed from Gender-Based Violence to Sexual Misconduct to enhance usability.

As with the previous policy, any employee who is not considered a confidential resource has a responsibility to report sexual misconduct. The new document clarifies that when anyone witnesses, is advised of or learns about an alleged incident, he or she must promptly notify the University Title IX Coordinator.

In addition, the process for investigating student cases has changed from a full hearing procedure to one that involves one-on-one guidance from a trained professional to ensure a prompt, fair and neutral investigative process for all students, faculty, staff or visitors, and will provide assistance to victims of sexual misconduct.

Since fall 2015, the Office of Equity and Inclusion (OEI) administers online training for all employees to bring greater awareness of Title IX laws and UD's policy, procedures and resources.

With regard to creating an inclusive campus climate, OEI offers workshops and compliance training to the campus community to promote an equitable and inclusive work and learning environment (see Appendix 20). OEI provides education and resources in the areas of bias, prejudice, harassment and discrimination to encourage and develop awareness and knowledge of individuals' differences and similarities.

Required Information for Students and the Public

In accordance with 34 CFR 602.16(a)(1)(iv), the Commission must confirm that institutions make available to students and the general public fair, accurate and complete information in catalogs, handbooks and other publications regarding the institution's calendar, grading, admissions, academic program requirements, tuition and fees, and refund policies.

In addition, the Commission must verify that institutions collect and post information on their websites concerning student performance in academic programs and their successful completion. Information should also be available regarding student employment after graduation and performance on licensing exams, as appropriate.

Finally, in accordance with 34 CFR 602.23(d), the Commission must verify that institutions provide clear and accurate information in their advertising and recruiting material about their accreditation status with the Middle States Commission on Higher Education.

Institutions must provide the following information:

1. URLs for course catalogs and student handbooks, or the location of any alternative institutional website documenting required disclosures.

Required disclosures are detailed at the following URLs:

4. Written description of the methods used to collect and review information on student outcomes and licensure pass rates.

Annually, the Department of Accounting & MIS purchases the CPA Examination pass rate data from the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy. The data are analyzed by a faculty committee, with specific attention to the 5 year trend. Comparisons are made with reference to a) Peer Institutions, b) Competitor Institutions, c) National averages. A discussion of the results with the entire Department faculty occurs during the Department Annual Retreat in August.

UD's Teacher Preparation programs have certification exams. To receive the University of Delaware's institutional recommendation for certification, a candidate must complete one of the University's state-approved programs, including passing the relevant Praxis Subject Assessment test(s) according to the state of Delaware guidelines. This institutional recommendation is noted on the candidate's official transcript upon completion of all program requirements. A candidate must apply for licensure/certification through the Department of Education in the states in which he/she wishes to teach. The Delaware Center for Teacher Education Office of Certification and Accreditation maintains information related to student outcomes and licensure pass rates, as well as to the meeting of Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation standards.

Outcomes data are collected on undergraduate nursing students in multiple ways. These include program completion rates, pass rate on the Registered Nurse licensure exam (NCLEX-RN), employment rates within one year of graduation, satisfaction with the program and employer surveys. These data are collected annually as part of the accreditation requirements by the Commission of Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE). Once students take the NCLEX-RN exam, the National Council of State Boards of Nursing (NCSBN) sends results to the School of Nursing. Outcomes measures, maintained on every student indicate that the School of Nursing exceeds the national benchmark for program completion rates and NCLEX-RN pass rates. In addition, the employment rates within one year of graduation exceeds 99%. Program satisfaction is measured using Educational Benchmark, Inc. (EBI) surveys sent to new graduates and alumni (1 and 5 years after graduation). Outcomes data show that the School of Nursing exceeds the benchmark for program satisfaction for peer nursing schools and nursing schools nationally. Employer surveys indicate that employers are overall, very satisfied with UD School of Nursing graduates.

Outcomes data for the master's nursing programs include program completion rates, working as an advanced practice nurse after graduation, new graduate and alumni surveys (1 year and 5 years after graduation) and first time certification pass rates. These data are collected annually as part of the accreditation requirements by the Commission of Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE). Outcomes measures indicate that the master's program exceeds the national benchmark for program completion rates and first time certification pass rates. Satisfaction with the master's and post-master's programs indicate that 92% of new graduates rate the programs as "very good" or "excellent". In addition, an average of 92.2% of graduates of the master's programs, who completed the alumni survey reported that they currently worked in an advanced practice nursing role.

Student outcomes are assessed in a multimodal fashion in the Department of Physical Therapy. First, outcome assessment data is collected via student surveys issued immediately at graduation, 6 months post-graduation and 5 years post-graduation. Second, employer surveys are utilized to ascertain student and program strengths and areas for improvement. Third, integration courses using iClicker technology provides data on student understanding of a variety of curricular topics and helps inform future curricular decisions. Fourth, student performance on integrated clinical experiences is analyzed by review of data contained within the New England Consortium grading tool. Fifth, student performance on terminal clinical internships is analyzed by reviewing data contained within the Clinical Performance Instrument. Student performance on the physical therapist licensure examination (governed by the Federation of State Boards of Physical Therapy) is also tracked yearly. This data is reported within the Commission on Accreditation of Physical Therapy Education (CAPTE) Annual Accreditation Report. We comply with requirements to make this data publicly accessible via posting on our website.

5. Documents and URLs for advertising and recruitment materials that are available to current and prospective students that show the accreditation status with the Commission and any other U.S. Department of Education approved agencies.

Standing with State and other Accrediting Agencies

In accordance with 34 CFR 602.28, the Commission must verify that an institution is properly authorized or licensed to operate and is in good standing with each state in which it is authorized or licensed to operate. In addition, if the institution has status with a specialized, programmatic, or institutional accrediting agency recognized by the U.S. Department of Education, the Commission must verify that the institution is in good standing with the agency or agencies.

Institutions must provide the following documentation:

1. Written documentation about the relationships with any specialized, programmatic, or institutional accrediting agencies recognized by the U.S. Department of Education and all governing or coordinating bodies in the state(s) and countries in which the institution has a presence.

Twenty-four of UD's academic programs and student support and community services are accredited (see Appendix 21). Six of these 24 accreditors are accrediting agencies recognized by the U.S. Department of Education:

- American Psychological Association (APA)
- Commission on Accreditation in Physical Therapy Education (CAPTE)
- Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE)
- Commission on English Language Program Accreditation (CEA)
- Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP)
- National Association of Schools of Music, Commission on Accreditation (NASM)

The most recent status of accreditation for the above accreditors is documented in Appendix 22. The most recent status of accreditation for the other 18 accreditors are on file in the Office of Institutional Research and Effectiveness. An inventory of accreditors and dates of next review is documented in Appendix 23.

2. Written documentation regarding any review resulting in a non-compliance action determined by the accrediting agency, state, or country within the past five years.

No non-compliance actions have been determined by the six accrediting agencies recognized by the U.S. Department of Education listed above.

Contractual Relationships

In accordance with 34 CFR 602.22(a)(2)(vii), the Commission is required to review any contractual arrangements an institution enters into with an organization that is not certified to participate in the Title IV, HEOA programs and offers more than 25 percent of one or more of the accredited institution's educational programs.

As institutions seek to improve the ways in which they provide education to their students, they may find it more practical or efficient to contract with other institutions or organizations to provide certain components of the educational experience. Any institution accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education is held responsible for all activities carried out under the institution's name.

Institutions must provide the following documentation:

1. List of contractual arrangements for education services.

While UD has contractual arrangements for education services (i.e., Academic Partnerships, Wiley), none of these offer more than 25 percent of one or more of our educational programs.

2. Written documentation such as policies and procedures or excerpts from contracts specifying that the institution is responsible for all required segments of the educational service.

Not applicable.

Assignment of Credit Hours

In accordance with 34 CFR 602.24(f), the Commission “must conduct an effective review and evaluation of the reliability and accuracy of the institution’s assignment of credit hours.”

Specifically, the Commission must review the institution’s policies and procedures for determining the credit hours awarded as well as the application of the institution’s policies and procedures to its programs and coursework, and make a “reasonable determination of whether the institution’s assignment of credit hours conforms to commonly accepted practice in higher education.”

The U.S. Department of Education defines “credit hour” as:

“...an amount of work represented in intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement that is an institutionally established equivalency that reasonably approximates not less than:

- (1) One hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours out-of-class student work for approximately 15 weeks for one semester or trimester hour of credit, or 10 to 12 weeks for one quarter hour of credit, or the equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time; or,*
- (2) At least an equivalent amount of work as required in paragraph (1) of this definition for other academic activities as established by the institution, including laboratory work, internships, practica, studio work, and other academic work leading to the award of credit hours.”*

Institutions must provide the follow documentation:

1. Written policies and procedures for credit hour assignment covering all types of courses, disciplines, programs, degree levels, formats, and modalities of instruction. Include each policy that documents the assignment of credit hours specific to the types noted above. Specify the location of the policy in the catalog and website. The following should be clearly indicated:
 - Academic period (e.g.,15 weeks plus one week exam over two semesters)
 - Recommended instructional time (e.g., three 50-minute sessions or two 75-minute session per week)
 - Recommended out-of-class time requirements (e.g., twice in-class time)

The academic year consists of two semesters that are 15 weeks, including a one week exam period, and a five-week winter session. Full-time undergraduate students are those carrying twelve (12) or more course credit hours per semester. Students who are enrolled for 6 credit hours or more during the winter or summer sessions are considered full-time. A normal schedule consists of four or five major courses, subject to the following credit limitations:

- For freshmen, a normal load should not exceed 17 credits, excluding SkillMod, military science, and activity courses in music and physical education. A reduced schedule of four academic courses, plus SkilMod, may be suggested for some freshmen by faculty advisors.

- For upperclass students not on probation, a normal load should not exceed 18 credits, unless prescribed by the curriculum. An additional fee at the per-credit-hour rate applies to each credit in excess of 17.
- Students on Academic Probation may be enrolled in a maximum of 14 credits.
- In determining course load for University purposes, registration as an auditor or pass/fail is included. Zero-level courses (e.g., MATH 010) also determine course load, although they do not count toward credit for graduation.

Any student registered or enrolled for fewer than 12 credits during the fall or spring semesters is classified as a part-time student. Part-time students admitted to the University's undergraduate division are also considered degree candidates. All other students attending on a part-time basis are classified as Professional and Continuing Studies (CEND) students, i.e., not pursuing a formal degree. For purposes of determining course load, registration as an auditor or pass/fail is included.

Full-time graduate students are those carrying nine (9) or more course credit hours per semester, or a graduate teaching assistant or a graduate research assistant. Those enrolled for fewer than 9 credit hours are considered part-time students, although students holding assistantships are considered full-time with six credits. Generally, a maximum load is 12 graduate credit hours; however, additional credit hours may be taken with the approval of the student's adviser and the Office of Graduate and Professional Education.

UD has established approved meeting times and scheduling guidelines. This information is available on the Office of the University Registrar website under Policies and Procedures (see Appendix 24). This website also details calculating units and credit hours (see Appendix 25). A course must meet 12 hours/term for each credit (12 hours for a 1 credit course; 36 hours for a 3 credit course; 48 hours for a 4 credit course, etc.). The following is an example of how to compute the meeting minutes/week required:

3-credit course that meets twice/week:

$36 \text{ hours} \times 60 \text{ minutes} = 2,160 \text{ minutes}$

$2,160 \text{ minutes} / 14 \text{ week term} = 154.29 \text{ minutes per week}$

$154.29 \text{ minutes} / 2 \text{ days} = 77.14 \text{ minutes}$

The course must meet 75 minutes both days (77.14 is rounded to nearest 5 min. increment).

Courses with Labs:

4 credit course w/1-credit LAB must meet 6 hours/week:

2 hours/week for each credit of LAB

4 hours/week of LEC, DIS and/or combination of both (if approved for both)

3 credit course w/1-credit LAB must meet 5 hours/week:

2 hours/week for each credit of LAB

3 hours/week of LEC, DIS and/or combination of both (if approved for both)

The Faculty Handbook Section 3.1.7 details class meetings and size (see Appendix 26). Specifically,

“Class meeting hours at the University of Delaware follow the normal standards adopted by most colleges and universities. For a three credit course meeting three times a week (e.g., on Monday-Wednesday-Friday), there typically will be three, 50 minute weekly meetings for a minimum of 39 scheduled class meetings during the fall and spring terms (40 or 41 class meetings are normally scheduled). For a three credit course meeting twice a week (e.g., on Tuesday-Thursday), there typically will be two, 75 minute weekly meetings for a minimum of 26 scheduled class meetings (27 or 28 class meetings are normally scheduled). Courses for other than 3 credit hours should likewise meet for the equivalent of 50 minutes per credit hour per semester week. Courses with laboratory components grant one credit for every two or three hours of laboratory work per week. Class meeting time during the winter and summer sessions should be equivalent to that scheduled in the fall and spring academic terms. (Rev 3/2014)”

2. Evidence that the institution’s credit hour policies and procedures are applied consistently across the full range of institutional offerings. If the institution is required to obtain approval from the relevant State Department of Education, compliance with this requirement should be documented. Other evidence must include:

- documentation from recent academic program reviews
- new course or program approvals
- documentation for registration software/systems that ensure a consistent schedule of courses based on the credit hour assignment
- academic calendars and/or schedules, and course matrices
- documentation of adherence to credit hour requirements, consistent with federal regulations, from a system, or disciplinary organization; etc.

The University's course inventory consists of all courses approved to be taught (see Appendix 27).

Part of the Faculty Senate's yearly course approval process, the online course approval application is used for proposing a new course or revising or deactivating a course. The Faculty Senate Online Course Approval Instructions are available online (see Appendix 28). Included in the online course approval application is the course detail term, “credit” which must be assigned to each proposed new or revised course.

The Maximum (Max) and Minimum (Min) information must be completed for each course. When determining the number of credit hours for a fixed credit course, you must teach at least 50 minutes class time of lecture for each 1 credit hour and at least 2 hours of laboratory for 1 credit hour for a regular semester.

Fixed

Courses offered for a certain fixed number of credits every time it is offered. All fixed credit courses must have the Max and Min completed.

Max has the same meaning for all courses, whether it is fixed credit or variable credit. Maximum credits means the maximum credits a student can take in this course (not a section) in a given semester. For most fixed credit courses, students take only one credit bearing section in a semester, in which case the Max equals the Min. In a few cases students may take more than one credit bearing section of some courses, varying topics courses for example, where the Max is greater than the Min.

Variable

All variable credit courses must have Max and Min completed.

Max has the same meaning for all courses, whether it is fixed credit or variable credit. Maximum credits means the maximum credits a student can take in this course (not a section) in a given semester. For most courses students register for and take only one section in a semester, but sometimes students take more than one section of some courses, for example, our experimental courses, x67, and special problem or independent study courses, x66.

Min is the least number of credit hours that a student may register for in a variable credit hour course.

Courses with variable credit hours can be offered in a semester in one of two ways. When scheduling a course in a term you may choose to have a range of credit hours between the maximum and minimum. The student then registers for credits within this range. The second way is to schedule it as a fixed credit hour course, in which case a student can only register for the minimum credit in a section.

Class registration is managed online by the Office of the University Registrar. Students have the ability to search Course Descriptions (see Appendix 29) for a synopsis, including credit information, co- and pre-requisites, and any restrictions or permissions needed to register. Students use Courses Search (see Appendix 30) to view meeting times for the term. UD has implemented WebReg registration software/systems to ensure a consistent schedule of courses based on the credit hour assignment. Students use WebReg to register for classes, drop classes, view their schedule and appointment time, and find books and textbooks to buy or rent for registered courses (see Appendix 31).

The University Academic Calendar is posted online and available as a pdf file (see Appendix 32).

An archive of Class Listings (Registration Books) is available online. The Fall 2015 Registration Book is provided in Appendix 33. The Registration Books include the credit hour(s) assigned to each course offered in a given term.

The Scheduling Office in the Office of the University Registrar compiles and edits, if necessary, this information into the Schedule of Classes in order to create the listing of class offerings, as well as to populate the online search application used by students to develop their semester schedules. A matrix for meeting times and scheduling by units and credit hour is available online (see Appendix 24).

3. A description and evidence of the processes used by the institution to review periodically the application of its policies and procedures for credit hour assignment. Indicate the individual(s) and/or entities responsible for the final review and approval.

The Faculty Senate conducts an annual course approval process. This process includes all proposed courses and any courses being revised or deactivated. All course proposals and changes must be approved at the college level by the Dean as well as the appropriate Faculty Senate committees. All courses approved by the Undergraduate and Graduate Studies Committees become part of the permanent course inventory. Included in the online course approval application is the course detail term, “credit” which must be assigned to each proposed new or revised course. See the response to item 2 above for detail on the definition and assignment of credits.

4. A list of the courses and programs that do not adhere to the federal definition of credit hour or its equivalent as specified in the MSCHE Credit Hour Policy (e.g., online or hybrid, laboratory, studio, clinical, internship, independent study, and accelerated format) and evidence that such variations in credit hour assignment conform to commonly accepted practice in higher education.
 - Each course or program that does not adhere to the federal definition should be specified and supporting evidence that it conforms to commonly accepted practice should be provided using the criteria described above in Item 2.

All for-credit courses offered at UD adhere to the federal definition of credit hour or its equivalent as specified in the MSCHE Credit Hour Policy.

What is FERPA and who does it protect?

The Family Education Rights & Privacy Act, known as FERPA or the Buckley Amendment, is a federal law passed in 1974. It is enforced by the Family Policy Compliance Office in the United States Department of Education. FERPA applies to all educational agencies or institutions, including the University of Delaware, that receive funds under any program administered by the Secretary of Education. The purpose of FERPA is to ensure the accuracy, integrity, and confidentiality of education records maintained by colleges and universities concerning students. FERPA embodies five essential principles:

- A student is entitled to know what education records the institution maintains.
- A student is entitled to inspect most education records containing the student's name or personally identifiable information about the student.
- A student is entitled to correct erroneous education records.
- An institution is obligated to use education records only for their intended purposes and to relinquish education records to third parties only under prescribed circumstances.

- Faculty and staff members who maintain education records are obligated to take reasonable precautions to prevent misuse or unauthorized disclosure of education records.

FERPA protects the education records of any individual who is currently a UD student or who matriculated at UD at any time subsequent to the enactment of the law in 1974. FERPA does not apply to deceased students or persons who applied to UD but never enrolled.

How FERPA impacts UD Faculty/Staff

1. All UD faculty and staff members are considered university officials under FERPA when they perform specific functions of their position related to the student educational experience. Faculty and staff members routinely handle education records as part of their responsibilities. They are expected to understand their legal obligations under FERPA and to ensure that education records are not used for inappropriate purposes or disclosed in an unauthorized manner. The legal obligations of UD faculty and staff members are set forth in implementing regulations promulgated by the United States Department of Education and available on the Department's web site at <http://www2.ed.gov/policy/gen/guid/fpco/pdf/ferparegs.pdf>.
 2. FERPA is enforced by the United States Department of Education, which has the authority to audit institutions of higher education for FERPA compliance. FERPA violations may result in the loss of federal funding for the University. Any breach of confidentiality by a faculty or staff member in violation of FERPA could lead to the imposition of disciplinary sanctions under University human resource policies.

What is an "Education Record"?

1. The term "education record" as used in FERPA is very inclusively defined. An education record is any record, file, document, or other material that (i) contains information directly related to a student, and (ii) is maintained by a faculty or staff member. The term encompasses records kept in any format - hard copy, electronic, handwritten, or other. There are only five exceptions recognized in the law. The term "education record" does not include:
 - Personal notes that are not shown to anybody else;
 - Police records;
 - Employment records;
 - Medical records; and
 - Records that contain only information about an individual after he or she is no longer a student, for example, records maintained by the Office of Alumni Relations about the volunteer or gift-giving activities of UD alumni.
 2. All other records maintained by UD faculty and staff members are presumed to be education records, hence subject to the privacy protections in FERPA, if they identify a student by name or contain other personally identifiable information from which the identity of a student can be derived.

What Rights do Students Have Under FERPA to Inspect and Correct Education Records?

1. Under FERPA, current and former students are entitled to inspect and review education records in which they are named or identified. Should you receive a request from a student for access to his or her education records, you should refer the request to the Registrar's Office. Under the FERPA regulations, the institution has 45 days to provide access to requested education records, and is entitled to charge a reasonable fee for copying education records, but is prohibited from charging any fee or cost for search time.
2. If a student (including a former student) believes that an education record is inaccurate, the student may seek a correction by writing to the Registrar, clearly identifying the part of the record that is allegedly inaccurate, and specifying why it is inaccurate. If the University decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the University will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.
3. A student (including a former student) has the right under FERPA to file a complaint with the United States Department of Education concerning an alleged failure by the University to comply with the requirements of FERPA.
4. FERPA and the implementing regulations impose limitations on students' rights to inspect and review their education records. The University is not required to permit students to inspect and review the following:
 - Records that do not contain educational information or do not constitute education records within the meaning of that term in FERPA.
 - Financial records of parents.
 - Education records created or compiled prior to FERPA's 1974 effective date.
 - Confidential recommendations or receipts of honors if the student has waived the right of access to such information.
 - Records containing information on more than one student.

Procedures Regarding the Disclosure of Education Records to Third Parties

You, as the custodian of an education record, cannot disclose the record to a third party unless either (i) the student who is the subject of the record consents in writing to the disclosure, or (ii) disclosure is warranted without consent under one of FERPA's exceptions to the written-consent requirement.

Written consent:

You are allowed to disclose an education record if the student who is the subject of the record consents in writing. The student's written consent must contain three elements:

- It must specify the records to be released, i.e. grades, notes based on observations, general assessment of performance of student in a class or in a field-based experience;
- It must identify the party or class of parties to whom the records should be released, i.e. prospective employer, non-UD school official, scholarship committee members, etc.; and
- It must indicate the reason for the release, i.e. as part of an application for employment, admission to a graduate program, application for a scholarship/grant, etc.

Disclosure without consent:

FERPA enumerates specific circumstances under which disclosure may be made, but is not required to be made, without consent. The most important are:

- To other University officials and offices with "legitimate educational interests." The University of Delaware determines on a case-by-case basis whether a school official has a legitimate educational interest in the disclosure of personally identifiable information from an education record, based on application of the following considerations:
 - Whether the information to be disclosed is necessary for that official to perform an appropriate task that comes within or is consistent with the official's job duties or the duties spelled out in the official's contract;
 - Whether the information is to be used for official University business and not for purposes extraneous to the official's job duties or the duties spelled out in the official's contract;
 - Whether the information is relevant to a task, determination, proceeding, or other matter relating to the student; and
 - Whether the information is to be used in a manner consistent with the purpose or purposes for which the education record is maintained.

When in doubt, confer with the Registrar's Office before determining whether it is appropriate for you to disclose an education record to another University official under the "legitimate educational interests" exception to the written consent requirement.

- In connection with an application for, or receipt of, financial aid.
- To the parent of a "dependent student" (as the term in quotation marks is defined in the Internal Revenue Code).
- To comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena. Even if the subpoena is lawfully issued, the University is still not allowed to comply until it has made a "reasonable effort to notify the .. student ... in advance of compliance." If you are served with a subpoena or court order requiring production of an education record, you should promptly notify the General Counsel's Office and send the original copy of the subpoena or order to that office. You should not produce documents unless you are instructed to do so by the General Counsel's Office.
- To cope with a health or safety emergency, if disclosure is necessary to protect the health or safety of the student who is the subject of the education record. When in doubt, confer with the Registrar's Office before determining whether it is appropriate for you to disclose an education record under the "health or safety emergency" exception to the written consent requirement.

What is often misunderstood about FERPA...

and critically important to the safety of our students and the maintenance of student welfare - is that information based on personal observation is not the same as a protected education record. Personal observations are not subject to FERPA and are not subject to the statutory confidentiality constraints imposed on education records by FERPA. If a faculty or staff member observes behavior or has personal knowledge suggesting that a student is in trouble, particularly when there is reason to believe that the health or safety of the student or others may be in jeopardy, the observer should seek support or advice to diffuse the situation. This may be any action as simple as calling the Office of the Dean of Students for guidance on handling students in crisis or calling the Department of Public Safety to respond to an emergency.

- When the information disclosed qualifies as "directory information". Directory information is defined in the FERPA regulations as "information ... which would not generally be considered harmful or an invasion of privacy if disclosed."

Examples of directory information include a student's name, campus address, campus telephone listing, class (freshman, sophomore, and so forth), college, major field of study, dates of attendance, degrees awarded, honors or awards conferred, and, for intercollegiate student-athletes: age, weight and height.

UD Students may withhold directory information by contacting the Registrar's Office or by changing privacy settings through UDSIS. This causes the following FERPA icon to be placed at the top of their online student record:  .

You should confer with the Registrar's Office before determining whether it is appropriate for you to disclose an education record under the "directory information" exception to the written consent requirement.

- When the information is requested by the victim of a crime of violence and relates to the results of a disciplinary proceeding against the alleged perpetrator of that crime. A recent amendment to FERPA permits an institution to include, as part of a student's record, information regarding disciplinary action taken against the student for conduct that posed a significant risk to the safety or well-being of the student or others within the school community, and to disclose such information to parents, teachers, and school officials, including those in other schools, who have legitimate educational interests in the behavior of the student.

FERPA and Parents

1. When a student reaches the age of 18 or begins attending a post-secondary institution regardless of age, FERPA rights transfer to the student. As a general matter, parents do not have the right to obtain information in education records, including grades, attendance records, or faculty notes about a student's performance in class, unless either the student consents to disclosure or one of the specific FERPA exceptions permits disclosure without the student's consent.
2. Students may choose to share specific components of education information with parents/guardians through the Parent/Guardian Secure Services web application. They can change sharing options at any time and are periodically prompted to review their sharing settings.
3. UD faculty and staff members may not discuss a student's education record with a parent over the telephone or in person without the written consent of the student. If a parent telephones or visits you to discuss a student, you should decline to do so without written consent from the student.

Some General Rules

1. Under FERPA, UD faculty and staff members are responsible for protecting education records in your possession and ensuring that those records are not disclosed inappropriately.
2. UD faculty and staff members may access and use education records only as necessary to conduct official business that is related to the educational interest of the student.
3. UD faculty and staff members should take appropriate measures to protect education records for unauthorized disclosure. Education records stored on personal computers or local networks should be password-protected. Education records maintained in hard-copy form should be secured in locked drawers or other locations from which unauthorized personnel are excluded.

4. If somebody who is not a member of the University community - someone claiming to be a student's family member, friend, business associate, or the like - contacts you and says he or she needs to reach the student because of an emergency, the person should be directed to the Department of Public Safety. Do not take it upon yourself to supply information about the student unless you have reason to believe that a health or safety emergency authorizes you to release information without the student's written consent.
5. Actions Allowed Under FERPA:
 - Releasing an education record to the student who is the subject of the record when his or her identity can be positively identified. In general, telephone and non-UD e-mail are not reliable methods to make positive identification. UD e-mail is allowed.
 - Posting grades to UD information systems.
 - Handing graded work directly to a student in or out of class. (Grades should not be visible to other students when returning student work. A posted grade list is prohibited unless students are identified uniquely using something other than names.)
 - Providing information from an education record to school officials with a legitimate education need to know.
6. Actions Not Allowed Under FERPA:
 - Sharing information about students with third parties, parents or others unless the student has provided written consent specifying what information you may share, i.e. letters of recommendation.
 - Sharing Directory Information without a written release from a student who has a FERPA restriction.
 - E-mailing students any confidential information including grades, unless specifically requested through their UD e-mail account. This information can ONLY be released directly to the student in person, on UDSIS, on UD-supported Learning Management Systems (Sakai and Canvas), or through UD e-mail. Posting confidential information to other websites, e-mail addresses, blogs, etc. is not allowed.
 - Releasing a student's class schedule. If there is an emergency in which an individual needs to locate a student, refer the individual to Public Safety.
 - Asking students in a class to hand back graded work to other students.
 - Leaving graded student work in a public area.
 - Sharing or discussing education records with your colleagues or co-workers unless a legitimate education need exists.
 - Posting grades in a manner that easily identifies students.
7. If in doubt, DO NOT release information about a student. Refer requests and questions to the Office of the Registrar at registrar@udel.edu.

Your Annual Acknowledgement

UD Faculty/Staff who work with student records will be prompted to acknowledge their annual review and understanding of the University's FERPA policies and their intention to act in compliance with them.

FERPA Responsibilities for UD Faculty/Staff

Due to the importance of understanding the Family Education Rights & Privacy Act (FERPA), the University of Delaware requires that faculty/staff who work with student records periodically review the policy and related procedures.

You must review and acknowledge your understanding of this information before you can continue to UDSIS.

After you have completed this acknowledgement, you will receive an email with a link to this information for your reference.

My Security Update

The University of Delaware is changing the way members of the UD community access their accounts and UD apps. These changes will enhance the security of your UD accounts and make it easier for you to reset your UDeNet password.

(Review March 16 UDaily announcement.)

Complete My UD Settings: UDeNet Security Update.

- Using longer passwords is more secure than using shorter PINs during a login process. Therefore, the University is retiring the use of PINs. If you do not have a UDeNet password, you will set one as part of this security update. That password can be used with either your UDeNet ID (first part of your @udel.edu email address) or your UD ID (Empl ID).
- Members of the University community will record answers to security questions that they can use to verify their identity when resetting their UDeNet passwords. If students or employees forget their UD passwords, answering these security questions will replace the use of a UD ID and a PIN to reset a password.
- You will be asked to review the communication methods that UD has on file for you (e.g., telephone numbers).
 - If you forget your login information, you will need to verify your identity using one of the communication methods you have listed.
 - You will also need to have timely access to one of the communication methods you have listed in order to respond to a password reset verification message.
 - A cell phone for text messages is recommended. There are no UD charges for a text message; however, depending on your cell service, message and data rates may apply.

When do I need to make the changes?

The update is mandatory for UD Students beginning on April 5, 2016. It will be mandatory for UD employees beginning on April 26, 2016.

If you have a UDeNet ID, you can go to My UD Settings: UDeNet Security Update now to update your security settings.

- UD IT staff recommend that you choose to take advantage of this security update before you are required to do so to avoid having to do it when you might be rushed. Log in to My UD Settings: UDeNet Security Update and follow the directions presented.

Quick Links

Complete My Security UpdateMy UD SettingsTwo-factor authentication \(2FA\)Central authentication system \(CAS\)My UD BusinessSecure UD: Computer and information securitySecure UD trainingUD IT HomeIT Support Center Help Request

If you wait until you are required to make this security update, after you log in to a UD app or service that requires a UD CAS login (e.g., Google Apps at UD, Web Forms), you will be required to make the changes before you can use the service you are logging in to.

- Once you record your answers to the UD security questions, your PIN will be retired and you will use your UDeNet password and either your UDeNet ID (first part of your @udel.edu email address) or UD ID (Empl ID) to log in to UD apps and services.
- Later this winter and spring, employees and students who have not chosen to update their security settings ahead of time will be required to do so.
- Other members of the UD Community (e.g., retirees, alumni, parents and guardians, and prospective graduate students) will be required to complete this security update at a later date.

What do I need to do?

1. If you do not use or do not have a UDeNet password, you will create one. UDeNet passwords must be at least 12 characters long and include at least one character from three of these four character sets:
 - a. uppercase letters
 - b. lowercase letters
 - c. numerals
 - d. punctuation and special characters (excluding the space character).
2. You will be prompted to record answers to UD security questions. These questions and answers can be used to reset your UDeNet password if you forget it or if UD requires you to change your password.
3. You will also be prompted to review all your communication methods. If you forget your login information, you will need to verify a phone number that is associated with your account. You will also need to have timely access to this phone in order to respond to a password reset verification message.

What's coming next?

In the future, some UD Apps will require that you use your UDeNet ID, your password, and a unique, temporary security code to access confidential information. This temporary code can be sent to a phone by voice or text, emailed to you, or generated by a smartphone app. (This method of verifying your identity is called Two-factor authentication [2FA].)

✓ NON-DELAWARE RESIDENTS—testing via ProctorU

All distance learning students who are not living in Delaware will take their UD Online exams via ProctorU.com.

ProctorU is a secure, live, online proctoring service that allows exam takers to complete their assessment at home.

Students log in using their own microphone and webcam and pay a per-exam fee. Visit ProctorU.com to see how it works and review technical requirements.

Full-time campus-based University of Delaware students do not use ProctorU for their online exams.

2015-2016 UD Catalog -->2015-2016 UndergraduatePrograms -->Academic Regulationsfor Undergraduates -->EARNING ENOUGHCREDITS TO GRADUATE-->Transfer Course WorkFrom Other Institutions

The University of Delaware accepts credits from higher education, degree-granting institutions that are regionally-accredited by the appropriate body and at the appropriate higher educational level. Institutions outside the US must have comparable recognition by the national Ministry of Education of that country. College level coursework completed at degree-granting colleges/universities with other accreditations may be eligible for transfer credit. Contact the Office of the University Registrar (transfercredit@udel.edu) for additional information.

To transfer credits from approved institutions, students must submit official transcripts and official test scores from acceptable sources. Coursework will only transfer for grades of "C" or better in college-level courses. Remedial coursework, CLEP scores, Pass/Fail grades, life experiences and military courses are not accepted for transfer of credit. Course content not aligning with the university's curriculum may not transfer. Additionally, academic departments may require students to repeat outdated courses and/or coursework completed more than seven calendar years earlier. Courses taken under a different credit system will be converted to UD semester hours, ex: quarter hours x 2/3 (or .67) = semester hours.

The Office of the University Registrar will complete a preliminary evaluation of transfer credit for students offered admission to the University of Delaware. At times, courses that received a preliminary evaluation of general elective credit may prove to be directly equivalent to a UD course, if re-evaluated by the appropriate academic department. Only admitted students that have earned and transferred credits to UD may pursue re-evaluation – third-parties, parents, etc. may not pursue re-evaluation of coursework. Students pursuing re-evaluation of departmental elective credits will need to provide course descriptions for faculty review. The final determination regarding equivalent coursework and the number of credit hours applicable to the program at the University of Delaware rests with the academic departments.

Students enrolled at the University of Delaware who wish to complete coursework for credit at another institution must complete a Transfer Credit Evaluation form and obtain their assistant dean's approval prior to enrolling in such courses in order to assure transferability of coursework. Credits and quality points for work completed elsewhere will not be included in the student's University of Delaware cumulative grade-point index. For more detailed instructions regarding approval procedures, visit the Office of the University Registrar's transfer credit website.

Students who want to know whether the course(s) they are taking or plan to take will transfer to the University of Delaware may consult the Transfer Credit Matrix. The Transfer Credit Matrix is designed to be a resource to identify potential transfer credit and associated University of Delaware course equivalents from completed course work at other academic institutions.

Students taking coursework at other institutions should be aware of the University's residency policy. To receive a University of Delaware baccalaureate degree, admitted students must complete 90 of the first 100 credits or 30 of the last 36 credits, full- or part-time, at the University of Delaware. To receive an associate degree, at least 31 of the required 60 credits must be earned at the University of Delaware. Additional baccalaureate residency requirements may be required within individual majors and minors. Students with questions about meeting this requirement should consult the Assistant Dean of their college.

Although every effort has been made to assure the accuracy of the information in the Catalog, students and others who use the Catalog should note that the policies, rules, regulations, requirements for graduation, course offerings, and other materials reproduced in the Catalog change from time-to-time and that these changes may alter the information contained in this Catalog. see Legal Statement

Disclaimer: The Transfer Credit Matrix is designed to be a resource to identify potential transfer credit and associated University of Delaware course equivalents from completed course work at other academic institutions. This database is provided as a service for students wanting to know whether the course(s) they are taking or plan to take will transfer to the University of Delaware. The database is for reference only and is continually being updated as new courses are evaluated and former equivalencies are revised. It is neither an official determination nor a guarantee of transfer credit equivalencies. All information contained within this Matrix is subject to change, without prior notification. Final course equivalency is determined by the university's academic departments.

Courses not appearing in the Matrix may transfer, but most likely have not been evaluated yet. Current UD students desiring an evaluation of courses not appearing in the Matrix should follow the appropriate online instructions.

Students are awarded the equivalency in effect for the academic term to which a course is posted. Credits for college-level courses must be completed with a grade of "C" (2.0) or better from a regionally accredited institution. College level coursework completed at degree-granting colleges/universities with other accreditations may be eligible for transfer credit. Contact the Office of the University Registrar (transfercredit@udel.edu) for additional information. For specific guidelines regarding UD transfer policies, please refer to the University's Catalog.

Please Note:

- The Transfer Matrix search feature displays only the most recent course equivalencies.
- Students admitted under Articulation Agreements may find that their credit equivalencies vary from the information found within the Transfer Matrix.

Transfer Credit through Articulation Agreements

The University of Delaware has established a number of articulation agreements with other institutions to facilitate the transition to a baccalaureate degree program. A variety of programs are with Cecil College, Delaware Technical and Community College (DTCC) and Richard Stockton College of New Jersey. These program-to-program articulation agreements enable admissible students to complete a bachelor's degree at the University of Delaware in the following areas:

Accounting
 Biological Sciences
 Chemistry
 Chemistry Education
 Computer Science
 Criminal Justice
 Electrical Engineering
 Finance
 Health Behavior Science
 Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional Management Information Systems Management Marketing
 Mathematical Sciences
 Mathematics Education
 Medical Technology
 Nursing (RN to BSN)
 Operations Management
 Physics Education
 Sport Management

College-Specific Information

Prospective students are encouraged to work closely with academic advisors at their previous institutions for guidance in following articulation agreement requirements. Admitted students are encouraged to then work closely with advisors, admissions and registrar's office at the University of Delaware in order to have courses appropriately transfer and apply to their UD degree program.

RE: FY 2012 3-Year Official Cohort Default Rate Notification Letter

Dear President:

This letter officially notifies you of your school's fiscal year (FY) 2012 3-Year cohort default rate based on Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) Program and/or William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan (Direct Loan) Program loans made to students for attendance at your school. Your school's FY 2012 3-Year cohort default rate is shown above. Please note that even if your school is no longer participating in the student loan program(s), federal law requires the Department to notify your school of its cohort default rate.

Since the Department is no longer mailing hardcopies of the cohort default rate notification letters to any schools, please refer to <http://www.ed.gov/offices/OSFAP/defaultmanagement/ecdr.html> for a description of the other files that the Department transmitted to you along with this letter.

WHAT FORMULA DID THE DEPARTMENT USE TO CALCULATE MY SCHOOL'S RATE?

The Department uses one of three methods for calculation of cohort default rates:

1. Official non-averaged rate for schools with 30 or more borrowers entering repayment,
2. Official averaged rate for schools with 29 or fewer borrowers entering repayment,
3. Unofficial rate for schools with 29 or fewer borrowers entering repayment with less than three years of data.

For a complete explanation of the types of rates, please see Chapter 2.1 of the Cohort Default Rate Guide, How the Rates are Calculated, available at <http://www.ifap.ed.gov/DefaultManagement/guide/CDRGuidePart2.html>.

WHAT TYPES OF LOANS DID THE DEPARTMENT INCLUDE IN MY SCHOOL'S RATE CALCULATION?

The Department included three types of loans in your school's cohort default rate calculation:

- (1) Federal Stafford Subsidized and Federal Stafford Unsubsidized Loans
- (2) Federal Direct Subsidized and Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loans
- (3) Federal Supplemental Loans for Students (Federal SLS Loans). Although rare, it is possible for Federal SLS loans to be included in your school's cohort default rate calculation.

WHAT LOAN RECORD DETAIL REPORT (LRDR) ACCOMPANIES THIS NOTIFICATION LETTER?

Your school's FY 2012 3-Year official cohort default rate may be a non-averaged rate, an averaged rate, or an Unofficial rate (less than 30 borrowers entering repayment and not two years of previous data needed to calculate an averaged rate). Accordingly, the LRDR that accompanies this letter reflects all loans that went into repayment during FY 2012 and defaulted by September 30, 2014.

Please note that if a technical problem caused by the Department results in an inability to access the data, schools have five business days from the receipt of the eCDR notification package to notify Operations Performance Division at the email address given below. All schools must meet the established submission timeframes for cohort default rate adjustments and appeals. The Department will not review adjustments and appeals that any school submits outside of the established timeframes.

For more information on how to read the loan record detail report, please refer to Chapter 2.3 of the Cohort Default Rate Guide, Reviewing the Loan Record Detail Report, available at <http://www.ifap.ed.gov/DefaultManagement/guide/CDRGuidePart2.html>

ARE THERE ANY SANCTIONS OR BENEFITS ASSOCIATED WITH MY RATE?

According to the Higher Education Act of 1965 (HEA), as amended, the Higher Education Reconciliation Act of 2005 (HERA), Pub.L.109-171 and the Department's regulations, your school is not subject to any sanctions based on your school's FY 2012 3-Year cohort default rate. However, if your school's official FY 2012 cohort default rate is 30.0 percent or greater, the Department may provisionally certify your school when your school applies for recertification to participate in the Federal Student Aid Programs. For more information about provisional certification, please refer to 34 C.F.R. Section 668.16(m)(1) and (2)(i) or contact the School Participation Management Division at 202-377-3173.

WILL MY RATE BE CALCULATED THE SAME IF MY SCHOOL HAS MERGED WITH ANOTHER?

The FY 2012 3-Year cohort default rate for institutions involved in a merger or change of affiliation will be based on all borrowers from the parent and the underlying institutions which have borrowers that entered repayment during or after 2012. Please refer to Chapter 2.5 of the CDR Guide, available at <http://ifap.ed.gov/DefaultManagement/guide/attachments/CDRGuideCh2Pt5StatusEvasion.pdf>, for further information on how changes in status affects an institution's cohort default rate.

WHAT RIGHTS DOES MY SCHOOL HAVE TO APPEAL THIS RATE INFORMATION?

Based on your school's FY 2012 3- year cohort default rate, your school may be eligible to submit the following adjustments/appeals:

Uncorrected Data Adjustment

Loan Servicing Appeal

New Data Adjustment

<http://www.ifap.ed.gov/DefaultManagement/guide/CDRGuidePart4.html>

All Uncorrected Data Adjustments, New Data Adjustments and Loan Servicing must be made through the eCDR Appeals application (<https://ecdrappeals.ed.gov/ecdra/index.html>). The eCDR Appeals application, as it is known, allows schools to electronically submit certain challenge/ adjustment requests during the specified timeframes and allows data managers (guaranty agency or Federal Loan Servicer) and Federal Student Aid (FSA) personnel to electronically view and respond to these challenge/adjustment requests. The application tracks the entire life cycle of each request from the time the case is submitted until the time a decision is made and the case is closed.

It has come to FSA's attention that a number of schools are challenging data in the school's cohort default rate based on an incorrect understanding of the cohort default rate calculation. This results in an unnecessary increase in the workload for the schools, data managers, and FSA. The following are some scenarios that have been noted, along with an explanation of why these allegations are considered invalid based on the current logic for the cohort default rate calculation.

- School requests that borrower be removed from numerator as borrower defaulted, then paid the loan in full (either through consolidation or another method). Borrower will continue to be counted as a defaulted borrower for cohort default rate purposes. Current regulations only allow for a defaulted loan to be removed from default for cohort default rate purposes if the borrower successfully rehabilitated the loan within the cohort period, or, for FFELs held by a guaranty agency, if the lender repurchased the loan due to the claim being submitted or paid in error. See 34 CFR Section 668.202(c)(2).
- School alleges that borrower be removed from numerator due to an incorrect date entered repayment that is resulting in the default date for the borrower being less than 360 days from the corrected date entered repayment. This allegation type applies to Direct Loans or loans that were PUT to the Department only, since FFELs held by a guaranty agency use the claim paid date as the default date, not the 360th day of delinquency. If a data manager agrees to correct the date entered repayment, they will update the default date to the 360th day of delinquency based on the new date entered repayment. However, if the updated date entered repayment and default date still fall within the cohort period, the borrower will continue to be counted in both the numerator/denominator. If the updated date entered repayment causes the updated default date to fall outside of the cohort period, borrower will be removed from the numerator only. If the updated date entered repayment falls outside of the cohort period, borrower will be removed from both the numerator/denominator.
- Borrower is included in more than one cohort year. This may be correct, based upon the situation. If the borrower had a break in enrollment of greater than six months, then the borrower will enter repayment on the loans from the first period of enrollment six months and one day after the borrower's last date of attendance (LDA) or less than half-time date (LTHT), then will receive another six month grace period based on the LDA or LTHT date of the second period of enrollment. This may result in the borrower being included in more than one cohort year. If the borrower's break in enrollment was less than six months, this is considered continuous enrollment and the borrower should be in only one cohort year.
- School was involved in a change of affiliation/merger and has borrowers counted more than once in the cohort default rate. A borrower may be counted more than once in the school's cohort default rate if the borrower had loans certified under two or more of the OPE-IDs that were involved in the change of affiliation/merger. Please see page 2.5-2 of the CDR Guide.

If a school has any questions regarding the cohort default rate calculation, Chapter 2.1 of the CDR Guide includes a thorough explanation of how the rates are calculated. Additionally, a school involved in a change of affiliation/merger should read Chapter 2.5 of the CDR Guide for an explanation of how the change of affiliation/merger will affect the cohort default rates of all of the schools involved.

RE: FY 2011 3-Year Official Cohort Default Rate Notification Letter

Dear President:

On October 28, 2009, the U.S. Department of Education (Department) published in the Federal Register the regulations enacted by the Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2009 that will govern the calculation of cohort default rates. Under the new provisions, an institution's Cohort Default Rate is calculated as the percentage of borrowers in the cohort who default before the end of the second fiscal year following the fiscal year in which the borrowers entered repayment. This extended the length of time in which a student can default from two to three years.

This year, the fiscal year (FY) 2011 3-Year cohort default rate will be the only cohort default rate released. Schools will be subject to loss of eligibility as a result of cohort default rates that exceed sanction levels. Cohort default rates based on the 2-year cohort period ended with the FY 2011 2-Year cohort which released in 2013.

This letter officially notifies you of your school's FY 2011 3-Year cohort default rate based on Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) Program and/or William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan (Direct Loan) Program loans made to students for attendance at your school. Your school's FY 2011 3-Year cohort default rate is shown above. Please note that even if your school is no longer participating in the student loan program(s), federal law requires the Department to notify your school of its cohort default rate.

Since the Department is no longer mailing hardcopies of the cohort default rate notification letters to any schools, please refer to <http://www.ed.gov/offices/OSFAP/defaultmanagement/ecdr.html> for a description of the other files that the Department transmitted to you along with this letter.

WHAT FORMULA DID THE DEPARTMENT USE TO CALCULATE MY SCHOOL'S RATE?

The Department uses one of three methods for calculation of cohort default rates:

1. Official non-averaged rate for schools with 30 or more borrowers

- entering repayment,
2. Official averaged rate for schools with 29 or fewer borrowers entering repayment,
 3. Unofficial rate for schools with 29 or fewer borrowers entering repayment with less than three years of data.

For a complete explanation of the types of rates, please see Chapter 2.1 of the Cohort Default Rate Guide, How the Rates are Calculated, available at <http://www.ifap.ed.gov/DefaultManagement/guide/CDRGuidePart2.html>.

WHAT TYPES OF LOANS DID THE DEPARTMENT INCLUDE IN MY SCHOOL'S RATE CALCULATION?

The Department included three types of loans in your school's cohort default rate calculation:

- 1) Federal Stafford Subsidized and Federal Stafford Unsubsidized Loans
- 2) Federal Direct Subsidized and Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loans
- 3) Federal Supplemental Loans for Students (Federal SLS Loans).
Although rare, it is possible for Federal SLS loans to be included in your school's cohort default rate calculation.

WHAT LOAN RECORD DETAIL REPORT (LRDR) ACCOMPANIES THIS NOTIFICATION LETTER?

Your school's FY 2011 3-Year official cohort default rate may be a non-averaged rate, an averaged rate, or an Unofficial rate (less than 30 borrowers entering repayment and not two years of previous data needed to calculate an averaged rate). Accordingly, the LRDR that accompanies this letter reflects all loans that went into repayment during FY 2011 and defaulted by September 30, 2013

Please note that if a technical problem caused by the Department results in an inability to access the data, schools have five business days from the receipt of the eCDR notification package to notify Operations Performance Division at the email address given below. All schools must meet the established submission timeframes for cohort default rate adjustments and appeals. The Department will not review adjustments and appeals that any school submits outside of the established timeframes.

For more information on how to read the loan record detail report, please refer to Chapter 2.3 of the Cohort Default Rate Guide, Reviewing the Loan Record Detail Report, available at <http://www.ifap.ed.gov/DefaultManagement/guide/CDRGuidePart2.html>

ARE THERE ANY SANCTIONS OR BENEFITS ASSOCIATED WITH MY RATE?

According to the Higher Education Act of 1965 (HEA), as amended, the Higher Education Reconciliation Act of 2005 (HERA), Pub.L.109-171 and the Department's regulations, your school is not subject to any sanctions based on your school's FY 2011 3-Year cohort default rate. However, if your school's official FY 2011 cohort default rate is 30.0 percent or greater, the Department may provisionally certify your school when your school applies for recertification to participate in the Federal Student Aid Programs. For more information about provisional certification, please refer to 34 C.F.R. Section 668.16(m)(1) and (2)(i) or contact the School Participation Management Division at 202-377-3173.

WHAT BENEFITS ARE ASSOCIATED WITH MY RATES

Institutions with a cohort default rate of less than 15.0 percent for each of the three most recent fiscal years for which data are available, including eligible foreign institutions, may disburse, in a single installment, loans that are made for one semester, one trimester, one quarter, or a four-month period. Such an institution is also no longer required to delay the delivery or disbursement of the first disbursement of a loan for 30 days for first-time, first-year undergraduate borrowers. Once your school receives notice from the Department that your school's official cohort default rate is 15.0 percent or greater, this benefit will end within 30 calendar days of the notification.

Additionally, if your school's recent official cohort default rate is less than 5.0 percent and if your school is an eligible home institution that certifies/originates a loan to cover the cost of attendance in a study abroad program, your school may disburse/deliver loan proceeds in a single installment and may choose to release loan proceeds to first-year, first-time borrowers prior to 30 calendar days after the first day of the borrower's program of study. Once your school receives notice from the Department that your school's official cohort default rate is 5.0 percent or greater, this benefit will end within 30 calendar days of the notification.

For more information on the sanctions and the benefits associated with official cohort default rates, please refer to Chapter 2.4 of the Cohort Default Rate Guide, Cohort Default Rate Effects, available at <http://ifap.ed.gov/DefaultManagement/guide/04CDRGuidePart2.html>.

WILL MY RATE BE CALCULATED THE SAME IF MY SCHOOL HAS MERGED WITH ANOTHER?

The FY 2011 3-Year cohort default rate for institutions involved in a merger or change of affiliation will be based on all borrowers from the parent and the underlying institutions which have borrowers that entered repayment during or after 2011.

WHAT RIGHTS DOES MY SCHOOL HAVE TO APPEAL THIS RATE INFORMATION?

Based on your school's FY 2011 3- year cohort default rate, your school may be eligible to submit the following adjustments/appeals:

Uncorrected Data Adjustment

Loan Servicing Appeal

New Data Adjustment

<http://www.ifap.ed.gov/DefaultManagement/guide/CDRGuidePart4.html>

All Uncorrected Data Adjustments, New Data Adjustments and Loan Servicing Appeals must be made through the eCDR Appeals application. The eCDR Appeals application, as it is known, allows schools to electronically submit certain challenge/ adjustment requests during the specified timeframes and allows data managers (guaranty agency or Federal Loan Servicer) and Federal Student Aid (FSA) personnel to electronically view and respond to these challenge/adjustment requests. The application tracks the entire life cycle of each request from the time the case is submitted until the time a decision is made and the case is closed.

It has come to FSA's attention that a number of schools are challenging data in the school's cohort default rate based on an incorrect understanding of the cohort default rate calculation. This results in an unnecessary increase in the workload for the schools, data managers, and FSA. The following are some scenarios that have been noted, along with an explanation of why these allegations are considered invalid based on the current logic for the cohort default rate calculation.

- School requests that borrower be removed from numerator as borrower defaulted, then paid the loan in full (either through consolidation or another method). Borrower will continue to be counted as a defaulted borrower for cohort default rate purposes. Current regulations only allow for a defaulted loan to be removed from default for cohort default rate purposes if the borrower successfully rehabilitated the loan within the cohort period, or, for FFELs held by a guaranty agency, if the lender repurchased the loan due to the claim being submitted or paid in error. See 34 CFR Section 668.202(c)(2).
- School alleges that borrower be removed from numerator due to an incorrect date entered repayment that is resulting in the default date for the borrower being less than 360 days from the corrected date entered repayment. This allegation type applies to Direct Loans or loans that were PUT to the Department only, since FFELs held by a guaranty agency use the claim paid date as the default date, not the 360th day of delinquency. If a data manager agrees to correct the date entered repayment, they will update the default date to the 360th day of delinquency based on the new date entered repayment. However, if the updated date entered repayment and default date still fall within the cohort period, the borrower will continue to be counted in both the numerator/denominator. If the updated date entered repayment causes the updated default date to fall outside of the cohort period, borrower will be removed from the numerator only. If the updated date entered repayment falls outside of the cohort period, borrower will be removed from both the numerator/denominator.
- Borrower is included in more than one cohort year. This may be correct, based upon the situation. If the borrower had a break in enrollment of greater than six months, then the borrower will enter repayment on the loans from the first period of enrollment six months and one day after the borrower's last date of attendance (LDA) or less than half-time date (LTHT), then will receive another six month grace period based on the LDA or LTHT date of the second period of enrollment. This may result in the borrower being included in more than one cohort year. If the borrower's break in enrollment was less than six months, this is considered continuous enrollment and the borrower should be in only one cohort year.

- School was involved in a change of affiliation/merger and has borrowers counted more than once in the cohort default rate. A borrower may be counted more than once in the school's cohort default rate if the borrower had loans certified under two or more of the OPE-IDs that were involved in the change of affiliation/merger. Please see page 2.5-2 of the CDR Guide.

If a school has any questions regarding the cohort default rate calculation, Chapter 2.1 of the CDR Guide includes a thorough explanation of how the rates are calculated. Additionally, a school involved in a change of affiliation/merger should read Chapter 2.5 of the CDR Guide for an explanation of how the change of affiliation/merger will affect the cohort default rates of all of the schools involved.

RE: FY 2010 3-Year Official Cohort Default Rate Notification Letter

Dear President:

On October 28, 2009, the U.S. Department of Education (Department) published in the Federal Register the regulations enacted by the Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2009 that will govern the calculation of cohort default rates. Under the new provisions, an institution's Cohort Default Rate is calculated as the percentage of borrowers in the cohort who default before the end of the second fiscal year following the fiscal year in which the borrowers entered repayment. This extends the length of time in which a student can default from two to three years.

Beginning with the fiscal year (FY) 2009 cohort year, schools received both a two and three year cohort default rate. Schools will also receive a two and three year cohort default rate this year. It is important to note that this year is the last year that two year cohort default rates will be released. Next year in 2014, the FY 2011 3-Year cohort default rate will be the only cohort default rate released.

This letter officially notifies you of your school's fiscal year (FY) 2010 3-Year cohort default rate based on Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) Program and/or William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan (Direct Loan) Program loans made to students for attendance at your school. Your school's FY 2010 3-Year cohort default rate is shown above. Please note that even if your school is no longer participating in the student loan program(s), federal law requires the Department to notify your school of its cohort default rate.

Since the Department is no longer mailing hardcopies of the cohort default rate notification letters to any schools, please refer to <http://www.ed.gov/offices/OSFAP/defaultmanagement/ecdr.html> for a description of the other files that the Department transmitted to you along with this letter.

WHAT FORMULA DID THE DEPARTMENT USE TO CALCULATE MY SCHOOL'S RATE?

The Department uses one of two methods for calculation of cohort default rates:

1. Official non-average rate for schools with 30 or more borrowers entering repayment,
2. Unofficial rate for schools with 29 or fewer borrowers entering repayment with less than three years of data.

For a complete explanation of the types of rates, please see Chapter 2.1 of the Cohort Default Rate Guide, How the Rates are Calculated, available at <http://www.ifap.ed.gov/DefaultManagement/guide/CDRGuidePart2.html>.

WHAT TYPES OF LOANS DID THE DEPARTMENT INCLUDE IN MY SCHOOL'S RATE CALCULATION?

The Department included three types of loans in your school's cohort default rate calculation:

- 1) Federal Stafford Subsidized and Federal Stafford Unsubsidized Loans
- 2) Federal Direct Subsidized and Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loans
- 3) Federal Supplemental Loans for Students (Federal SLS Loans). Although rare, it is possible for Federal SLS loans to be included in your school's cohort default rate calculation.

WHAT LOAN RECORD DETAIL REPORT (LRDR) ACCOMPANIES THIS NOTIFICATION LETTER?

Your school's FY 2010 3-Year official cohort default rate may be a non-averaged rate, or an Unofficial rate (less than 30 borrowers entering repayment). Accordingly, the LRDR that accompanies this letter reflects all loans that went into repayment during FY 2010 and defaulted by September 30, 2012.

Please note that if a technical problem caused by the Department results in an inability to access the data, schools have five business days from the receipt of the eCDR notification package to notify Operations Performance Division at the email address given below. All schools must meet the established submission timeframes for cohort default rate adjustments and appeals. The Department will not review adjustments and appeals that any school submits outside of the established timeframes.

For more information on how to read the loan record detail report, please refer to Chapter 2.3 of the Cohort Default Rate Guide, Reviewing the Loan Record Detail Report, available at <http://www.ifap.ed.gov/DefaultManagement/guide/CDRGuidePart2.html>

ARE THERE ANY SANCTIONS OR BENEFITS ASSOCIATED WITH MY RATE?

There will be no sanctions associated with your school's 3-year cohort default rate until three years of 3-Year cohort default rates have been collected. This means that the first year that a school will be subject to loss of eligibility is fiscal year 2011 which will be released in 2014.

However, if your school's FY 2010 3-Year cohort default rate is equal to or greater than 30 percent you must establish a default prevention task force that prepares a plan to identify the factors causing your cohort default rate to exceed 30 percent and submit to the Department for review.

WILL MY RATE BE CALCULATED THE SAME IF MY SCHOOL HAS MERGED WITH ANOTHER?

The FY 2010 3-Year cohort default rate for institutions involved in a merger or change of affiliation will be based on all borrowers from the parent and the underlying institutions which have borrowers that entered repayment in FY 2010 (October 1,2009 - September 30,2010).

WHAT RIGHTS DOES MY SCHOOL HAVE TO APPEAL THIS RATE INFORMATION?

Based on your school's FY 2010 three year cohort default rate, your school may be eligible to submit the following adjustments/appeals:

Uncorrected Data Adjustment

Loan Servicing Appeal

New Data Adjustment

All Uncorrected Data Adjustments and New Data Adjustments must be made through the eCDR Appeals application. Unless other instructions have been provided via an IFAP announcement, the Loan Servicing Appeal will continue to be submitted via hard copy. The eCDR Appeals application, as it is known, allows schools to electronically submit certain challenge/adjustment requests during the specified timeframes and allows data managers (guaranty agency or Federal Loan Servicer) and Federal Student Aid (FSA) personnel to electronically view and respond to these challenge/adjustment requests. The application tracks the entire life cycle of each request from the time the case is submitted until the time a decision is made and the case is closed.

It has come to FSA's attention that a number of schools are challenging data in the school's cohort default rate based on an incorrect understanding of the cohort default rate calculation. This results in an unnecessary increase in the workload for the schools, data managers, and FSA. The following are some scenarios that have been noted, along with an explanation of why these allegations are considered invalid based on the current logic for the cohort default rate calculation.

1. School requests that borrower be removed from numerator as borrower defaulted, then paid the loan in full (either through consolidation or another method). Borrower will continue to be counted as a defaulted borrower for cohort default rate purposes. Current regulations only allow for a defaulted loan to be removed from default for cohort default rate purposes if the borrower successfully rehabilitated the loan within the cohort period, or, for FFELs held by a guaranty agency, if the lender repurchased the loan due to the claim being submitted or paid in error. See 34 CFR Sections 668.183(c)(2) and 668.202(c)(2).

2.School alleges that borrower be removed from numerator due to an incorrect date entered repayment that is resulting in the default date for the borrower being less than 360 days from the corrected date entered repayment. This allegation type applies to Direct Loans or loans that were PUT to the Department only, since FFELs held by a guaranty agency use the claim paid date as the default date, not the 360th day of delinquency. If a data manager agrees to correct the date entered repayment, they will update the default date to the 360th day of delinquency based on the new date entered repayment. However, if the updated date entered repayment and default date still fall within the cohort period, the borrower will continue to be counted in both the numerator/denominator. If the updated date entered repayment causes the updated default date to fall outside of the cohort period, borrower will be removed from the numerator only. If the updated date entered repayment falls outside of the cohort period, borrower will be removed from both the numerator/denominator.

3.Borrower is included in more than one cohort year. This may be correct, based upon the situation. If the borrower had a break in enrollment of greater than six months, then the borrower will enter repayment on the loans from the first period of enrollment six months and one day after the borrower's last date of attendance (LDA) or less than half-time date (LTHT), then will receive another six month grace period based on the LDA or LTHT date of the second period of enrollment. This may result in the borrower being included in more than one cohort year. If the borrower's break in enrollment was less than six months, this is considered continuous enrollment and the borrower should be in only one cohort year.

4.School was involved in a change of affiliation/merger and has borrowers counted more than once in the cohort default rate. A borrower may be counted more than once in the school's cohort default rate if the borrower had loans certified under two or more of the OPE-IDs that were involved in the change of affiliation/merger. Please see page 2.5-2 of the CDR Guide.

If a school has any questions regarding the cohort default rate calculation, Chapter 2.1 of the CDR Guide includes a thorough explanation of how the rates are calculated. Additionally, a school involved in a change of affiliation/merger should read Chapter 2.5 of the CDR Guide for an explanation of how the change of affiliation/merger will affect the cohort default rates of all of the schools involved.

eCDR Appeals facilitates the exchange of information between parties for three of the challenge/adjustment processes: Incorrect Data Challenge (IDC), Uncorrected Data Adjustments (UDA), and New Data Adjustments (NDA). The application allows schools to electronically submit these challenges and adjustment requests during a cohort default rate cycle, and allows data managers (guaranty agency or Direct Loan Servicer) and Federal Student Aid (FSA) personnel to electronically view and respond to challenges and adjustment requests. The application tracks the entire life cycle of each challenge/adjustment request from the time the case is submitted until the time a decision is made and the case is closed.

Independent Auditors' Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting and on
• Compliance and Other Matters Based on an Audit of Financial Statements
Performed in Accordance with *Government Auditing Standards

The Board of Trustees
University of Delaware:

We have audited, in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the consolidated financial statements of the University of Delaware (the University), which comprise the consolidated balance sheet as of June 30, 2015, and the related consolidated statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements, and have issued our report thereon dated October 22, 2015.

Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the consolidated financial statements, we considered the University's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) to determine the audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the consolidated financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's consolidated financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of the internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. Given these limitations, during our audit, we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the University's consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Purpose of this Report

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the University's internal control and compliance. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.

Independent Auditors' Report on Compliance for Each Major Program; Report on Internal Control over Compliance; and Report on Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards Required by OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations

University of Delaware:

Report on Compliance for Each Major Federal Program

We have audited the University of Delaware's (the University) compliance with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that could have a direct and material effect on each of the University's major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2015. The University's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditors' results section of the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs.

Management's Responsibility

Management is responsible for compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its federal programs.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on compliance for each of the University's major federal programs based on our audit of the types of compliance requirements referred to above. We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the University's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion on compliance for each major federal program. However, our audit does not provide a legal determination of the University's compliance.

Opinion on Each Major Federal Program

In our opinion, the University of Delaware complied, in all material respects, with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on each of its major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2015.

Other Matters

The results of our auditing procedures disclosed instances of noncompliance, which are required to be reported in accordance with OMB Circular A-133 and which are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as item 2015-001. Our opinion on each major federal program is not modified with respect to this matter.

The University's response to the noncompliance finding identified in our audit is described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. The University's response was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of compliance and, accordingly, we express no opinion on the response.

Report on Internal Control over Compliance

Management of the University is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above. In planning and performing our audit over compliance, we considered the University's internal control over compliance with the types of requirements that could have a direct and material effect on each major federal program to determine the auditing procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance for each major federal program and to test and report on internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control over compliance.

A deficiency in internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control over compliance does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program on a timely basis. A material weakness in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance, such that there is a reasonable possibility that material noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program that is less severe than a material weakness in internal control over compliance, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control over compliance was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over compliance that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies and therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we identified a deficiency in internal control over compliance, as described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as item 2015-001, which we consider to be a significant deficiency.

The University's response to the internal control over compliance finding identified in our audit is described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. The University's response was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of compliance and, accordingly, we express no opinion on the response.

The purpose of this report on internal control over compliance is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over compliance and the results of that testing based on the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. Accordingly, this report is not suitable for any other purpose.

Report on Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards Required by OMB Circular A-133

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of the University as of and for the year ended June 30, 2015, and have issued our report thereon dated October 22, 2015, which contained an unmodified opinion on those consolidated financial statements. Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements as a whole. The accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by OMB Circular A-133 and is not a required part of the consolidated financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the consolidated financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements or to the consolidated financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the schedule of expenditures of federal awards is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the consolidated financial statements as a whole.

Compliance Requirement: Cash Management

Criteria

Per OMB Circular A-110, section __.22 (b), (k) and (l), recipients may be paid in advance, provided they maintain or demonstrate the willingness to maintain:

1. written procedures that minimize the time elapsing between transfer of funds and disbursement by the recipient, and
2. financial management systems that meet the standards for fund control and accountability as established in section __.21.

Cash advances to a recipient organization shall be limited to the minimum amounts needed and be timed to be in accordance with the actual, immediate cash requirement of the recipient organization in carrying out the purpose of the approved program or project. The timing and amount of cash advances shall be as close as is administratively feasible to the actual disbursements by the recipient organization for direct program or project costs and the proportionate share of any allowable indirect costs.

Condition

The majority of federal awards received by the University are managed on a cost reimbursement basis funded by letters of credit. Reimbursement requests are submitted on a monthly basis for all expense transactions recorded in the general ledger. For certain transactions that have been posted to the general ledger on the basis of a goods receipt, for which there is no corresponding invoice received, the request for funding can result in a cash drawdown request in advance of cash expenditure by the University.

The University's federal funding, under the research and development cluster, of $115,000,000 includes approximately 5% in transactions acquired under a purchase order for which there is a risk that funds were requested prior to receipt and payment of an invoice.

In a sample of 64 purchase order transactions totaling $716,000 included in the draw requests reviewed for the research and development cluster, we noted 2 items totaling $75,000 were not paid until after the draw request was made and received. The 2 items were paid by the University an average of 23 days after funds were received.

No additional monitoring of the cash draw versus expenditure payment was performed.

Cause

Expense is recognized for good purchases using a purchase order when the goods are marked as received in the system. As the University prepares its drawdowns based on certain expenses recorded in the system, requests for reimbursement can be made prior to payment for such items by the University.

UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE
Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs
Year ended June 30, 2015

Effect

Without an effective monitoring control over cash draws versus cash payment, the University could draw reimbursement too soon and owe interest to the federal government.

Questioned Costs

There are no questioned costs related to this finding.

Recommendation

We recommend the University to enhance its current policies and procedures and review process over cash management as they pertain to drawdown requests to ensure cash drawdown is only for immediate cash needs.

The University should enhance its current policies and procedures and review process over cash management as they pertain to drawdown requests to ensure cash drawdown is only for immediate cash needs.

University of Delaware Corrective Action Plan:

The University agrees to further strengthen its internal controls by amending its payment procedures over subcontracts and equipment purchases under federal awards so that amounts are paid immediately when processed and submitted for payment to the University Accounts Payable Department. This will ensure that all these types of invoices are paid prior to any requests for draw-downs for federal awards are made. In addition, the University will prepare a semi-annual analysis of differences between the dates subcontractor and equipment purchases invoices were posted versus paid for all federal awards; this report will be reviewed by the Controller and Associate Deputy Provost, Research Administration.

Independent Auditors' Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting and on Compliance and Other Matters Based on an Audit of Financial Statements
Performed in Accordance With *Government Auditing Standards

The Board of Trustees
University of Delaware:

We have audited, in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the consolidated financial statements of the University of Delaware (the University), which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as of June 30, 2014, and the related consolidated statements of activities, expenses by natural classification, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements, and have issued our report thereon dated October 15, 2014, except note 21, for which the date is March 27, 2015.

Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the consolidated financial statements, we considered the University's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) to determine the audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the consolidated financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control over financial reporting exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's consolidated financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of the internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the University's consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Purpose of this Report

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the University's internal control and compliance. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.

Independent Auditors' Report on Compliance for Each Major Program; Report on Internal Control over Compliance; and Report on Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards Required by OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations

University of Delaware:

Report on Compliance for Each Major Federal Program

We have audited the University of Delaware (the University)'s compliance with the types of compliance requirements described in the OMB Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement (the Compliance Supplement) that could have a direct and material effect on each of the University's major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2014. The University's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditors' results section of the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs.

Management's Responsibility

Management is responsible for compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its federal programs.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on compliance for the University's major federal programs based on our audit of the types of compliance requirements referred to above. We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the University's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion on compliance for each major federal program. However, our audit does not provide a legal determination of the University's compliance.

Opinion on Each Major Federal Program

In our opinion, the University of Delaware complied, in all material respects, with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on each of its major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2014.

Other Matters

The results of our auditing procedures disclosed instances of noncompliance, which are required to be reported in accordance with OMB Circular A-133 and which are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as items 2014-001 and 2014-002. Our opinion on each major federal program is not modified with respect to these matters.

The University's responses to the noncompliance findings identified in our audit are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. The University's responses were not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of compliance and, accordingly, we express no opinion on the responses.

Report on Internal Control over Compliance

Management of the University is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above. In planning and performing our audits over compliance, we considered the University's internal control over compliance with the types of requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program to determine the auditing procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance for the major federal programs and to test and report on internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control over compliance.

A deficiency in internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control over compliance does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program on a timely basis. A material weakness in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance, such that there is a reasonable possibility that material noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program that is less severe than a material weakness in internal control over compliance, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control over compliance was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over compliance that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies and therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we identified certain deficiencies in internal control over compliance, as described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as items 2014-001 and 2014-002, that we consider to be significant deficiencies.

The University's responses to the internal control over compliance findings identified in our audit are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. The University's responses were not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of compliance and, accordingly, we express no opinion on the responses.

The purpose of this report on internal control over compliance is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over compliance and the results of that testing based on the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. Accordingly, this report is not suitable for any other purpose.

Report on Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards Required by OMB Circular A-133

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of the University as of and for the year ended June 30, 2014, and have issued our report thereon dated October 15, 2014, except note 21, for which the date is March 27, 2015, which contained an unmodified opinion on those consolidated financial statements. Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements as a whole. The accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by OMB Circular A-133 and is not a required part of the consolidated financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the consolidated financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements or to the consolidated financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the schedule of expenditure of federal awards is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the consolidated financial statements as a whole.

Compliance Requirement: Enrollment Reporting

Criteria

Institutions must complete and return within 30 days the Enrollment Reporting roster file [formerly the Student Status Confirmation Report (SSCR)] placed in their Student Aid Internet Gateway (SAIG) mailboxes sent by the Department of Education (ED) via the National Student Loan Data Service (NSLDS). The institution determines how often it receives the Enrollment Reporting roster file with the default set at every 2 months, but the minimum is twice a year. Once received, the institution must update for changes in student status, report the date the enrollment status was effective, enter the new anticipated completion date, and submit the changes electronically through the batch method or the NSLDS website. Institutions are responsible for timely reporting, whether they report directly or via a third-party servicer.

A student's enrollment status determines eligibility for in-school status, deferment, and grace periods, as well as for the payment of interest subsidies to FFEL Program loan holders by ED. Enrollment Reporting in a timely and accurate manner is critical for effective management of the programs. Enrollment information must be reported within 30 days whenever attendance changes for students, unless a roster will be submitted within 60 days. These changes include reductions or increases in attendance levels, withdrawals, graduations, or approved leaves-of-absence. As explained in the NSLDS Enrollment Reporting Guide, the Enrollment Reporting roster file is due within 30 days from the creation of the file that is placed in the institution's SAIG (Pell, 34 CFR Section 690.83(b)(2); FFEL, 34 CFR Section 682.610; Direct Loan, 34 CFR Section 685.309).

Condition

During the current year audit, KPMG identified four (4) instances out of the sample of 40 students' status changes that were not reported to the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS) within the required 60 day period. The four (4) instances were reported between 72 and 79 days after the date the University became aware of the change.

Questioned Costs

Questioned costs related to this finding are not readily determinable.

UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE
Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs
Year ended June 30, 2014

Cause

The University entered into an agreement with the National Student Loan Clearinghouse (NSLC) in reporting student status changes to NSLDS. On a periodic basis, the status of all students is reported by the University to the NSLC, which in return reports any changes in student status from the prior report to the NSLDS.

For one (1) of the four (4) instances identified, the status change had occurred in a month for which the NSLC had experienced issues with their transmissions of data files to the NSLDS. For the other three (3) instances, the University had reported the status changes to the NSLC between 7 and 19 days after the effective date of the changes, however, the submissions from the NSLC to the NSLDS did not occur until after the required 60 day timeframe.

Effect

Inaccurate or late enrollment reporting may result in students' loans not entering repayment timely.

Recommendation

We recommend the University continue to develop and implement its policies and procedures to reasonably ensure the accuracy and timeliness of the NSLC's reporting of student data to the NSLDS.

Compliance Requirement: Reporting (Federal Funding and Accountability Transparency Act)

Criteria

Grant and cooperative agreement recipients and contractors are required by 2 CFR Part 170 to register in the Federal Funding Accountability and Transparency Act (FFATA) Subaward Reporting System (FSRS) and report subaward data through FSRS no later than the last day of the month following the month in which the subaward/subaward amendment obligation was made or the subcontract award/subcontract modification was made for federal awards obligated after October 1, 2010.

Condition

For the 8 subawards subject to reporting under FFATA from our representative sample of 25 federal awards, the following were noted:

- For 3 of the 8 subawards (for federal award #1U54GM104941-01A1 awarded under CFDA 93.859), the University did not properly submit the FFATA report in FSRS. The total amount of these subawards was $2,643,912.
- For 1 of the 8 subawards (for federal award #1252876 awarded under CFDA 47.075), the University incorrectly reported the subaward amount. The amount reported in the FFATA submission was $2,662,691, which did not agree to the supporting subaward documentation, which reflected $266,691, for a difference of $2,396,000.
- For 1 of the 8 subawards (for federal award #2011-67003-30342 awarded under CFDA 10.310), the University did not properly submit the FFATA report in FSRS related to a subaward amendment. The total amount of the subaward amendment was $101,826.

UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE
Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs
Year ended June 30, 2014

Questioned Costs

There are no questioned costs related to this finding.

Cause

The University does not have a management review control in place to ensure that all subaward obligations meeting the FFATA reporting thresholds are properly completed or to ensure that FFATA reports are accurate prior to submission through FSRS.

Effect

The University did not accurately report the required subaward data in FSRS for certain subawards subject to FFATA reporting, resulting in such information not being available to the public as intended by FFATA.

Recommendation

We recommend that the University implement policies and procedures to ensure timely and accurate FFATA reporting.

Finding 2014-001: Enrollment Reporting

Recommendation:

We recommend the University continue to develop and implement its policies and procedures to reasonably ensure the accuracy and timeliness of the NSLC's reporting of student data to the NSLDS.

University of Delaware Corrective Action Plan:

The University utilizes the National Student Loan Clearinghouse (NSLC) to report student status changes to the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS). The University reports changes to the NSLC on a monthly basis. In one instance, the University uploaded two files to the NSLC on the same day, but only one was processed by the NSLC. The University is now ensuring that only one file is uploaded to the NSLC per day.

A second instance, as noted in the Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs, occurred in a month for which the NSLC had experienced issues with its transmissions of data files to the NSLDS. In the two remaining instances, the status changes had no effect on their loan status and the students were not requested by NSLDS on the Enrollment Reporting roster sent to the NSLC for confirmation.

The University will work with the NSLC and NSLDS to develop and implement procedures to ensure compliance in enrollment reporting is met.

Completion Date:

To be implemented by July 2015.

Recommendation:

We recommend that the University implement policies and procedures to ensure timely and accurate FFATA reporting.

University of Delaware Corrective Action Plan:

In order to ensure timely and accurate FFATA reporting, each month the Assistant Director of Pre-Award will review a sample of executed subaward agreements prior to submitting the University of Delaware's FFATA report via Federal Subaward Reporting System (FSRS). Additionally, the University will use its PeopleSoft financial system to create a report that will aid in reconciling data in PeopleSoft financials and FSRS.

Independent Auditors' Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting and on Compliance and Other Matters Based on an Audit of Financial Statements

The Board of Trustees
University of Delaware:

We have audited, in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the consolidated financial statements of the University of Delaware (the University), which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as of June 30, 2013, and the related consolidated statements of activities, expenses by natural classification, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements, and have issued our report thereon dated October 28, 2013.

Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the consolidated financial statements, we considered the University's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) to determine the audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the consolidated financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control over financial reporting exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's consolidated financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of the internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the University's consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Purpose of this Report

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the University's internal control and compliance. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.

Independent Auditors' Report on Compliance for Each Major Program; Report on Internal Control over Compliance; and Report on Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards Required by OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations

University of Delaware:

Report on Compliance for Each Major Federal Program

We have audited the University of Delaware (the University)'s compliance with the types of compliance requirements described in the OMB Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement (the Compliance Supplement) that could have a direct and material effect on each of the University's major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2013. The University's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditors' results section of the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs.

Management's Responsibility

Management is responsible for compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its federal programs.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on compliance for the University's major federal programs based on our audit of the types of compliance requirements referred to above. We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the University's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion on compliance for each major federal program. However, our audit does not provide a legal determination of the University's compliance.

Opinion on Each Major Federal Program

In our opinion, the University of Delaware complied, in all material respects, with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on each of its major Federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2013.

Other Matters

The results of our auditing procedures disclosed instances of noncompliance, which are required to be reported in accordance with OMB Circular A-133 and which are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as items 2013-001, 2013-002 and 2013-003. Our opinion on each major federal program is not modified with respect to these matters.

The University's responses to the noncompliance findings identified in our audit are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. The University's responses were not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of compliance and, accordingly, we express no opinion on the responses.

Report on Internal Control over Compliance

Management of the University is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above. In planning and performing our audits over compliance, we considered the University's internal control over compliance with the types of requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program to determine the auditing procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance for the major federal programs and to test and report on internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control over compliance.

A deficiency in internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control over compliance does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program on a timely basis. A material weakness in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance, such that there is a reasonable possibility that material noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program that is less severe than a material weakness in internal control over compliance, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control over compliance was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over compliance that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be a material weakness. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified. We identified certain deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be significant deficiencies as described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as items 2013-001, 2013-002 and 2013-003 that we consider to be significant deficiencies.

The University's responses to the internal control over compliance findings identified in our audit are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. The University's responses were not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of compliance and, accordingly, we express no opinion on the responses.

The purpose of this report on internal control over compliance is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over compliance and the results of that testing based on the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. Accordingly, this report is not suitable for any other purpose.

Report on Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards Required by OMB Circular A-133

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of the University as of and for the year ended June 30, 2013, and have issued our report thereon dated October 28, 2013 which contained an unmodified opinion on those consolidated financial statements. Our audit was performed for the purpose of forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements as a whole. We have not performed any procedures with respect to the audited consolidated financial statements subsequent to October 28, 2013. The accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by OMB Circular A-133 and is not a required part of the consolidated financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the consolidated financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements or to the consolidated financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the schedule of expenditure of federal awards is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the consolidated financial statements as a whole.

UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE

Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs

Year ended June 30, 2013

Reference Number: 2013-001
Federal Agency: U.S. Department of Education
Program Name (CFDA #): Student Financial Assistance Cluster: Federal Pell Grant Program (CFDA No. 84.063)
Federal Award Year: July 1, 2012 to June 30, 2013
Federal Award Number: P063P110066
Compliance Requirement: Reporting

Criteria

In accordance with 34 CFR Section 690.83, all schools receiving Pell grants submit Pell payment data to the Department through the Common Origination and Disbursement (COD) System (OMB No. 1845-0039). Institutions must report student payment data within 30 calendar days after the school makes a payment; or becomes aware of the need to make an adjustment to previously reported student payment data or expected student payment data. Schools may do this by reporting once every 30 calendar days, bi-weekly, weekly or may set up their own system to ensure that changes are reported in a timely manner.

Condition

KPMG notes that the University of Delaware did not submit Pell payment data to the COD within 30 calendar days for two (2) students (whose Pell disbursements totaled $4,675) for the Spring 2013 semester. Our sample consisted of Pell disbursements during the year ended June 30, 2013 for 40 students totaling $198,700.

Questioned Costs

There were no questioned costs related to this finding.

Cause

As part of the University's adoption of a new 15-day reporting policy for Federal Pell effective April 1, 2013, the University implemented a weekly reconciliation instead of a monthly reconciliation of financial disbursements to ascertain timely submission of disbursement to COD. In connection with the implementation, the University made system changes within their PeopleSoft system to transition to the new reconciliation process. However, during this process, these 2 students' Pell disbursements were inadvertently excluded in the PeopleSoft reporting.

Effect

If a student's Pell disbursement is not properly reported to the COD in a timely manner, the student may appear eligible for additional Pell and ultimately be overawarded, especially if the student transfers to another institution mid-year.

Recommendation

We recommend the University continue to monitor its new process to reconcile the data submitted to the COD to University records at the individual student level to ensure the disbursements are properly reported to the COD at least every 30 calendar days.

Reference Number:	2013-002
Federal Agency:	U.S. Department of Education
Program Name (CFDA #):	Student Financial Aid Cluster: Direct Loans (CFDA No. 84.268)
Federal Award Year:	July 1, 2012 to June 30, 2013
Federal Award Number:	P268K120066
Compliance Requirement:	Disbursements To or On Behalf of Students

Criteria

The institution must notify the student, or parent in writing of (1) the date and amount of the disbursement, and (2) the student's right, or parent's right to cancel all or a portion of that loan or loan disbursement and have the loan proceeds returned to the holder of that loan or the TEACH Grant payments returned to ED; and (3) the procedure and time by which the student or parent must notify the institution that he or she wishes to cancel the loan, TEACH Grant, or TEACH Grant disbursement. The notification requirement for loan funds applies only if the funds are disbursed by EFT payment or master check (34 CFR section 668.165). Institutions that implement an affirmative confirmation process (as described in 34 CFR section 668.165 (a)(6)(i)) must make this notification to the student or parent no earlier than 30 days before, and no later than 30 days after, crediting the student's account at the institution with Direct Loan, FPL funds, or TEACH Grants. Institutions that do not implement an affirmative confirmation process must notify a student no earlier than 30 days before, but no later than 7 days after, crediting the student's account and must give the student 30 days (instead of 14) to cancel all or part of the loan.

Condition

The University does not have an affirmative confirmation response process in notifying their students, thereby requiring them to notify their students within 30 days before or 7 days after crediting the student's account. KPMG notes for 36 out of the sample of 40 students selected, the University notified the students 8 days after crediting the students' account, which was one day late.

Cause

The University was delayed in monitoring the disbursements at the beginning of the Spring 2013 semester and therefore the notifications were sent a day late.

Effect

Student may not be notified of their disbursements and rights to cancel loans within the appropriate timeframe.

Questioned Costs

There were no questioned costs related to this finding.

Recommendation

We recommend the University continue to implement its process to reasonably ensure that the notification of disbursements and cancellation rights is performed within the required timeframes.

Federal Agency: U.S. Department of Education
Program Name (CFDA #): Student Financial Aid Cluster: Direct Loans (CFDA No. 84.268)
Federal Award Number: P268K120066
Compliance Requirement: Enrollment Reporting

Criteria

Under the Direct Loan program, schools must complete and return within 30 days the Enrollment Reporting roster file [formerly the Student Status Confirmation Report (SSCR)] placed in their Student Aid Internet Gateway (SAIG) (OMB No. 1845-0002) mailboxes sent by ED via NSLDS (OMB No. 1845-0035). The institution determines how often it receives the Enrollment Reporting roster file with the default set at every 2 months, but the minimum is twice a year. Once received, the institution must update for changes in student status, report the date the enrollment status was effective, enter the new anticipated completion date, and submit the changes electronically through the batch method or the NSLDS website. Institutions are responsible for timely reporting, whether they report directly or via a third-party servicer.

Unless the school expects to complete its next roster within 60 days, the school must notify the lender or the guaranty agency within 30 days, if it discovers that a student who received a loan either did not enroll or ceased to be enrolled on at least a half-time basis (Direct Loan, 34 CFR section 685.309).

Condition

KPMG recommended in the prior year that the University develop and implement policies and procedures to reasonably ensure the accuracy of its reporting of student data to the National Student Loan Clearinghouse (NSLC). The University's corrective action plan in the prior year indicated that policies and procedures would be implemented by April 2013 to ensure the accuracy of the student status reporting.

KPMG notes there were two (2) instances out of the sample of 40 students' status changes that were not reported accurately to the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS). Both instances related to students who were still enrolled but who changed credits during a semester that resulted in their enrollment classification changing (for example, full time to half time). In addition, KPMG notes there were two (2) instances out of the sample of 40 students' status changes that were not reported to NSLDS within the required 60 day period. However, KPMG notes that these instances occurred prior to the University's corrective action plan being addressed in April 2013.

Questioned Costs

Questioned costs related to this finding are not readily determinable.

Cause

The University entered into an agreement with the NSLC in reporting student status changes to NSLDS. On a periodic basis, the status of all students is reported to the NSLC, which in return reports any changes in student status from the prior report. In some instances, the report generated to submit to the NSLC is inaccurate, resulting in a status change not being accurately reported by the NSLC to the NSLDS or not being reported within the required timeframes.

UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE
Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs
Year ended June 30, 2013

Effect

Inaccurate or late enrollment reporting may result in students' loans not entering repayment timely.

Recommendation

We recommend the University continue to develop and implement its policies and procedures to reasonably ensure the accuracy and timeliness of its reporting of student data to the NSLC.

A-133 Single Audit

Finding 2013-01: Federal Pell Grant Program Reporting

Recommendation:

We recommend the University continue to monitor its new process to reconcile the data submitted to the COD to University records at the individual student level to ensure the disbursements are properly reported to the COD at least every 30 calendar days.

University of Delaware Corrective Action Plan:

As noted in the finding, the University instituted a weekly reconciliation process in order to meet the more stringent 15 day reporting requirement. As of March 2013, reports and reconciliations were enhanced so that all Pell transactions, even those that the COD did not process properly, are identified and reported within the 15 day pay period.

Completion Date:

Contact Person: Melissa J. Stone, Director of Student Financial Services, 302-831-8189

Finding 2013-02: Disbursements To or On Behalf of Students

Recommendation:

We recommend the University continue to implement its process to reasonably ensure that the notification of disbursements and cancellation rights is performed within the required timeframes.

University of Delaware Corrective Action Plan:

Communications were scheduled to run once a week to meet the 7 day requirement. The one day delay occurred due to unforeseen timing in the scheduling of disbursement and communications at the start of the Spring 2013 semester.

As of February 2014, the communication process has been updated to run daily to ensure communications will not exceed the 7 day limit for disclosure to the borrower.

Completion Date:

Finding 2013-03: Enrollment ReportingRecommendation:

We recommend the University develop and implement policies and procedures to reasonably ensure the accuracy of its reporting of student data to the NSLC.

University of Delaware Corrective Action Plan:

As noted in the finding, although enrollment reporting occurs with the National Student Clearinghouse within the timeframes required, student status changes appeared to not always accurately reflect the appropriate status.

In order to ensure the proper status is reported to meet requirements, the University's Student Financial Services department has been working with Registrar's Office to quality control check the enrollment reports produced. The quality checks are performed every 30 days by Student Financial Services, and discrepancies, if any, are evaluated and corrected. Additionally, programming changes were made in April 2013 to the reports to ensure proper classifications are reported, especially late status changes.

Completion Date:

Implemented in April 2013.

As discussed in the finding, the instances of noncompliance noted were prior to the implementation of the Correction Action Plan described above.

RESTATEMENT OF THE CHARTER OF UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE
8 DELAWARE CODE (1953) TITLE 14, CHAPTER 51, PAGE 655
SEC. 5101, ET SEQ.

Par. 5101. Corporate status, membership, and perpetuity

1. The University of Delaware, hereinafter referred to as "The University," is continued as a corporation and, as such, shall have perpetual succession and existence.
2. The members of the Board of Trustees of the University shall constitute the membership of the corporation.

Par. 5102. Purpose

The leading object of the University shall be to promote the liberal and practical education of persons of all classes in the several pursuits and professions in life through the teaching of classical, scientific and agricultural subjects, the mechanical arts, military tactics, and such other subjects as are related to and will contribute to the achievement of the objectives of a Land-Grant, State University.

Par. 5103. Nonsectarian, nonpartisan institution

The University shall never be managed or conducted in the interest of any party, sect or denomination.

Par. 5104. Powers of University

1. The University shall have all the powers and franchises incident to a corporation, including the power to take and hold real and personal estate by deed, devise, bequest, gift, grant, or otherwise, and the same to alien, sell, transfer and dispose of as occasion may require, and the proceeds thereof to reinvest in other property, funds, or securities for the benefit of the University, and in accordance with the spirit and purpose of its charter.
1. The University may appoint such number of police officers as are necessary to preserve the peace and good order of the University, and such officers shall be known as the "University Police" and shall be supervised by a Director. They shall have jurisdiction on the University campuses.
2. The University Police shall be law- enforcement officers of the State and conservators of the peace with the right to investigate and arrest, in accordance with the laws of the State, any person for violation of federal or state laws or applicable county or city ordinances when such violations occur on any property or facilities which are under the supervision, regulation or control of the University of Delaware or on contiguous streets and highways.
3. The provisions of this section shall neither reduce nor restrict the jurisdiction of other duly appointed peace officers who are empowered to enforce federal or state laws or applicable county or city ordinances on the property of the University of Delaware.

STUDENT GUIDE TO UNIVERSITY POLICIES

Introduction

In order to promote the finest educational experience possible, the University of Delaware has established high standards of conduct for its students and student organizations. Individual students and student organizations are expected to know and comply with the policies in the Code of Conduct. Students who violate, attempt to violate, or aid others in violating its provisions may face sanctions for their actions. This Student Guide explains University standards and procedures.

The University conducts regular reviews and updates to this Student Guide to University Policies. The University may, due to legal or institutional need, make changes to the Student Guide at any time as deemed appropriate by University officials. The Student Guide posted online at www.udel.edu/stuguide is the current and active version.

It may be useful to students to know how several commonly used terms used in the Student Guide are officially defined.

Code of Conduct

The Code of Conduct describes the behavior expected of all students. It is arranged alphabetically by category and establishes standards of behavior for students and student organizations at the University.

Student Conduct System

Alleged violations of the Code of Conduct are handled through the Undergraduate and Graduate Student Conduct Systems. This section describes the University's procedures for addressing violations.

Sanctions

The University administration reserves the absolute discretion to determine appropriate sanctions to be imposed upon a student for any infraction of the Code of Conduct. The Sanctions section describes the range of sanctions that may be applied.

Grievance Procedures and Special Problems

This section describes the process by which students may bring certain grievances to the attention of the University. It also provides students with information about assistance with special problems, such as medical leaves of absence, military service and missing students.

COMMONLY USED TERMS

Academic exercise: Any examination, test, quiz, lab report, homework, or other assignment, whether in-class, take-home, or make-up, including any assignment which a faculty member assigns or which a student is required to submit, which may or may not count toward the final class grade.

Academic work: Any document, paper, report, or other product (including drafts) that a student submits, or intends to submit, to any University official, including without limitation any response to an academic exercise and any material required to be submitted as part of a sanction.

Business day: When computing any time period herein, all days will be counted, unless that day is a Saturday, Sunday, legal holiday or other day on which University offices are closed.

Class: Any University course of study, including any course, lab, independent study, externship, internship, practicum, or other educational program offered or administered by, or otherwise involving, the University.

Faculty member: Any professor, teacher, instructor, or other class coordinator at the University, whether full or part time, tenured or untenured, including undergraduate or graduate teaching instructors and teaching assistants.

End of term: The last day on which final exams are scheduled to take place for a given semester or special session.

Notice: Any giving of notice or provision of information by the University hereunder shall be deemed satisfied upon the sending of the notice or information via e-mail to the "udel.edu" e-mail address assigned to the recipient. Whenever notice is required herein, failure of the University to adhere to notice requirements or time periods shall not be cause for dismissal nor grounds for appeal absent a finding that such failure materially prejudiced the charged student. A notice sent by this method will be presumed to be delivered unless returned as undeliverable. A student who claims to have not had a message delivered and delivery is confirmed may be charged with False Information.

Pre-hearing day: Any business day on which pre-hearings may be pre-scheduled or conducted on a walk-in basis. Pre-hearing days are traditionally Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Student: A student is any individual who is currently enrolled, has been enrolled during the last fifteen months, or is eligible to enroll in the next fifteen months. The word student as used throughout this Student Guide to University Policies includes Student Organizations.

Student organization: A student group formed for scholastic, professional, social, or extracurricular activities. These may include, but are not limited to: registered student organizations, other department- or college-recognized clubs, residence hall governments, sports teams (including varsity, club and intramural teams), fraternities and sororities, chartered organizations, and honor societies. For all matters relating to the enforcement of this Code of Conduct, a Student Organization shall remain a Student Organization regardless that its status has been rescinded, revoked or suspended by the University.

University member: Any person who is a student, faculty member, or any other person employed by the University. A person's status in a particular situation shall be determined by the Office of Student Conduct.

University official: University officials are all University employees, administrators, officers, staff, professionals, and any other persons acting on behalf of the University, exclusive of faculty members.

I. CODE OF CONDUCT

This Code of Conduct, which contains policies arranged alphabetically, establishes standards of behavior for students and student organizations at the University.

- Academic Honesty
- Alcohol
- Complicity
- Discriminatory and Other Harassment
- Disruptive Conduct
- Drugs
- Endangering the Safety of Others
- Failure to Comply
- False Information
- Fire Safety
- Guests
- Hazing
- Misuse of Materials, Services or Property
- Residence Hall Regulations
- Responsible Computing and Use of University Computer Resources
- Sexual Misconduct
- Student Organizations
- Theft
- Violations of Law
- Weapons, Dangerous Instruments, and Explosive Chemicals or Devices

Note: A violation of the Code of Conduct may also constitute a violation of city, state, or federal law and vice versa. Therefore, resolution through both the Student Conduct System and prosecution through the criminal justice system may result. Resolution of a violation of the Code of Conduct will proceed separately from prosecution through the criminal justice system or any other method. A delay in resolution through other methods will not delay resolution through the Student Conduct System. Students should be aware that student status does not insulate them from awareness of and compliance with other laws.

A. Academic Honesty

1. Statement of Policy

All students must be honest and forthright in their academic studies. To falsify the results of one's research, to steal the words or ideas of another, to cheat on an assignment, or to allow or assist another to commit these acts corrupts the educational process. Students are expected to do their own work and neither give nor receive unauthorized assistance.

When a student includes their name on a group assignment, that student is verifying the authenticity of the entire work. Therefore, it is important to know how others in the group obtained the material they contributed. If a violation of the Academic Honesty Policy is determined, all members of the group will share responsibility, unless the identity of individuals involved in the dishonesty can be determined. In cases where a student claims no knowledge of or involvement with dishonesty in group work, it will be the responsibility of that student to demonstrate this lack of knowledge and involvement.

Any violation of this standard must be reported to the Office of Student Conduct. The faculty member, in consultation with a representative from the Office of Student Conduct, will decide under which option the incident is best filed and what specific academic penalty should be applied.

2. Academic Violations

a. Plagiarism

Plagiarism is the inclusion of someone else's words, ideas, images, or data as one's own. When a student submits academic work that includes another's words, ideas, images, or data, whether published or unpublished, the source of that information must be acknowledged with complete and accurate references and, if verbatim statements are included, with quotation marks as well. By submitting work as one's own, a student certifies the originality of all material not otherwise acknowledged. Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to:

- i. The quotation or other use of another person's words, ideas, opinions, thoughts, or theories (even if paraphrased into one's own words) without acknowledgment of the source; or
- ii. The quotation or other use of facts, statistics, or other data or materials (including images) that are not clearly common knowledge without acknowledgment of the source.

b. Fabrication

Fabrication is the use of invented information or the falsification of research or other findings. Fabrication includes, but is not limited to:

- i. The false citation or acknowledgment of a direct or secondary source, including the incorrect documentation of a source;
- ii. The citation, in a bibliography or other list of references, of sources that were not used to prepare the academic work;
- iii. The inclusion in an academic work of falsified, invented, or fictitious data or information, or the deliberate and knowing concealment or distortion of the true nature, origin, or function of such data or information; or
- iv. The unauthorized submission of an academic work prepared totally or in part by another; or
- v. The submission of fabricated or altered documentation in support of completion of any academic work, an excusal from class, postponement or extension of a due date or a change of grade.

c. Cheating

Cheating is an act or an attempted act of deception by which a student seeks to misrepresent that he or she has mastered information that has not been mastered. Cheating includes, but is not limited to:

- i. Copying all or any portion of another's academic work and submitting it, in part or in its entirety, as one's own;
- ii. Allowing another person to copy one's own academic work - whether intentionally or unintentionally;
- iii. The unauthorized use or possession of a class textbook, notes, or any other material to complete or prepare an academic work;
- iv. The unauthorized collaboration with any other person on an academic exercise, including collaboration on a take-home or make-up academic exercise;
- v. The unauthorized use of electronic instruments, such as computers, cell phones, translators or personal response systems (clickers) to access or share information; or
- vi. The unauthorized completion for another person of an academic work, or permitting someone else to complete an academic work for oneself, including through the use of personal response systems (clickers).

d. Academic Misconduct

Academic misconduct is any other act that disrupts the educational process or provides a student with an academic advantage over another student. Academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to:

- i. The unauthorized possession, copying, distribution, sale, or other transfer of all or any part of an academic exercise, or the answers or solutions to an academic exercise, whether or not the exercise has been administered;
- ii. Changing, altering, attempting to change or alter, or assisting another in changing or altering any grade or other academic record, including grades or records contained in a grade book or computer file, that is received for or in any way attributed to academic work;
- iii. Entering any University building, facility, office, or other property, or accessing any computer file or other University record or storage for the purpose of obtaining the answers or solutions to an academic exercise or to change a grade;

- iv. Continuing to work on an academic exercise after the specified allotted time has elapsed;
- v. Bribing another person to obtain an academic exercise, including answers to questions of an unadministered academic exercise;
- vi. Failing to adhere to standards of professional behavior established by a faculty member, academic program or college in conjunction with an academic course; or
- vii. Posting of notes or other materials from a class (whether the student is enrolled in the class or not) on the Internet, whether or not for a fee, without express permission from the faculty member.

- e. Other forms of academic dishonesty not described here but in violation of the Academic Honesty Statement of Policy.

B. Alcohol

1. Statement of Policy

All students must comply with applicable laws and these alcohol regulations.

Medical Amnesty/Good Samaritan Protocol

Student health and safety are of primary concern at the University of Delaware. As such, in cases of intoxication due to the consumption of alcohol, the University encourages individuals to seek assistance for themselves or others.

If assistance is sought due to a serious and immediate risk from the consumption of alcohol, the Office of Student Conduct may not pursue conduct sanctions against a student for violations of the Alcohol Policy or policies related to the consumption of alcohol. Additionally, those students who actively assist an intoxicated individual will not receive conduct sanctions for violations of the Alcohol Policy or policies related to the consumption of alcohol.

Active assistance requires an individual to contact 911 or a University official (such as University of Delaware Police Department or a Resident Assistant). Once an active call for help has been made, additional examples of active assistance may include an individual monitoring the intoxicated student's condition until assistance arrives, and cooperating fully during the medical and investigative process. Medical Amnesty will not be granted where there was no active call for medical assistance. Students who are confronted by University staff (University of Delaware Police Department or Resident Assistant, as an example) will be referred to the Office of Student Conduct for conduct charges.

Please note: Medical Amnesty will not be granted to students who do not seek medical assistance. Students who are confronted by university staff (such as an RA or UDPD) will be referred to the Office of Student Conduct for alleged policy violations.

Amnesty will be granted to students who may have violated the Alcohol Policy at the time of an incident when they became a victim of sexual assault, sexual harassment or other forms of sexual misconduct. Therefore, a charge of violating the Alcohol Policy will not be applied to a student who reports being under the influence of alcohol at the time of an incident involving sexual assault, sexual harassment or other form of sexual misconduct. Please see more information in the Sexual Misconduct Policy.

Students are encouraged to read the complete Medical Amnesty/Good Samaritan Protocol.

2. Prohibited Activities

The University prohibits alcohol intoxication (regardless of age); the unauthorized possession, use, consumption, manufacture, sale, or distribution of alcohol; and driving while impaired due to alcohol consumption. Specifically this offense includes, but is not limited to:

- a. The possession, use, consumption, manufacture, sale, or distribution of alcohol by anyone under the legal age to do so;
- b. The possession, use, consumption, manufacture, sale, or distribution of alcohol in any University building, facility, or property except in the confines of a student's own residence hall room if the student is over the legal age to do so;

- c. The possession of beer kegs in any University building, facility, or property;
- d. The possession or use of any apparatus, including but not limited to beer pong tables and beer funnels, used to facilitate 1) the rapid consumption of alcohol or 2) drinking games; or
- e. A violation of any University policy or procedure concerning the use of alcohol or enacted to monitor or control the use of alcohol; or
- f. A violation of any applicable law of the State of Delaware or City of Newark, Delaware relating to alcohol (including, but not limited to, possession of an open container of alcohol, public intoxication and underage entry into a liquor store).

3. Use of Alcohol On-Campus

As described above, the possession, use, consumption, manufacture, sale, or distribution of alcoholic beverages is prohibited except when and where explicitly permitted by this Alcohol Policy.

a. Student Organizations

No student organization that hosts, organizes, conducts, or participates in an on-campus function or event sponsored or sanctioned by the University shall serve alcohol or permit the possession, use, consumption, manufacture, sale, or distribution of alcohol except as provided here.

- i. No alcoholic beverages shall be distributed, served, or sold at a function or event on-campus without the explicit, prior approval of the Director of the University Student Centers (or designee).
- ii. Outside functions or events involving the use of alcohol are not permitted on campus.

b. Alcohol in Residence Halls

A resident who is 21 years of age or older may possess or consume alcoholic beverages in their own room. No student under the age of 21 may possess or consume alcohol anywhere, including the student's room. The possession or consumption of alcohol by a student 21 years of age or older is subject to the following limitations and conditions:

- i. Possession of an open container or consumption of alcoholic beverages in any area other than a resident's room is prohibited.
 - ii. A guest may only possess or consume alcohol if the guest is at least 21 years of age and is visiting a resident's room where at least one of the assigned student residents is also of legal drinking age and is present (i.e., if a double-occupancy room is occupied by two students under the age of 21, those students shall not permit the consumption, possession, or use of alcohol by anyone, including guests, in that room. However, if one of the roommates is at least 21 years of age, that student must be present to allow the possession or consumption of alcohol by guests who are at least 21 years of age).
 - iii. The student's (or a guest's) possession, use, or consumption of alcohol shall not infringe upon the privacy, peace, or enjoyment of other students or guests in the residence hall.
 - iv. A residence hall student has a duty to know if there is or has been unauthorized use or possession of alcohol in their room. Therefore, the responsibility to establish lack of knowledge shall be on the resident in cases where the resident claims no knowledge of such use.
- c. Alcohol at the University Football Stadium

The unauthorized possession, use, consumption, manufacture, sale, or distribution of alcohol in the University football stadium and in parking areas surrounding the stadium is prohibited. Beer kegs and any alcohol-related games, activities or apparatus (such as a beer pong table, ice slides, beer funnels, etc.) are prohibited at all times. Individuals are not permitted to possess any open container containing alcohol, or consume any alcohol in stadium parking areas while the football game is in progress or on any day other than those on which a football game takes place.

4. Use of Alcohol Off-Campus

The University accepts no responsibility for the possession, use, consumption, manufacture, sale, or distribution of alcoholic beverages by students off-campus, including at events or functions sponsored in whole or in part by one or more student organizations or individuals. A student hosting or attending an off-campus function should be aware of the applicable laws regarding alcohol and should be aware that the University may also pursue student conduct charges for such behavior.

C. Complicity

1. Statement of Policy

A student shall not, through act or omission, assist another student, individual, or group in committing or attempting to commit a violation of this Code of Conduct. A student who has knowledge of another committing or attempting to commit a violation of the Code of Conduct is required to remove oneself from the situation, and failure to do so when reasonable under the circumstances may be the basis for a violation of this policy.

D. Discriminatory and Other Harassment

1. Statement of Policy

The University is committed to promoting an academic and work environment that is free from all forms of harassment and discrimination whether that discrimination or harassment is because of race, color, national origin, disability, religion, age, veteran status, any other characteristic protected by law or any other characteristic specific to the person being harassed. This policy is designed to ensure a safe and nondiscriminatory environment that protects both the constitutional and civil rights of students, faculty and staff. Acts of discrimination and harassment undermine the University's mission by threatening the careers, educational experiences, and well-being of those associated with the University. This policy expresses the University's opposition to discrimination and harassment and assists the University to comply with federal, state, and local legal mandates in relation to such misconduct.

Incidents of harassment based on a person's sex, sexual orientation or gender identity or expression will be resolved through the University's Sexual Misconduct Policy.

2. Prohibited Activities

Specific violations of this standard include, but are not limited to:

- a. Any verbal, written or physical conduct toward another that is based on a person's race, color, national origin, disability, religion, age, veteran status, other characteristic protected by law or any other characteristic specific to the person being harassed, that:
 - i. Unreasonably creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive learning, living or working environment; or
 - ii. Unreasonably interferes with an individual's academic or work performance.
- b. Discriminatory harassment goes beyond the mere expression of views or thoughts (spoken or written) that an individual may find offensive. The conduct must be sufficiently serious that it unreasonably limits an individual's ability to participate in or benefit from the activities of the University.
- c. Behavior of a discriminatory nature that does not necessarily rise to the level of discriminatory harassment may nonetheless be inappropriate in the University community, disruptive in the classroom, or violate other University policies and could warrant remedial actions and/or discipline.
- d. The alleged conduct will be evaluated from the perspective of a reasonable person in the alleged victim's position taking into account all of the circumstances involved in a particular matter.
- e. It is a violation of University policy to retaliate in any way against students or employees because they have raised allegations of harassment. Any person against whom a complaint is lodged also bears a responsibility to abstain from retaliatory behavior towards the complainant and/or any individuals involved in the investigation or resolution of the complaint

E. Disruptive Conduct

1. Statement of Policy

A student shall not impair, interfere with, or obstruct the orderly conduct, process, or function of the University or any of its students, faculty members, University officials, guests or the surrounding community.

2. Prohibited Activities

Specific violations of this standard include, but are not limited to:

- a. Committing or threatening to commit any act of physical violence against self or another. This includes, but is not limited to, hitting, kicking, scratching, punching, shaking, slapping, burning or restraining;
- b. Threatening the health, safety, or welfare of another;
- c. Interfering with the freedom of movement of another;
- d. Invading the privacy of another;
- e. Interfering with the right of another to enter, use, or leave any University building, facility, property, service, resource, or activity;
- f. Interfering with a faculty member or University official in the performance of their duty;
- g. Interfering with the freedoms of speech, religion, or association of another;
- h. Trespassing or the unauthorized entering or accessing of any University building, facility, property, service, resource, or activity or any location with the jurisdictional boundaries of the Student Conduct System;
- i. Making, exhibiting, or producing any inappropriate, loud, or disruptive noise or behavior;
- j. Acting recklessly or in a manner that causes a disruption to the orderly function or operation of the University;
- k. Exhibiting public nudity or lewd behavior; or
- l. Urinating in any area of University buildings, facilities, or property other than restrooms.

F. Drugs

1. Statement of Policy

The illegal possession, use, consumption, manufacture, sale, or distribution of drugs and drug paraphernalia is prohibited. Any violations of this drug policy may be subject to sanctions by the Student Conduct System and may be reported to all appropriate law enforcement authorities.

Note: The claim that the use of marijuana was for medicinal purposes will not automatically be sufficient for dismissal of any pending charges nor for a determination that the student is not responsible for violating this policy. All University buildings, including residence halls, are designated as smoke-free for all substances.

2. Definitions

- a. The term "drugs" broadly includes, but is not limited to, any stimulant, intoxicant (other than alcohol), nervous system depressant, hallucinogen, or other chemical substance, compound, or combination when used to induce an altered state, including any otherwise lawfully available product used for any purpose other than its intended use.
- b. The term "Drug Paraphernalia" broadly includes any material, product, instrument, or item used to create, manufacture, distribute, use, or otherwise manipulate any drug and includes, but is not limited to, hookahs, grinders, vaporizers, hypodermic needles and syringes.

3. Prohibited Activities

Specific violations of this standard include, but are not limited to:

- a. The possession, use, consumption, manufacture, sale, or distribution of any illegal drug or drug paraphernalia, prescription or prescription drug not prescribed to the student;
- b. The transfer, delivery or manufacture or intent to transfer, deliver, or manufacture any drug or drug paraphernalia;
- c. The possession of a prescription or prescription drug not issued to the student;

- d. The misuse, sale, delivery, or transfer of a prescription or prescription drug;
- e. Driving while impaired by any drug, whether it be legal or illegal; or
- f. A violation of any applicable local, state or federal law relating to drugs or drug paraphernalia.

G. Endangering the Safety of Others

1. Statement of Policy

A student shall not endanger the lives or safety of oneself or others.

2. Prohibited Activities

Specific violations of this standard include, but are not limited to:

- a. Creating an unsafe condition or environment which could cause harm to the student or others;
- b. Acting in a manner that endangers or reasonably could endanger the health, safety or welfare of the student or anyone else; or
- c. Instigating, participating or otherwise encouraging others to engage in a fight, riot or other disruption.

H. Failure to Comply

1. Statement of Policy

It is a violation to ignore, disobey, disregard, or otherwise violate any provision of this Code of Conduct or any applicable rule.

2. Prohibited Activities

Specific violations of this standard include, but are not limited to:

- a. Failing to comply with the directive of any University official or faculty member, including any sanction imposed by the Office of Student Conduct;
- b. Failing to comply with the terms of any policy, procedure or agreement, including the University's Housing and Dining Agreements, University Student Centers policies, Facilities policies or any other agreement between a student and a University official or department;

- c. Failing to comply with any applicable federal, state, or local law; or
- d. Failing to advise the University of any off-campus criminal charge(s) or conviction.

I. False Information

1. Statement of Policy

A student shall not provide false or misleading information.

2. Prohibited Activities

Specific violations of this standard include, but are not limited to:

- a. Making a false or misleading oral or written statement to any University official or faculty member (including, but not limited to, application for admission, financial aid, residency classification or participation in any special programs sponsored by the University) when the student knew or should have known the statement was false;
- b. Making a false or misleading oral or written statement at any point of the student conduct process or any other process used to address student behavior;
- c. Making a false or misleading oral or written statement that misrepresents the character, qualifications, or reputation of another;
- d. Falsely reporting a safety hazard (including but not limited to, a fire, explosive or incendiary device) by any means including by activating an emergency phone on campus when no emergency actually exists;
- e. Falsely reporting a crime or violation of this Code of Conduct or any other University policy;
- f. Possessing or displaying any form of false identification or any identification not one's own;

- g. Assuming or attempting to assume the identity of another person; or
- h. Forgery.

J. Fire Safety

1. Statement of Policy

A student shall not engage in any behavior that creates a fire hazard nor shall a student inhibit or impede another person who is responding to a fire hazard.

2. Prohibited Activities

Specific violations of this standard include, but are not limited to:

- a. Setting or causing a fire;
- b. Tampering with, misusing or damaging fire or safety equipment, such as fire alarms, heat sensors, smoke detectors, fire extinguishers or hoses;
- c. Blocking or otherwise preventing the use of a fire exit, including hallways, windows, doors and stairwells;
- d. Failing to immediately exit any University facility or building when a fire alarm has been activated, or hindering or impairing the orderly evacuation of any University building or facility; or
- e. Disobeying the command of any University official or faculty member in connection with a fire, alarm or other safety or security measure.

K. Guests

1. Statement of Policy

Students are responsible for the behavior of their guests and must ensure that guests comply with University regulations, including the standards in this Code of Conduct. Students in residence halls are responsible for abiding by the Guidelines for Hosting Visitors.

L. Hazing

1. Statement of Policy

A student shall not haze another student nor allow oneself to be hazed.

2. Definition

Hazing is any action taken toward, or circumstance directed at, one or more students, which action or circumstance exposes such student(s) to unpleasant, harassing, embarrassing, degrading or hazardous conditions, the endurance of which is intended to be a condition upon which the student(s) may become a member of, or participate with, any group, regardless of whether the group is recognized by the University or has been formally organized. It is intended that the term "group" be interpreted in the broadest sense and could mean, for example, a particular section of a residence hall, a particular program or informal club or gatherings of students.

3. Prohibited Activities

Specific violations of this policy include, but are not limited to:

- a. Requiring the consumption of any food, liquor, drug, or other substance;
- b. Requiring participation in physical activities, such as calisthenics, exercise, or other games or activities requiring physical exertion;
- c. Exposing another to weather elements or other physically or emotionally uncomfortable situations;
- d. Forcing fatigue from sleep deprivation, physical activities, or exercise;
- e. Requiring anything that would be illegal under any applicable law, including laws of the State of Delaware or City of Newark, Delaware;
- f. Requiring anything that can be reasonably expected to be morally offensive to another;
- g. Committing or requiring any act that demeans another based on race, gender, ability, sexual orientation, religion, or age;

- h. Committing any act of physical brutality against another, including, but not limited to, paddling, striking with fists, open hands or objects, and branding;
 - i. Kidnapping or transporting another with the intent of stranding the person;
 - j. Committing verbal abuse;
 - k. Forcing or requiring conduct that can be reasonably expected to embarrass or adversely affect the dignity of another, including the performance of public stunts and activities such as scavenger hunts;
 - l. Intentionally creating work or labor for another;
 - m. Denying sufficient time for study or other academic activities; or
 - n. Committing or requiring another to commit any sexual act or engage in lewd behavior.
4. Students have a duty to avoid being hazed. Therefore, it shall be an offense under this section for a student to permit oneself to be hazed, subject only to the defense that the student could not reasonably have prevented the hazing.

M. Misuse of Materials, Services, or Property

1. Statement of Policy

A student shall not misuse any material, service or property.

2. Prohibited Activities

Specific violations of this standard include, but are not limited to:

- a. Destroying, damaging or misusing any property belonging to another;
- b. Destroying, damaging, misusing, reproducing, altering or defacing any student identification card, University-provided key or access card, residence hall key or access card, laboratory equipment, emergency phone, athletic equipment, or any material issued or owned by the University;

- c. Destroying, damaging or defacing any University building, facility or property;
- d. Impairing or otherwise hindering another's use of a University material, service, or property;
- e. Reading, duplicating, removing, photographing, forging, counterfeiting, or altering any University document or record without authorization;
- f. Littering on or in any University property, facility, or building; or
- g. Engaging in conduct that may result in damage or destruction of any University building, facility or property, including, but not limited to, skateboarding or rollerblading on steps, railings, banisters or curbing.

N. Residence Hall Regulations

1. Statement of Policy

A residence hall resident shall comply with all provisions of this Code of Conduct, and should refer to the Residence Hall Regulations, the Housing Agreements, Residence Hall Prohibited Items and Actions, and Residence Hall Appliance Use for additional rules and responsibilities related to on-campus housing that supplement the Code of Conduct. Residence hall residents are responsible for the behavior of their guests and for ensuring that guests comply with all University regulations.

O. Responsible Computing and Use of University Computer Resources

1. Statement of Policy

All students must comply with local, state, and federal laws relating to copyright, security, and electronic media. Students must act responsibly and in accordance with relevant policies and laws, contractual obligations, and the Policy for Responsible Computing.

All students must make certain that their computer is secured against viruses, worms, hacker attacks, and other intrusions. Further, students are responsible for all uses of their computer and will be held accountable for network traffic originating at their computer or traced back to their computer's IP number (Internet address).

All students are expected to access and use their UD e-mail and read e-mail in a timely manner. Faculty will send e-mail with important information about classes, and the administration, including the Office of Student Conduct, will send messages with timely, sometimes critical, announcements. These messages are sent to the "udel.edu" e-mail address assigned to each student. If students prefer to use a different e-mail service, they must still check their UD e-mail account or be sure to forward the "udel.edu" messages to the preferred account.

2. Prohibited Activities

A student shall not damage, destroy, misuse, or otherwise endanger the University's computing and information resources. Specific violations of this standard include, but are not limited to:

- a. Using any University computer, facility, equipment, software, network, or other resource, including e-mail
 - i. for any activity other than that for which access or use was assigned or authorized;
 - ii. for commercial use;
 - iii. without authorization;
 - iv. to commit or attempt to commit any other violation of this Code of Conduct; or
 - v. to commit or attempt to commit any act prohibited under applicable federal, state, or local laws.
- b. Disrupting, hindering, or damaging the service, use, or ability of others to access or use any University computer, facility, equipment, software, network, or other resource, including e-mail; or
- c. Damaging, destroying, misusing, or otherwise harming any University computer, facility, equipment, software, network, or other resource, including e-mail.

P. Sexual Misconduct

Sexual misconduct includes sexual assault, sexual harassment, domestic violence, dating violence, stalking and sex discrimination. All incidents of sexual misconduct will be resolved through the University's Sexual Misconduct Policy.

Note: Contact Susan L. Groff, Director, Institutional Diversity and University Title IX Coordinator, in the Office of Equity and Inclusion for more detailed information.

Q. Student Organizations

1. Statement of Policy

Student organizations are expected to adhere to the same standards of conduct applicable to individual students.

2. Prohibited Activities

Specific violations of this standard include, but are not limited to:

- a. Violating, permitting its members or their guests to violate or failing to prevent, where such prevention was possible, the violation of this Code of Conduct, the Sexual Misconduct Policy or any applicable city, state, or federal regulation;
- b. Violating, permitting its members or their guests to violate or failing to prevent, where such prevention was possible, the violation of any contract or other agreement between the student organization and the University; or
- c. Committing any act in violation of any policy, procedure or agreement, including the University's Housing and Dining Agreements, University Student Centers policies or any other agreement between a student organization and a University official and department, as well as rules promulgated by the appropriate University official and any other rules made applicable to student organizations.

3. Application of Policy

- a. Each use of the term “student” in this Code of Conduct shall refer to and include student organizations and their members.
- b. Any violation of this Code of Conduct by one or more members of a student organization may constitute a violation by the organization itself. When those administering the Student Conduct System conclude that there is sufficient connection between the acts of individual students and an organization to which they belong, sanctions may be imposed on the organization as well as any offending member. Conversely, when an organization has been found responsible for a Code of Conduct violation, those administering the Student Conduct may impose sanctions on some or all members of that organization depending upon the degree of general participation in the violation.

4. Membership

- a. Membership in a student organization may not be restricted on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, religion, age, veteran status, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation or other characteristic protected by law, except for any fraternity or sorority whose national organization requires it to be single-gender, and then only when such group demonstrates that it will not discriminate on any other basis.
- b. A student may not frustrate the University’s suspension of a student organization by joining, becoming a member of, or in any way assisting or participating in a student organization that is currently on suspension from the University.

R. Theft

1. Statement of Policy

Theft is defined as taking or possessing the property of another without right or permission. Students shall respect the property of the University, its guests, and all members of the University community.

2. Prohibited Activities

Specific violations of this standard include, but are not limited to:

- a. The unauthorized taking, misappropriation, possession, retention, or disposal of any property owned or maintained by the University, another student, a person attending a University sponsored event, or any other person; or

- b. The unauthorized taking or use of any University owned or contracted service.

3. Possession of Lost or Misplaced Items

Any lost or misplaced item that is found should immediately be turned in to the proper University office. For instance, items found in the library should be taken to the library's circulation desk. An item found anywhere else on campus should be taken to Department of Public Safety. Inquiries concerning lost books, articles of clothing, or identification cards should be directed to the Lost and Found section of the Department of Public Safety.

S. Violations of Law

1. Statement of Policy

Violations of local, state, or federal law are subject to University action. A student who has pleaded guilty to or otherwise accepted responsibility for a violation (e.g. Probation Before Judgment or no lo contendere) should be aware that the University may also sanction the student.

2. Notification of Criminal Arrest

- a. A student is responsible for notifying the University of any off-campus arrest.
- b. When the Office of Student Conduct (for undergraduate students) or the Office of Graduate and Professional Education (for graduate students) is informed of the arrest of a student, the University will send notice to the student requiring that he or she make an appointment for an interview with the Office of Student Conduct or Office of Graduate and Professional Education. During this interview, the facts involved in the student's arrest, the student's obligation to keep the University informed of the progress of the criminal charge(s), and the student's obligation to advise the University of the final disposition of the criminal charge(s) will be discussed with the student.

3. Withdrawal When Certain Criminal Charges are Pending

- a. The University may withdraw any student when certain charges are pending against that student, subject to the procedures set forth in the Student Conduct System section of this Guide.
- b. Specifically, withdrawal may be mandated where the crime involves an act of violence, the sale, manufacture or delivery of drugs or any other conduct that is egregiously offensive to the University's mission.

T. Weapons, Dangerous Instruments, and Explosive Chemicals or Devices

1. Statement of Policy

The possession, use or threat of use of any object that may reasonably be believed to cause physical injury to another person is prohibited.

2. Prohibited Activities

Specific violations of this policy include, but are not limited to, the possession, use or threat of use of any of the following items:

- a. Any deadly weapon, defined as any instrument, item, or material readily capable of causing death or serious physical injury;
- b. Any firearm (including any weapon or instrument from which a shot, projectile, or other object may be discharged by force, whether operable or inoperable, loaded or unloaded);
- c. Any BB gun, pellet gun, air rifle, paint gun, or any toy gun which, based on color, design or appearance, would be considered by a reasonable person to be an actual firearm;
- d. Any sword (whether decorative or not), or other martial arts weapon;
- e. Any knife (other than an ordinary pocketknife carried in a closed position, with a blade of three inches or less or cutlery of a reasonable size, when used in a kitchen or other food preparation area); or

- f. Any explosive chemical or device including a substance or a combination of substances possessed or prepared for the purpose of producing a visible or audible effect by combustion, explosion, deflagration, or detonation, including fireworks and illegal or potentially dangerous chemicals.

Note: Possession of a license to possess or use any of the above items shall not constitute a defense of any violation of this section.

3. Interpretation

This policy does not prohibit any instrument or chemical expressly authorized for the pursuit of the academic mission of the University and used in an authorized manner consistent with that academic mission. Questions concerning authorized chemicals and prohibited instruments should be addressed to the Department of Public Safety or Environmental Health and Safety.

This policy does not prohibit the possession or use of a firearm, knife or other object off campus, provided it is in accordance with local, state or federal laws regulating such possession and use.

- Withdrawal When Certain Charges are Pending

A. Statement of Policy

The University affords its students the right to pursue their studies and be rewarded according to their own achievements, to seek redress from actions of those who interfere with those rights, to be informed of prohibited acts or behavior, to be accorded due process if charged with a violation of the Code of Conduct or any other University policy, and to be advised of their rights at all stages of a University disciplinary proceeding.

The Undergraduate Student Conduct System was established in 1975 and the Graduate Student Conduct System in 1981. These systems are the means by which violations of the Code of Conduct are adjudicated.

The Undergraduate and Graduate Student Conduct Systems provide students charged with violations with an opportunity to learn of the charge(s), to be presented with information, and to offer a response before an impartial party. However, there are significant differences between the rights in the Student Conduct System and the rights offered to those accused of crimes by local, state, or federal authorities. Specifically, charged students' rights in the Student Conduct System do not include the right to be defended by an attorney at an Administrative Hearing; the right to rely on rules of evidence under state or federal law; or the right to know the identity of those giving information to support the charge(s).

The primary goal of the Undergraduate and Graduate Student Conduct Systems is to examine information, verify facts and determine the truth, and the Administrative Hearing Officer, Graduate Hearing Board, appellate board or appellate officer may consider all information presented during the process, including things that might not be permitted in a criminal trial or other legal proceeding. Rules of evidence do not apply, and information that would constitute hearsay in the legal system may be considered, with the credibility of such information to be determined by those considering this information.

Based on the differences between the Student Conduct System and criminal or other systems, outcomes may differ, and an outcome reached through the Student Conduct System will not dictate the outcome in any other system nor shall an outcome through other systems dictate an outcome in the Student Conduct System.

B. Jurisdiction Over Persons and Places

1. Subject to the expanded jurisdictional limits described below, the Student Conduct Systems may act on any alleged violation of the Code of Conduct or any other University policy or regulation, whether committed on campus, a street adjacent to campus, or in the greater community, by:
 - a. A full- or part-time matriculated or continuing education student if the alleged violation occurred while the student was enrolled at the University or while the student, although not enrolled, was enrolled at any point during the past fifteen months or is eligible for enrollment within the next fifteen months;
 - b. A student organization;
 - c. A student who is serving a period of suspension from the University or any of its colleges, divisions, or departments; or
 - d. A student enrolled in the English Language Institute or any other program at the University that does not require admission to the University or traditional class registration. Formal disciplinary procedures established within such programs and specifically tailored for the needs of that student population may be used in concert with or as an alternative to the Student Conduct System as appropriate. An exception to this standard is any incident involving sexual misconduct which must be reported to the appropriate Title IX coordinator.

2. The Student Conduct System shall also have jurisdiction over any student or student organization accused of a violation which occurs:
 - a. while a student or student organization is participating in a University-related activity, including events sponsored by a Student Organization, or when the student's or student organization's conduct is egregiously offensive to the University's mission; or
 - b. when the student's or student organization's continued presence on campus poses a serious threat to persons or property, regardless of where the activity occurred.
3. The Office of Student Conduct has the authority to determine whether a complaint brought before the Student Conduct System should more properly be handled by another University office, department or forum, and in such instance may refer the complaint to that office, department, or forum.
4. The Undergraduate Student Conduct System shall have jurisdiction over all students enrolled in the undergraduate program and programs that do not require admission to the University or traditional class registration and is coordinated by the staff of Office of Student Conduct. The Undergraduate Student Conduct System shall also have jurisdiction over all student organizations. The Graduate Student Conduct System shall have jurisdiction over all students enrolled in the graduate program and is coordinated by the staff of the Office of Graduate and Professional Education.
5. In accordance with the Sexual Misconduct Policy, the Undergraduate Student Conduct System shall have jurisdiction over sanctioning and appeals associated with sexual misconduct cases.
6. The University retains absolute discretion to determine whether any allegation should be processed within the Student Conduct System and may at its discretion vest jurisdiction in either the Undergraduate or Graduate Student Conduct System for any student group or any infraction not specifically described within this Student Guide to University Policies or any other University policy, procedure or agreement.

Note: Violations of local, state, or federal laws away from campus may result in sanctions being imposed by the University. See Violations of Law.

C. Student Rights

1. Rights of Charged Students

A charged student is entitled to:

- a. Be informed of the policy (or policies) alleged to have been violated, the sanction(s) to be applied if the student agrees the allegations are accurate and the process for disputing the allegation(s) or recommended sanction(s).
- b. Have an Administrative Hearing within a reasonable period of time after the complaint is filed. Once a hearing is scheduled, it may only be postponed, for cause, by the Office of Student Conduct or the Associate Provost for Graduate and Professional Education.
- c. Receive written notice of the date, time and location of the Administrative Hearing at least 5 business days prior to the hearing.
- d. Prior to the Administrative Hearing, review all documents and materials in the possession of the Office of Student Conduct or the Office of Graduate and Professional Education that relate to the complaint, provided, however, that such materials may be edited to shield the identity of those giving information when officials believe that confidentiality is necessary to avoid risk to those persons. Note: These offices do not always receive all information that may eventually be presented at an Administrative Hearing, therefore conduct files will not, in all cases, contain all information in the possession of the party filing the complaint.
- e. Know the names of all witnesses known by the Office of Student Conduct or Office of Graduate and Professional Education who will participate in the hearing (subject to provisions in this Code regarding protecting witness identity).
- f. Question the selection of the Administrative Hearing Officer on the basis of a conflict of interest or demonstrated bias.

- g. Appear in person and present information on one's behalf, call witnesses, and ask questions of those present at the hearing or elect not to appear at the hearing. Absence will be noted without prejudice, but the hearing may be conducted in the charged student's absence.
- h. Refuse to answer any question or make any statement.
- i. Be assisted by a University advisor of one's choice from among the members of the University. Names of advisors familiar with the student conduct process are available upon request through the Office of Student Conduct. It is the responsibility of the charged student to obtain a University advisor if so desired and to provide the advisor's name to the Office of Student Conduct or the Office of Graduate and Professional Education at least 3 business days prior to the Administrative Hearing. A University advisor should be selected promptly. The University advisor may:
 - i. Advise the charged student on the presentation of a response to the allegations;
 - ii. Accompany the charged student at all student conduct meetings; and
 - iii. Advise the charged student in the preparation of any appeal.
- j. In limited situations, have legal counsel.
 - i. Legal counsel may be present only in the following circumstances:
 - a) When the charged student is charged both within the Student Conduct System and with a felony offense in an off-campus criminal court system; and
 - b) When the charged student's Administrative Hearing occurs before the off-campus felony hearing has been conducted.
 - ii. Legal counsel may only advise the charged student on whether to answer a question in order to safeguard the student from self-incrimination. The legal counsel may not question witnesses, object to questions, or otherwise participate in the hearing. The charged student must inform the Office of Student Conduct or the Office of Graduate and Professional Education of the name of the legal counsel at least 3 business days prior to the Administrative Hearing.

- iii. If legal counsel accompanies the charged student, the University may, at its discretion, allow its own counsel also to be present.

k. Initiate an appeal.

l. Waive any of the rights contained in this subsection.

2. Rights of Victims

a. The Dean of Students (or designee) will determine who is entitled to the rights of a victim. This may include, but is not limited to, a person who has suffered from the following acts:

- i. Arson;
- ii. Theft;
- iii. Destruction, damage or vandalism of property;
- iv. Kidnapping/abduction;
- v. Behavior directed towards a person based on perceived or actual race, color, national origin, disability, religion, age, veteran status; or
- vi. Violence or physical assault, not based on gender, gender identity or expression or sexual orientation.

b. A victim is entitled to:

- i. Be notified of available counseling, mental health, or medical services both on campus and in the community.
- ii. Change living arrangements on campus and the right to reasonable academic accommodations.
- iii. Be free of any form of retaliation and to report such retaliation for disciplinary action.

- iv. A campus restraining order/no contact order against the charged student.
- v. Notify law enforcement authorities (also includes the right not to report to law enforcement authorities).
- vi. Decide whether or not to file a formal complaint within the Student Conduct System.
- vii. Have a University advisor throughout the conduct process. It is the responsibility of the victim to obtain a University advisor if so desired and to provide the advisor's name to the Office of Student Conduct or the Office of Graduate and Professional Education at least 3 business days prior to the hearing. The University advisor will have the same role as a University advisor for a charged student.
- viii. Be informed about the status of a case at any point during the investigation process.
- ix. Review all documents to be presented at the hearing that are made available to the charged student.
- x. Be present at the hearing, only during the time in which he or she provides information about the case and/or a victim impact statement.
- xi. Know the names of all witnesses known by the Office of Student Conduct or Office of Graduate and Professional Education who will participate in the hearing (subject to provisions in this Code regarding protecting witness identity), and the right to suggest potential witnesses to be called (the presenting party will ultimately decide which witnesses to present). The Office of Student Conduct or Office of Graduate and Professional Education may not know the names all witnesses in advance of the hearing.
- xii. Have past unrelated behavior excluded from the hearing process.
- xiii. Question the selection of the Administrative Hearing Officer on the basis of a conflict of interest or demonstrated bias.
- xiv. Be separated from the charged student during the hearing.

- xv. Be notified of the outcome and sanction(s) affecting the victim as soon as possible.
- xvi. Participate in the appeal process, if initiated by a charged student.
- xvii. Initiate an appeal alleging a violation of any of the above rights occurred.
- xviii. Waive any of the rights contained in this subsection.

D. Procedures for Undergraduate Student Conduct Process

1. Initiation of Undergraduate Student Conduct Process

The student conduct process shall be governed by the following policies and procedures:

- a. Any person may initiate a complaint against an undergraduate student by filing a complaint with the Office of Student Conduct. The exception to this standard is any complaint involving sexual misconduct, which will be reported to the Title IX Coordinator in the Office of Equity and Inclusion or a deputy Title IX Coordinator.
- b. This complaint may be made in writing or verbally. The person or people submitting the complaint shall be referred to as the complainant. If a complaint is made verbally, the Office of Student Conduct staff member taking the complaint will summarize in writing the information received verbally, then share that summary with the complainant to ensure accuracy. This summary will become a part of the charged student's file and will be shared with the charged student.
- c. Jurisdiction shall be limited to those complaints meeting the parameters outlined in Section II.B. If the complaint reasonably suggests that a violation of the Code of Conduct has occurred, then the Dean of Students (or designee) shall provide notice of the complaint to the student against whom it was filed.
 - i. Students seeking to file a complaint of disability discrimination must use the ADA process as outlined in Section IV.A.2.a.

- ii. Students seeking to file a complaint of other discrimination or harassment must use the process outlined in Section IV.A.2.c.
- d. This notice to the charged student shall include:
 - i. The specific rule or regulation that the charged student is alleged to have violated, indicating the date and place of the occurrence and the names of the complainant and all potential witnesses known by the Office of Student Conduct, except when the Office of Student Conduct determines that disclosure may present a serious risk to any such witness;
 - ii. The charged student's rights, including a description of the procedures to be used at both a pre-hearing and an Administrative Hearing; and
 - iii. A statement that the charged student must meet for a pre-hearing with a designee of the Office of Student Conduct within 3 pre-hearing days of the date on which the notice was sent. Failure to attend this pre-hearing meeting will not keep the process from proceeding and may result in the charged student being found responsible for violating the policies listed based only on input from the complainant.
- e. During the pre-hearing meeting, the charged student will be invited to review and discuss information in the student's disciplinary file (including prior cases, if any) and will be encouraged to ask questions about the complaint and the options available within the Student Conduct System. Proposed sanctions, to be applied if the charged student is responsible for the violation(s), will also be discussed. The student may also provide additional information (such as written documents, photographs, audio/video files, etc.) to be added to his or her disciplinary file, which will then become a permanent part of that file. Pre-hearings may not be recorded.

The charged student will be presented with the following options:

- i. To accept responsibility for violating the Code of Conduct and accept the sanction(s) presented in the pre-hearing meeting. A student who accepts responsibility and accepts the proposed sanction(s) waives the right to both an Administrative Hearing and an appeal.

- ii. To accept responsibility for violating the Code of Conduct but reject the sanction(s) presented as inappropriate or unreasonable, as outlined below. The charged student will receive notice that they have accepted responsibility for violating the Code of Conduct as well as a complete list of the sanction(s) that were rejected and the process for requesting different sanction(s). A student who accepts responsibility for violating the Code of Conduct but rejects the sanction(s) waives the right to an Administrative Hearing, but retains the right of appeal of the sanction(s) only through a Request for Reconsideration of Sanction\(s\).
 - iii. To deny responsibility for violating the Code of Conduct and request an Administrative Hearing. A student who denies responsibility for violating the Code of Conduct retains the right to both an Administrative Hearing and full appeal.
- f. A student who chooses not to attend a pre-hearing will be found responsible based only on input only from the complainant. Sanction(s) will be applied without the student's input. The student will be notified of the outcome, including the sanctions applied. The student will retain the right to appeal this outcome.

2. Procedures for Administrative Hearings

- a. The complainant, all co-charged students who request an Administrative Hearing, the Administrative Hearing Officer, the University advisor (if any) and an Office of Student Conduct designee (if any), shall be present for the entirety of the hearing.
- b. Witnesses
 - i. A witness (including any victim, with a University advisor, if any) may only be present during the time the witness presents information.
 - ii. Only direct witnesses (those having factual information pertinent to the pending case) will be permitted. Character witnesses will not be permitted.
 - iii. The Administrative Hearing Officer has the right to recall any witness at any time during the hearing.
- c. Hearings shall be closed to all other parties.

- d. All parties are expected to act in a professional and civil manner. If the Administrative Hearing Officer determines the complainant causes a disruption, the complainant will be removed, the hearing will end and all charge(s) will be dropped. If the Administrative Hearing Officer determines the charged student causes a disruption, the charged student (and a University advisor, if any) will be removed and the hearing will continue in the student's absence. If any witness causes a disruption, the witness will be removed and the hearing will continue in their absence.
- e. The complainant must attend the hearing unless an appropriate designee has been approved by the Office of Student Conduct. In certain situations, the complainant may be accompanied by an advisor or co-complainant.
- f. The complainant shall present information regarding the allegation(s) against the charged student(s) and may present witnesses to support the complaint. The Administrative Hearing Officer may question the complainant and any of the complainant's witnesses who are present for the hearing. The charged student(s), with the assistance of a University advisor (if any), will then have the opportunity to question the complainant and any of the complainant's witnesses who are present for the hearing.
- g. The charged student(s) then may, with the assistance of a University advisor (if any) present a response to the allegation(s). This response may include additional information (such as written documents, photographs, audio/video files, etc.) to be added to the student's disciplinary file, which will then become a permanent part of that file. Any such information must be factually related to the case. Information pertaining to character or authorities outside the University may not be presented. The Administrative Hearing Officer may question the charged student(s) and any witnesses for the charged student(s) who are present for the hearing. The complainant will then have the opportunity to question the charged student(s) and witnesses for the charged student(s) who are present for the hearing.
- h. The complainant and the charged student(s) may, in that order, present concluding remarks. The Administrative Hearing Officer will then close the hearing.
- i. The Administrative Hearing Officer may exclude any information that is irrelevant or redundant to the allegations.

- j. Proof that the violation occurred must be established by a preponderance of the information, meaning it is more likely than not the allegations are true.
- k. If the Administrative Hearing Officer finds the charged student(s) has violated any or all of the policies alleged to have been violated, information shared during the hearing as well as information concerning the charged student's past disciplinary record (including Student Conduct System actions, housing policy violations, civil or criminal court convictions, and any other information deemed relevant by the Administrative Hearing Officer) may be considered in determining the appropriate sanction(s). The Administrative Hearing Officer may also consult with the Dean of Students (or designee) in order to ensure appropriateness and reasonableness of the sanctions. The Administrative Hearing Officer may apply different sanctions (either less or more stringent) than the proposed sanctions discussed in the pre-hearing.
- l. An audio recording will be made of all Administrative Hearings, for review and appeal purposes. No other electronic devices (including, but not limited to, cellphones, computers and additional recorders) may be used during the hearing, unless expressly permitted by the Administrative Hearing Officer. To protect student confidentiality and the integrity of its process, the University does not provide copies of these audio recordings. However, to aid in the preparation of an appeal, an appealing student may listen to the audio recording and may be accompanied by a University advisor. No copies or recordings of any kind may be made by the student or advisor.
- m. The Administrative Hearing Officer shall send a written decision to the Office of Student Conduct after the conclusion of the hearing. The decision notice shall contain:
 - i. A summary of the charge(s) and the incident from which these charge(s) originated;
 - ii. The Administrative Hearing Officer's findings and rationale;
 - iii. The sanction(s) imposed by the Administrative Hearing Officer (if any); and
 - iv. A statement describing the charged student's right to appeal and the procedures for doing so.

- n. The Office of Student Conduct will notify the charged student(s) and the complainant via e-mail of the outcome, rationale, sanction(s) applied (if any), and the right of appeal. The Office of Student Conduct will notify the victim of any outcome or sanction that affects the victim.
- o. The charged student may appeal the Administrative Hearing Officer's decision within 5 business days of the date on which the decision was sent.
- p. A copy of the Administrative Hearing Officer's decision will be maintained by the Office of Student Conduct in accordance with the retention policy, as defined in Section II.G.

3. Procedures for Appeals

- a. Request for Reconsideration of Sanction(s)
 - i. The charged student must submit a Request for Reconsideration of Sanction(s) to the Office of Student Conduct within 5 business days of accepting responsibility for violating the Code of Conduct and receiving a list of the proposed sanction(s). Should the charged student fail to submit this request within 5 business days, the proposed sanction(s) will be applied, no appeal will be considered and the case will be closed.
 - ii. The Request for Reconsideration of Sanction(s)
 - a) Must explain why the proposed sanction(s) are inappropriate or unreasonable. The request may include what sanction(s) the charged student feels are appropriate;
 - b) Shall be prepared by the charged student with the assistance of a University advisor;
 - c) Must be computer printed and is limited to three double-spaced pages with one-inch margins and a 12-point font; and
 - d) Shall not include information disputing the charge(s) nor shall it include character information or citations to authorities outside the University.

- iii. At the discretion of the chair on the Appellate Board, all pages beyond the three-page limit may be disregarded or the entire Request may be rejected if it contains character information or citations to authorities outside the University or appears not to have been completed by the student.
- iv. Upon receipt of the Request for Reconsideration of Sanction(s), the Dean of Students (or designee) will send a copy of the request to the complainant and any other party deemed appropriate by the University, including the victim (if applicable). These parties may submit a response, limited to three double-spaced pages with one-inch margins and a 12-point font, to the Office of Student Conduct within 5 business days of the date on which the Request was sent. At the discretion of the chair of the Appellate Board, all pages beyond the three-page limit may be disregarded.
- v. The written request, responses from all appropriate parties and the charged student's entire disciplinary file will be reviewed in a closed meeting by an Appellate Board panel.
- vi. The Appellate Board, by majority vote, may decide to
 - a) Deny the Request for Reconsideration of Sanction(s) and apply the sanction(s) described in the pre-hearing; or
 - b) Reduce or otherwise limit the sanction(s) described in the pre-hearing. A reduction in penalty or duration may be accompanied by the imposition of educational assignment(s) or exercise(s) or a fee.
- vii. The Appellate Board's decision is final and will be implemented immediately by the Office of Student Conduct. The charged student will receive notice of the decision. The victim (if any) will receive notice of the decision and any sanction which affects them. The decision will be forwarded to the complainant and any other appropriate party who responded to the initial Request. Copies of this notice will be entered into the student's disciplinary record.
- viii. A copy of the Appellate Board's decision will be maintained by the Office of Student Conduct in accordance with the retention policy, as defined in Section II.G.

b. Appeal of Decision of Responsibility

- i. The charged student may submit an appeal to the Office of Student Conduct in writing within 5 business days of the date on which the decision was sent.
- ii. The appeal request must allege that
 - a) The decision is contrary to information presented at the hearing or contrary to new information not known at the time of the hearing;
 - b) Procedures were not followed during the process; or
 - c) One or more of the sanctions imposed are inappropriate or unreasonable.
- iii. The appeal request
 - a) Must clearly cite one or more of the reasons above. The failure of the University to adhere to notice requirements or time periods shall not be cause for dismissal nor grounds for appeal unless such failure materially prejudiced the charged student;
 - b) Shall be prepared by the student with the assistance of a University advisor;
 - c) Must be computer printed and is limited to three double-spaced pages with one-inch margins and a 12-point font; and
 - d) Shall not include character information or citations to authorities outside the University.
- iv. At the discretion of the chair of the Appellate Board all pages beyond the three-page limit may be disregarded or the entire appeal may be rejected if it contains character information or citations to authorities outside the University or appears not to have been prepared by the student.
- v. Upon receipt of the appeal request, the Dean of Students (or designee) will send a copy of the request to the complainant, the Administrative Hearing Officer and any other party deemed appropriate by the University, including the victim. These parties may submit a response, limited to three double-spaced pages with one-inch margins and a 12-point font, to the Office of Student Conduct within 5 business days of the date on which the appeal was sent. At the discretion of the chair of the Appellate Board, all pages beyond the three-page limit may be disregarded.

- vi. The written appeal, responses received from all appropriate parties and all documentation contained within the student's disciplinary file will be reviewed in a closed meeting by an Appellate Board panel.
- vii. The Appellate Board, by majority vote, may decide to:
 - a) Deny the appeal;
 - b) Reduce or otherwise limit the sanction(s) applied as a result of the Administrative Hearing. A reduction in penalty or duration may be accompanied by the imposition of educational assignment(s) or exercise(s) or a fee;
 - c) Delay a final review of the appeal to receive additional information regarding specific issues raised in the appeal. Responses may be solicited from the charged student, the complainant, the Administrative Hearing Officer, and any relevant witnesses;
 - d) Direct the Office of Student Conduct to provide a new hearing conducted by the Appellate Board, if it is determined the decision is contrary to information presented in the hearing or contrary to new information not available at the time of the hearing; or
 - e) Allow the student to have his or her case handled beginning at any specific stage of the Student Conduct process, if it is determined procedures were not followed.
- viii. The Appellate Board's decision, except any decision reached as the result of a re-hearing initiated due to procedural error, is final and will be implemented immediately by the Office of Student Conduct. The student, complainant and Administrative Hearing Officer will receive notice of the decision. The victim (if any) will receive notice of the decision and any sanction which affects the victim. A copy of this notice will be entered into the student's disciplinary file and will be maintained by the Office of Student Conduct in accordance with the retention policy, as defined in Section II.G

- ix. A decision reached as a result of a re-hearing initiated as a result of a due process violation will be subject to all appeal options as described in Section II.D.3.b.ii.

c. Appeal Initiated by Victim

- i. A victim (as defined in Section II.C.2) may submit an appeal to the Office of Student Conduct in writing within 5 business days of the date on which the decision was sent.
- ii. The appeal request
 - a) May only allege that a violation of victim's rights (as defined in Section II.C.2.b) occurred;
 - b) Shall be prepared by the student with the assistance of a University advisor only;
 - c) Must be computer-printed and shall be limited to three double-spaced pages with one-inch margins and a 12-point font; and
 - d) Shall not include character information or citations to authorities outside the University.
- iii. At the discretion of the chair of the Appellate Board, all pages beyond the three-page limit may be disregarded or the entire appeal may be rejected if it contains citations to authorities outside the University or appears not to have been prepared by the student.
- iv. Upon receipt of the appeal request, the Dean of Students (or designee) will send a copy of the request to the complainant, the charged student, the Administrative Hearing Officer, and any other party deemed appropriate by the University. These parties may submit a response, limited to three double-spaced pages with one-inch margins and a 12-point font, to the Office of Student Conduct within 5 business days of the date on which the appeal was sent. At the discretion of the chair of the Appellate Board, all pages beyond the three-page limit may be disregarded.

- v. The Appellate Board, by majority vote, may decide to:
 - a) Deny the appeal;
 - b) Delay a final review of the appeal to receive additional information regarding specific issues raised in the appeal. Responses may be solicited from the charged student, the victim, the complainant, the Administrative Hearing Officer, and any relevant witnesses; or
 - c) Grant the appeal and direct the Office of Student Conduct to provide a new hearing conducted by a new Administrative Hearing Officer.
- vi. The outcome of a new hearing may result in:
 - a) The same decision regarding responsibility and sanctions as made by the original Administrative Hearing Officer;
 - b) The same decision regarding responsibility but a different decision regarding sanctions as made by the original Administrative Hearing Officer; or
 - c) A different decision regarding responsibility and a different decision regarding sanctions as made by the original Administrative Hearing Officer.
- vii. The decision of the re-hearing will be subject to all appeal options as described in Section D.3.b.ii.
- viii. A copy of the Administrative Hearing Officer's decision will be maintained by the Office of Student Conduct in accordance with the retention policy, as defined in Section II.G.

d. Reduction in Length of Suspension

- i. No earlier than 10 business days before completing a suspension of at least two regular semesters (meaning Fall or Spring semester, not including Special Sessions) a student may submit a request for a reduction in the remaining period of suspension.
- ii. The appeal
 - a) May only address why a reduction in length is warranted;
 - b) Shall be prepared by the student with the assistance of a University advisor;
 - c) Must be computer printed and is limited to three double-spaced pages with one-inch margins and a 12-point font; and
 - d) Shall not include character information or citations to authorities outside the University.
- iii. At the discretion of the chair of the Appellate Board all pages beyond the three-page limit may be disregarded or the entire appeal may be rejected if it contains character information or citations to authorities outside the University or appears not to have been prepared by the student.
- iv. If granted, the Appellate Board may reduce the length of the suspension to however long deemed appropriate.
- v. If an appeal is denied, or a reduction of the original length remains longer than two regular semesters, the student may submit a new appeal no earlier than 10 business days before completing two more regular semesters of the suspension.

4. Operations of the Appellate Board

- a. Jurisdiction

The Appellate Board has sole appellate jurisdiction over decisions and sanction(s) of an Administrative Hearing Officer and any designee of the Dean of Students.

b. Appellate Board Pool

The Appellate Board pool shall be composed of undergraduate students, staff members and faculty members. Members of this pool will be eligible to serve on a panel after receiving appropriate training provided by the Office of Student Conduct.

c. Appellate Board Panel

A panel consists of four members, as follows:

- i. Three voting members - one undergraduate student, one staff member and one faculty member; and
- ii. One non-voting chair, who must have served as an Administrative Hearing officer for at least one year or a voting member for at least three years.

d. Selection of Appellate Board Members

i. Nomination

- a) Any member of the University community may self-nominate oneself for membership. For undergraduate students, this is accomplished by completing an application. For staff members and faculty, this is accomplished by contacting the Dean of Students (or designee) to express interest.
- b) The Dean of Students (or designee) may also contact the Student Government Association, the Resident Student Association and appropriate departments or individuals (for students), the Office of the Vice President for Student Life (for staff members) and the Faculty Senate (for faculty) to solicit interested parties.

ii. Selection

- a) Students

After completing an application, students will be screened to ensure they meet the following requirements:

- 1) Minimum GPA of 2.2; and
 - 2) No current disciplinary sanctions
- b) Those students who meet these requirements will participate in an interview process. The Dean of Students (or designee) will select members based on this process.
- c) Staff members and faculty
- i. After expressing their interest, faculty and staff may be asked to meet with the Dean of Students (or designee) to discuss the interest and describe time commitment and responsibilities.
 - ii. The Dean of Students (or designee) will then decide if selecting the staff or faculty is appropriate.
- d) The decision of the Dean of Students (or designee) to select or decline any applicant shall be final and binding.
- e. Term of Office
- i. Students may remain in the pool until they graduate from the University, provided they maintain a minimum GPA of 2.2 and do not violate any University policies. If a student does not maintain the minimum GPA, membership will be suspended temporarily until the student's GPA meets or exceeds that minimum. At that point, the student will be immediately eligible to serve. If a student is found responsible for violating any University policies and receives a disciplinary sanction other than a Disciplinary Warning, membership will be terminated. Once these sanctions are no longer current, the student may request, in writing, to be re-instated in the pool. If granted, the student would be eligible to serve at the start of the next semester or special session.
 - ii. Staff members and faculty members shall remain in the pool until they request to be removed, or are asked to end their service by the Dean of Students (or designee).

f. Responsibilities

Each member shall have the following responsibilities:

- i. To make attendance to all training sessions and Board meetings a priority. Frequent absences are grounds for removal;
- ii. To maintain objectivity and impartiality. A member must disqualify oneself from a hearing when the member feels objectivity cannot be maintained;
- iii. To maintain confidentiality. The nature and status of any student conduct situation may be discussed only with other members and those directly responsible for the administration of the Student Conduct System; and
- iv. To notify the Dean of Students (or designee) if any person attempts to influence a case or decision before the member.

g. Removal of Appellate Board Members

- i. Any member may be removed for cause. A person may request a member's removal through the Office of Student Conduct. The written request must include specific facts supporting the removal.
- ii. If the Dean of Students (or designee) determines that the allegation is supported by information, the member shall be informed. A meeting will be held to hear the request for removal and the accused member's response.
- iii. If it is determined that the member has violated any of the responsibilities above, the Dean of Students (or designee) shall make the final determination concerning removal or any other appropriate action.

E. Procedures for Graduate Student Conduct Process

The Graduate Student Conduct System is administered by the Associate Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education as authorized by the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education.

1. Initiation of the Graduate Student Conduct Process

- a. Any person may initiate a complaint against a graduate student by filing a complaint with the Associate Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education. The person or people submitting the complaint shall be referred to as the complainant. The exception to this standard is any complaint involving sexual misconduct, which will be reported to the Title IX Coordinator in the Office of Equity and Inclusion or a deputy Title IX Coordinator.
- b. If a complaint is made verbally, the Associate Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education (or designee), will summarize in writing the information received verbally, then share that summary with the complainant to ensure accuracy. If the complaint reasonably suggests that a violation of the Code of Conduct has occurred, then the Associate Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education shall provide written notice of the complaint to the student against whom it was filed.
 - i. Students seeking to file a complaint of disability discrimination must use the ADA process as outlined in Section IV.A.2.a.
 - ii. Students seeking to file a complaint of other discrimination or harassment must use the process outlined in Section IV.A.2.c.
- c. The notice to the charged student shall include:
 - i. The specific rule or regulation that the student is alleged to have violated, describing the time, date, and place of the occurrence, the name of the complainant, and the names of all known potential witnesses, assuming the potential witnesses agree to be identified and participate;
 - ii. The charged student's rights, including a description of the procedures to be used at the either an Administrative Action Hearing or a Graduate Board Hearing and the possible sanction(s) that may be rendered; and
 - iii. A statement that the charged student must meet with the Associate Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education within 5 business days of the date on which the notice was sent. Failure to attend this meeting may result in a finding of responsible based only on input from the complainant.

- d. During the initial meeting(s), the charged student will be:
 - i. Invited to review and discuss information contained in the student's disciplinary file;
 - ii. Encouraged to ask questions concerning the complaint;
 - iii. Informed of the student's rights within the Student Conduct System, including the options for resolving the charge(s); and
 - iv. Presented with the following options:
 - a) To accept responsibility and request an Administrative Action Hearing for the purpose of determining and applying the appropriate sanctions; or
 - b) To deny the charge(s) and request a hearing by the Graduate Hearing Board.
- e. If a charged student fails to attend the initial meeting within the specified period of time, the facts will be reviewed by the Associate Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education and a decision rendered and sanctions applied in the student's absence.

2. Procedures for Administrative Action Hearings

- a. The Administrative Action Hearing is in lieu of the student's right to a Graduate Board Hearing, and the charged student must sign a statement waiving the right to a Graduate Board Hearing.
- b. The Associate Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education (or designee) may consult with the complainant to clarify facts related to the matter. If, in consulting with the complainant, information significantly different from that given by the charged student is obtained, this information will be shared with the charged student before sanctions are applied.

- c. A charged student may appeal the sanctions applied as a result of an Administrative Action Hearing based on the following procedures:
- i. The charged student may submit a written request for appeal to the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education within 5 business days of the date on which the written decision was sent. Should the charged student fail to submit this request within 5 business days, the sanction(s) will be applied, no appeal will be considered and the case will be closed.
 - ii. The appeal request must allege that the sanction(s) imposed is inappropriate or unreasonable. The request may include what sanction(s) the charged student feels are appropriate.
 - iii. The written request must be computer printed and shall be limited to five double-spaced pages with one-inch margins and a 12-point font. The written request may be accompanied by documentation supporting the grounds for appeal.
 - iv. Upon receipt of the request for appeal, the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education will send a copy of the appeal request to the complainant, and any other relevant party, including any victim. These parties may submit a response in writing to the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education within 5 business days of the date on which the appeal was sent.
 - v. The Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education will review the written request, and may review any other documents presented as part of the appeal, and will determine whether there are sufficient grounds to adjust the sanctions.
 - vi. If the appeal is granted, the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Studies will impose adjusted sanctions and notify the student and all other parties deemed appropriate of the sanctions and the case will be closed. A victim will be informed of the outcome and any sanction that affects them.
 - vii. If the appeal is denied, the sanctions recommended in the Administrative Action Hearing will become effective immediately. The charged student and all other parties deemed appropriate will be notified of the denial and the case will be closed. A victim will be informed of the outcome and any sanction that affects them.

- d. The outcome of the Administrative Action Hearing will be maintained by the Office of Graduate and Professional Studies in accordance with the retention policy, as defined in Section II.G.

3. Procedures for Graduate Board Hearings

The chairperson of the Graduate Hearing Board will conduct the hearing according to the following procedures:

- a. Graduate Board Hearings shall be open to the complainant, the charged student, the advisor (if any), all members of the Graduate Hearing Board and the Associate Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education (or designee) for the entirety of the hearing.
- b. Witnesses (including victims, and University advisor, if any) shall be present only during the time they are sharing information regarding the incident or making a victim's impact statement.
- c. Hearings shall be closed to all other parties.
- d. The complainant must attend the hearing unless an appropriate designee has been approved by the Associate Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education prior to the hearing. Note: A complainant's failure to attend a hearing without prior approval may result in a dismissal of the charge(s). A second postponement of a hearing, even with cause, will result in a dismissal of the charge(s) unless there are serious extenuating circumstances.
- e. The complainant shall present the case against the charged student and may present witnesses to support the complaint. Members of the Graduate Hearing Board shall have the opportunity to question the complainant the complainant's witnesses who are present for the hearing. The charged student shall then have the opportunity to question the complainant and the complainant's witnesses who are present for the hearing. The charged student then may present a response to the complaint. Members of the Graduate Hearing Board shall have opportunity to question the charged student and the charged student's witnesses who are present for the hearing. The complainant shall then question the charged student and the charged student's witnesses who are present for the hearing. The Graduate Hearing Board has the right to question or recall witnesses at any time during the hearing. The complainant and the charged student may, in that order, present concluding remarks.

- f. Proof that the violation occurred must be established by a preponderance of the information, meaning it is more likely than not the allegations are true.
- g. The Graduate Hearing Board may exclude any information that is irrelevant to the hearing or has no bearing on the complaint or the hearing. The charged student may introduce information regarding his or her character.
- h. After all information has been presented and both the complainant and the charged student have been given an opportunity for a final statement, the chairperson of the Graduate Hearing Board will close the hearing.
- i. If the Graduate Hearing Board finds the charged student has violated all or any part of the policies alleged to have been violated, information concerning the charged student's past disciplinary record, including Student Conduct System actions, housing policy violations, civil or criminal court convictions, and any other information deemed relevant by the members of the Graduate Hearing Board may be considered in determining the appropriate sanction.
- j. The Associate Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education or his or her designee will make an audio recording of all hearings. To protect student confidentiality and the integrity of its process, the University does not provide copies of these audio recordings. However, to aid in the preparation of his or her appeal, an appealing student may listen to the audio recording in the presence of the Associate Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education or designee and may be accompanied by his or her University advisor. No other electronic devices (including, but not limited to, cellphones, computers and additional recorders) may be used during the hearing, unless expressly permitted by the Associate Provost for Graduate and Professional Education.
- k. The Graduate Hearing Board shall submit a written report to the Associate Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education within 5 business days of the conclusion of the hearing. The written report shall contain:

- i. A summary of the complaint and the charge(s);
 - ii. A summary of information presented at the hearing;
 - iii. A summary of the Graduate Hearing Board's findings and rationale;
 - iv. The Graduate Hearing Board's proposed sanction(s) (if any) and rationale; and
 - v. A statement describing the charged student's right to appeal and the procedures for doing so.
- l. The Associate Provost for Graduate and Professional Education will notify the charged student and the complainant of the findings, rationale, proposed sanction(s) (if any), and the appeal rights. The Associate Provost for Graduate and Professional Education will notify the victim of the findings and any sanction that affects the victim.
- m. The charged student may appeal the Graduate Hearing Board's decision within 5 business days of date on which the decision was sent.
- n. A copy of the Graduate Hearing Board's decision will be maintained in the Office of Graduate and Professional Education according to the retention policy, as defined in Section II.G.

4. Procedures for Graduate Appeals

- a. Initiated by the charged student
 - i. The charged student may submit a written request for appeal to the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education within 5 business days of the date on which the written decision was sent. Note: A student who accepts responsibility for violating the Code of Conduct waives his or her right to an appeal.
 - ii. The appeal request must allege:

- a) The decision is contrary to information presented at the hearing or contrary to new information not known at the time of the hearing;
 - b) Any hearing procedure was not properly followed; or
 - c) A sanction imposed is inappropriate or unreasonable.
- iii. The written request must be computer printed and shall be limited to five double-spaced pages with one-inch margins and a 12-point font. The written request may be accompanied by documentation supporting the grounds for appeal.
- iv. Upon receipt of the request for appeal, the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education will send a copy of the appeal request to the complainant, the chairperson of the Graduate Hearing Board, and any other relevant party. These parties may submit a response in writing to the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education within 5 business days of the date on which the request was sent.
- v. The Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education will review the written request, and may listen to the recording of the Graduate Board Hearing, review any documents presented during the Graduate Board Hearing, and will determine whether there are sufficient grounds for an Appellate Hearing and, if so, will defer the imposition of the sanction imposed by the Graduate Hearing Board pending the decision on the appeal.
- vi. If the appeal request is denied, the decision of the Graduate Hearing Board will become effective as of the date that the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education decides not to grant an Appellate Hearing.
- vii. If the appeal is granted, the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education will notify the charged student and the complainant of the time and place of the Appellate Hearing.
- viii. The only persons permitted to attend the Appellate Hearing will be:

- a) The complainant;
 - b) The charged student;
 - c) The charged student's University advisor from the Graduate Board Hearing (if any);
 - d) Witnesses (including any victim, and the victim's University advisor from the Graduate Board Hearing, if any) if their presence is necessary (as determined by the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education);
 - e) The Associate Provost for Graduate and Professional Education; and
 - f) The Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education or designee (who may not have been a member of the original Graduate Hearing Board.)
- ix. Failure to attend an Appellate Hearing by the charged student or complainant may result in the denial of the appeal. A second postponement, even with cause, will result in denial of the appeal unless there are serious extenuating circumstances.
- x. The Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education will open the Appellate Hearing by reading the request for appeal and informing the persons involved of the appellate hearing procedures, which include:
- a) The charged student may make a brief statement of the reason(s) for the appeal. If those reasons include new information, the charged student may present such information, and new witnesses (if any) may be subject to questioning by the charged student, the complainant and the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education.
 - b) The complainant may then address the specific issues presented in the request for appeal.
 - c) The Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education may interrupt the proceedings at any time to ask questions or to focus the proceedings on the specific points at issue.

- xi. Within 5 business days of the conclusion of the hearing, the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education shall issue a written decision consisting of the grounds for the appeal, the decision, and the rationale. Copies of this report will be forwarded to the charged student, the complainant, and the chairperson of the Graduate Hearing Board. A victim, if any, will be notified of the outcome and any sanction(s) that affect the victim.
- xii. The decision of the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education is final and will be implemented immediately.
- xiii. A copy of the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education's decision will be maintained in the Office of Graduate and Professional Education in accordance with the retention policy, as defined in Section II.G.

b. Initiated by a victim

- i. The victim may submit a written request for appeal to the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education within 5 business days of the date on which the written decision was sent.
- ii. The appeal request may only allege a violation of the victim's rights (as defined in Section II.C.3) occurred.
- iii. The written request must be typed or computer printed and shall be limited to five double-spaced pages with one-inch margins and a 12-point font. The written request may be accompanied by documentation supporting the grounds for appeal.
- iv. Upon receipt of the request for appeal, the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education will send a copy of the appeal request to the complainant, the chairperson of the Graduate Hearing Board, and any other relevant party including the charged student. These parties may submit a response in writing to the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education within 5 business days of the date on which the request was sent.

- v. The Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education will review the written request, and may listen to the recording of the Graduate Board Hearing, review any documents presented during the Graduate Board Hearing, and will determine whether there are sufficient grounds for an Appellate Hearing and, if so, will defer the imposition of the sanction imposed by the Graduate Hearing Board pending the decision on the appeal.
- vi. If the appeal request is denied, the decision of the Graduate Hearing Board will become effective as of the date that the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education decides not to grant an Appellate Hearing.
- vii. If the appeal is granted, the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education will notify the charged student and the complainant and the victim of the time and place of the Appellate Hearing.
- viii. The only persons permitted to attend the Appellate Hearing will be:
 - a) The complainant;
 - b) The charged student;
 - c) The charged student's University advisor from the Graduate Board Hearing (if any)
 - d) Witnesses (including any victim, and the victim's University advisor from the Graduate Board Hearing, if any) if their presence is necessary (as determined by the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education);
 - e) The Associate Provost for Graduate and Professional Education; and
 - f) The Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education or his or her designee (who may not have been a member of the original Graduate Hearing Board.)

- ix. Failure to attend an Appellate Hearing by the charged student or complainant may result in the denial of the appeal. A second postponement, even with cause, will result in denial of the appeal unless there are serious extenuating circumstances.
- x. The Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education will open the Appellate Hearing by reading the request for appeal and informing the persons involved of the appellate hearing procedures, which includes:
 - a) The victim may make a brief statement explaining why he or she feels a violation of victim's rights occurred.
 - b) The complainant may then address the specific issues presented in the request for appeal.
 - c) The charged student may address the specific issues presented in the request for appeal.
 - d) The Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education may interrupt the proceedings at any time to ask questions or to focus the proceedings on the specific points at issue.
- xi. Within 5 business days of the conclusion of the hearing, the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education shall issue a written decision consisting of the grounds for the appeal, the decision, and the rationale. Copies of this report will be forwarded to the charged student, the complainant, and the chairperson of the Graduate Hearing Board.
- xii. The decision of the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education is final and will be implemented immediately.
- xiii. A copy of the Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education's decision will be maintained in the Office of Graduate and Professional Education in accordance with the retention policy, as defined in Section II.F.

5. Graduate Hearing Board

a. Jurisdiction

The Graduate Hearing Board will have jurisdiction over alleged violations of the Code of Conduct by graduate students when the charged student contests the pending charge(s).

b. Composition

The Graduate Hearing Board shall consist of 3 faculty members approved by the chairperson of the Faculty Senate Committee on Graduate Studies. At least 1 faculty member will be from the student's department, program, or non-departmentalized college, and 2 faculty members will be members of the Faculty Senate Committee on Graduate Studies. The chairperson of the Graduate Hearing Board may not be from the charged student's academic program.

F. Procedures for Student Organizations

1. Student organizations are reminded that they are bound by the University's Code of Conduct, and that each use of the word "student" in the Code of Conduct means student organization. Student organizations are encouraged to review Section I.Q Student Organizations of the Code of Conduct and Section III.E for additional rules and procedures applicable to those organizations.
2. An Administrative Hearing for a student organization will be processed by the Undergraduate Student Conduct System. Hearings will be conducted with the organization's highest ranking officer representing the organization.
3. Any violation of this Code of Conduct by one or more members of a student organization may constitute a violation by the organization itself. Where those administering the Student Conduct System conclude that there is sufficient connection between the acts of individual students and an organization to which they belong, sanction(s) may be imposed on the organization as well as any offending member. Conversely, when an organization has been found responsible for violating the Code of Conduct, those administering the Student Conduct System may impose sanctions on some or all members of that organization depending upon the degree of participation in the violation.

4. In the event that a student or group is charged with a violation under this Code, it shall not be a defense that the organization in question is one which is no longer recognized by the University as a result of its status being rescinded, revoked or suspended.

G. Retention of Disciplinary Records

The University's retention policy is as follows:

1. For a student enrolled in Bachelor's, Master's or doctoral degree programs:
 - a. When an outcome of responsible is reached, and all appeal rights have been exhausted, and as a result a student receives any sanction other than suspension or expulsion, all records will be retained in the student's disciplinary file until the student's graduation, or, in the event that a student ceases to maintain his or her matriculated status, until fifteen months past the student's originally anticipated graduation date.
 - b. When an outcome of responsible is reached, and all appeal rights have been exhausted, and as a result a student is suspended from the University, all records will be retained in the student's disciplinary file for 5 calendar years after the student's actual or anticipated graduation, whichever occurs later.
 - c. When an outcome of responsible is reached, and all appeal rights have been exhausted, and as a result a student is expelled from the University, all records will be permanently retained in the student's disciplinary file.
2. For a student enrolled in an Associate in Arts degree program:
 - a. When an outcome of responsible is reached, and all appeal rights have been exhausted, and as a result a student receives any sanction other than suspension or expulsion, all records will be retained in the student's disciplinary file until:
 - i. the student's graduation from a bachelor's degree program; or
 - ii. in the event the student does not matriculate into a bachelor's degree program, fifteen months after obtaining an Associate's degree; or

- iii. in the event ceases to maintain his or her matriculated status in the Associate in Arts program, fifteen months past the student's original anticipated graduation date from the Associate in Arts program.
 - b. When an outcome of responsible is reached, and all appeal rights have been exhausted, and as a result a student is suspended from the University, all records will be retained in the student's disciplinary file for 5 calendar years after the student's actual or anticipated graduation with a bachelor's degree, whichever occurs later.
 - c. When an outcome of responsible is reached, and all appeal rights have been exhausted, and as a result a student is expelled from the University, all records will be permanently retained in the student's disciplinary file
- 3. For a student organization, when an outcome of responsible is reached, and all appeal rights have been exhausted, all records will be maintained permanently.
 - 4. When an outcome of not responsible is reached and all appeal rights have been exhausted, or when the charge(s) is dropped, all records will be destroyed within 60 days of the final decision.
 - 5. Federal law currently requires the retention of certain data and records of certain disciplinary infractions. Where the above-described policy provides for the "destruction" of a record, the University, in order to comply with federal law, may accomplish such "destruction" by editing all student identifying information from such record.

H. Administrative Actions

1. Parental Notification

As permitted by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, when a final outcome of responsible is reached in cases involving alcohol, drugs or violence, or when a sanction of Deferred Suspension, Suspension or Expulsion is applied, the University will contact the parent or legal guardian of a student who is tax dependent as appropriate.

2. Fees

The University may assess a fee in conjunction with any case handled by the Office of Student Conduct. All fees are charged to the student's billing account.

3. Administrative Holds

The University may place a registration or transcript hold on a student's account. This hold will be placed to ensure the student completes any pending business (including unfinished sanctions) with the Office of Student Conduct. Holds will be removed solely at the discretion of the Dean of Students or designee.

I. Emergency Suspension

When a student or student organization repeatedly or persistently commits a violation of the Code of Conduct, either on campus or off, or where the continued presence of the student or organization on-campus poses a threat to safety or the rights, welfare, or property of another, the Dean of Students or his or her designee (for undergraduate students and organizations) or the Associate Provost for Graduate and Professional Education or his or her designee (for graduate students) may impose an emergency suspension subject to the following provisions:

1. An emergency suspension is an interim action, effective immediately.
2. The emergency suspension shall last until the charged student's case is resolved in accordance with prescribed procedures.
3. Should the student request an Administrative Hearing, this hearing will take place within 3 business days from the imposition of the emergency suspension.
4. At the conclusion of the hearing, the Administrative Hearing Officer shall decide whether to continue, alter or modify the emergency suspension. This decision will be shared with the charged student immediately after this decision is reached and cannot be appealed.
5. Within 3 business days of the conclusion of the hearing, the Administrative Hearing Officer will render a final decision regarding responsibility and sanctions (if appropriate), which will be shared with the charged student, complainant and victims (if applicable).

6. Should an appeal be submitted, the standards outlined in Section D.3 will be followed except that all deadlines will be 3 business days rather than 5 business days.
7. A request by the charged student for an extension of the date of the emergency suspension hearing date or for the appeal deadline, if granted, will be extended only for an additional two days and no further notice will be required.

Note: In the case of certain criminal charges, the imposition of an Emergency Suspension may be superseded by the Withdrawal process set forth below.

J. Withdrawal When Certain Charges are Pending

1. Any student charged in any jurisdiction with a crime involving violence, the sale, manufacture or delivery of drugs or any other conduct egregiously offensive to the University's mission may be immediately withdrawn from the University, according to the following procedures:
 - a. The student shall have the right to a meeting with the Dean of Students within 3 business days from the imposition of the Withdrawal at which time the accused shall be provided the opportunity to demonstrate that withdrawal is inappropriate because
 - i. The student is not charged with a crime as listed above;
 - ii. The alleged crime, even if proven, has no bearing on any legitimate University interest; or
 - iii. The withdrawal is manifestly unjust.
 - b. The Dean of Students will decide whether to continue or rescind the Withdrawal and will communicate this decision to the student within 24 hours of the conclusion of the meeting. The decision of the Dean of Students is final and may not be appealed.
 - c. The Withdrawal shall be noted on the student's transcript; however, no disciplinary record or sanction shall be created or imposed solely on the basis of the withdrawal.

- d. The Withdrawal shall remain in effect until the earlier of:
 - i. The dismissal of all pending charge(s) against the student;
 - ii. The acquittal of the student on all pending charge(s);
 - iii. A full adjudication by the Student Conduct System, if appropriate, of all charge(s) and complaints of the Code of Conduct relating to the conduct from which the charge(s) derive.
2. This Withdrawal requirement is a supplement to the Emergency Suspension procedures provided above and in no way limits any rights of the University to impose any additional or different disciplinary sanction.

III. Sanctions

The University administration reserves the absolute discretion to determine appropriate sanctions to be imposed upon a student for any violation of the Code of Conduct. The sanctions explained below may be cumulative, and no sanction need be exhausted before any other sanction may be imposed. Sanctions may be determined based on a past disciplinary record, the severity of behavior, or the impact upon the community. Sanctions may be tailored to specific situations. Therefore, the following list is not exhaustive.

- Descriptions of Sanctions
- Enhanced Sanctions for Certain Acts
- Sanctions for Violations of Academic Honesty Policy
- Sanctions for Alcohol or Drug Policy Violations
- Sanctions for Student Organizations

A. Descriptions of Sanctions

Sanctions include, but are not limited to:

1. Education

Educational sanctions provide a student the opportunity to review conduct expectations, understand how behavior can contribute to a positive and beneficial University experience and learn of campus resources which support academic and non-academic success. Examples of educational sanctions include writing a research or reflective paper, attending a seminar, or meeting with members of various University offices.

2. Disciplinary Warning

A disciplinary warning is an official written notice expressing disapproval of conduct and a statement that the conduct violates one or more University rules or regulations.

3. Notice of Reprimand

A notice of reprimand is a written notification that a student's conduct was inappropriate for a member of the University community. Continued violations of the Code of Conduct will result in more serious disciplinary sanctions.

4. Disciplinary Probation

Disciplinary probation is a period of review during which the student or organization must demonstrate the ability to comply with University rules, regulations, and all other stipulated requirements.

5. Deferred Suspension from Residence Halls or Graduate Housing

Deferred suspension from residence halls or graduate housing is a period of review during which the student must demonstrate the ability to comply with University rules, regulations, and all other stipulated requirements. If, during the period of deferred suspension, the student is again found responsible for violating any University policy or an order of a member of the Student Conduct System, the student will be suspended immediately from the residence hall or graduate housing.

6. Deferred Suspension from the University

Deferred suspension from the University is a period of review during which the student must demonstrate an ability to comply with University rules, regulations, and all other stipulated requirements. If, during the period of the deferred suspension, the student is again found responsible for violating any University policy or regulation or an order of a member of the Student Conduct System, the student will be immediately suspended from the University.

7. Suspension and Ban from Residence Halls or Graduate Housing

Suspension from residence halls or graduate housing prohibits a student from residing in a residence hall or other University housing during the period of suspension. A student who is suspended from the residence halls or graduate housing is responsible for the full cost of the housing space for the remainder of the academic year. Housing deposits for the following academic year also may be forfeited according to established cancellation deadlines.

During the period of suspension from the residence halls or graduate housing, the student is banned from entering any and all residence halls or other housing owned by the University of Delaware. Unless otherwise noted, this ban includes non-residential areas included within a residence complex, including, but not limited to, dining halls, convenience stores, fitness centers and computer labs. Entrance into these facilities will be viewed as a violation of this sanction and the student will be confronted and charged accordingly for trespassing and failure to comply.

8. Suspension from the University

Suspension from the University requires a student to be withdrawn from all classes, suspended from the residence halls or graduate housing (if applicable), banned from all University facilities (and subject to arrest for trespassing and a charge of Failure to Comply), rendered ineligible to register for any University class, and prohibited from participating in University activities for the period of the suspension. A student who is suspended from the University is nonetheless responsible for all financial obligations to the University. The student's transcript will indicate that the student was withdrawn by the University. Students who further violate the Code of Conduct during the period of suspension or after returning to the University may be expelled.

A student who is suspended for multiple years may submit an appeal when a suspension of more than two regular semesters (meaning Fall or Spring Semesters, not including Special Sessions) has been served and the student wishes a reduction in the remaining period of suspension.

9. Expulsion from the University

Expulsion is permanent separation and removal from the University. The sanction of expulsion must be approved by the University president or the president's designee. Expulsion requires a student to be withdrawn from all classes, suspended from the residence halls or graduate housing (if applicable), banned from all University facilities (and subject to arrest for trespassing), rendered ineligible to register for any University class, and prohibited from participating in University activities. The student's transcript will indicate that the student was withdrawn by the University.

10. Restitution

The University may require restitution for damage, destruction, or theft of University or other property. These charges may not be in excess of the damage or loss incurred and may be imposed together with other sanctions listed here.

11. Other Sanctions

The University may impose any other sanction, depending upon the circumstances and the nature of the violation.

B. Enhanced Sanctions for Certain Acts

1. Bias-Related Acts

The University has a “zero tolerance” for hate crimes and bias-related conduct. When a student has been found to have violated the Code of Conduct and the facts demonstrate that the offender has directed his or her behavior towards someone because of that person’s actual or perceived particular race, color, national origin, sex, disability, age, veteran status, gender identity or expression or sexual orientation, the sanctions may be enhanced as deemed appropriate by those determining the sanctions.

2. Acts of Sexual Misconduct

To ensure that all members of the University community are free from the negative effects of sexual assault, sexual harassment, intimate partner violence, stalking or sex discrimination, when a student has been found to have violated the Sexual Misconduct Policy and any of these factors are present, the sanctions may be enhanced as deemed appropriate by those determining the sanctions.

C. Sanctions for Violations of Academic Honesty Policy

1. Statement of Policy

In addition to sanctions set forth above, the University may impose a specific academic sanction for an academic violation. Before deciding on an academic sanction, a faculty member must inquire about the student’s past academic violations and incorporate that information into a decision about appropriate action. Questions concerning violations by undergraduate students should be referred to the Office of Student Conduct and questions concerning violations by graduate students to the Office of Graduate and Professional Education.

It is contrary to University policy for a faculty member to lower a grade on an academic work or academic exercise when a violation of the Academic Honesty Policy is suspected without working with the Office of Student Conduct or the Office of Graduate and Professional Education. Such an independent action violates the student's guaranteed right to due process and leaves the faculty member vulnerable to a grade grievance. Similarly, students are prohibited from proposing and/or entering into an agreement with a faculty member to receive a grade of "F" or any reduced grade on an academic exercise or in the course so as to avoid being charged with a violation of the Academic Honesty Policy.

The following list of sanctions is not exhaustive, and the University may impose additional or different sanctions than those listed.

2. Procedures for Academic Honesty Violations

- a. When a faculty member suspects a student of an academic violation, the faculty member will contact the Office of Student Conduct (for undergraduate students) or the Office of Graduate and Professional Education (for graduate students) to inquire about the student's past academic violations (if any) and discuss the appropriate academic sanctions. The faculty member must choose one of the following:
 - i. Option A: The faculty member may require the student to repeat any work affected by the academic violation. When the faculty member chooses to have the student repeat affected work, the faculty member may impose a grade penalty on that work.
 - ii. Option B: The faculty member may issue the student a lower or failing grade on all or any portion of the work affected by the academic violation, a lower or failing grade in the course or may require that the student be withdrawn from the course.
 - iii. Option C: The student will receive a failing grade in the class in which the violation occurred, and an "X" will be placed on the student's University transcript, with an explanation on the transcript that the failure resulted from the student's academic violation.

The student who wishes to remove the "X" from the transcript may complete a non-credit seminar offered by the University which addresses academic honesty and the ethical and social ramifications of violations of this standard. A student who successfully completes this seminar will have the "X" removed from the transcript and replaced with an "F". All costs or fees associated with the seminar shall be paid by the student.

Once the case is resolved, the student may not be permitted to return to the class in which the violation occurred.

- b. The faculty member will forward all supporting documents and information regarding the academic violation to the Office of Student Conduct or Office of Graduate and Professional Education within 5 business days of notifying that office.
- c. After an academic penalty has been recommended by the faculty member, the Office of Student Conduct or Office of Graduate and Professional Education will recommend additional sanctions (educational and/or disciplinary), based on both the severity of the academic violation and the student's past violations (both academic and others), if any.
- d. Resolution of the academic case will proceed in the same manner as any other case as described in the Student Conduct System section of this Guide. If a student denies responsibility for violating the Academic Honesty Policy and is found to have committed a violation as the result of an Administrative Hearing, the academic sanction imposed may be no more stringent than that which the faculty member initially prescribed.
- e. When a student is charged with an academic honesty violation and the case is referred to the Student Conduct System, a grade of "I" should be given until the case is completed.

D. Sanctions for Alcohol or Drug Policy Violations

1. Specific Disciplinary Measures

In addition to the sanctions listed in Section III.A above, additional, specific disciplinary measures may be imposed for each violation of the University's Alcohol Policy:

- a. Any student found responsible for a violation of the Alcohol Policy must complete an alcohol education program and may (depending upon the nature of the violation or the student's previous violations) be referred for an evaluation with a Substance Abuse Counselor.

- b. Any student found responsible for a violation of the Drug Policy must complete a drug education program and may (depending upon the nature of the violation or the student's previous violations) be referred for an evaluation administered by a Substance Abuse Counselor.

2. Medical Amnesty/Good Samaritan Protocol

Student health and safety are of primary concern at the University of Delaware. As such, in cases of intoxication and/or alcohol poisoning, the University encourages individuals to seek medical assistance for themselves or others. If an individual seeks medical attention due to their level of intoxication, the Office of Student Conduct may not pursue conduct sanctions against the student for violations of the Alcohol Policy. In lieu of student conduct sanctions, the intoxicated student (and possibly the referring student) will be required to meet with a member of the Office of Student Conduct staff who may issue educational requirements such as an alcohol education class and/or an alcohol and substance abuse assessment.

Those students who assist in obtaining medical attention for individuals who are intoxicated may not receive student conduct sanctions for violations of the Alcohol Policy.

Please note: Medical Amnesty will not be granted to students who do not seek medical assistance. Students who are confronted by university staff (such as an RA or UDPD) will be referred to the Office of Student Conduct for alleged policy violations.

Amnesty will be granted to students who may have violated the Alcohol Policy at the time of an incident when they became a victim of sexual assault, sexual harassment or other forms of sexual misconduct. Therefore, a charge of violating the Alcohol Policy will not be applied to a student who reports being under the influence of alcohol at the time of an incident involving sexual assault, sexual harassment or other form of sexual misconduct. Please see more information in the Sexual Misconduct Policy.

Students are encouraged to read the complete Medical Amnesty/Good Samaritan Protocol.

E. Sanctions for Student Organizations

1. Statement of Policy

- a. In addition to the specific sanctions listed in Section III.A above, a student organization may face additional or different sanctions for its conduct and the conduct of one or more of its members.

2. Sanctions

Examples of sanctions that may be imposed upon a student organization include, but are not limited to:

- a. Notice of Reprimand Issued to a Student Organization

A notice of reprimand is a written notification that a student organization's conduct was inappropriate for a member of the University community. Continued violations of the Code of Conduct will result in more serious disciplinary sanctions.

- b. Disciplinary Probation of a Student Organization

Disciplinary probation is a period of review during which the organization must demonstrate the ability to comply with University rules, regulations, and all other stipulated requirements.

- c. Deferred Suspension of a Student Organization

Deferred suspension of an organization is a period of review during which the organization must demonstrate an ability to comply with University rules, regulations, and other stipulated requirements. If, during the period of the deferred suspension, the organization is again found responsible for violating any University rule or an order of Administrative Hearing Officer or member of the Student Conduct System, the organization, and its registration, privileges, and chapter status, will be immediately suspended.

- d. Suspension of Registration/Chapter Privileges

- i. A student organization's privileges, chapter status, and registration may be suspended for a specified period of time. Upon the end of the suspension, and before a group is allowed to return, a petition must be submitted to the Office of Activities and Programs, or other appropriate University official, which demonstrates in a sufficient manner, as determined by the University in its sole discretion, the following:

- a) The issues leading to the organization's suspension have been remedied;
 - b) Those wishing to revive the organization's status understand the University's policies and procedures and are willing to and capable of following them;
 - c) The organization and its members have complied with the suspension, have not engaged in conduct aimed at ignoring or frustrating the suspension; and
 - d) Have committed no intervening violations of the Code of Conduct.
- ii. In the event that a student organization is suspended from the University, the organization may not during the term of the suspension:
 - a) Meet as an organization;
 - b) Recruit members;
 - c) Engage in social functions of any type;
 - d) Use University buildings, facilities, property, and equipment;
 - e) Use University resources, services, or funds;
 - f) Participate or attempt to participate as an organization in any University event; or
 - g) Co-sponsor or participate as an organization in another registered/recognized organization's activities.
- iii. In a case where a violation has been found but no suspension has been imposed upon the offending student organization, any one or more of the privileges set forth above may be suspended.

IV. GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES AND SPECIAL PROBLEMS

- Grievances
 - Statement of Policy
 - Grievance Procedures
 - ADA Grievance
 - Grade Grievance
 - Discrimination and Harassment Grievance
- Special Problems
 - Student Behavior Consultation Team
 - Medical Leave of Absence
 - Military Leave
 - Missing Students

A. Grievances

1. Statement of Policy

- a. The University of Delaware does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, religion, age, veteran status, gender identity or expression, or sexual orientation in its programs and activities as required by Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and other applicable statutes and University policies. The following people have been designated to handle various inquiries:
 - i. For inquiries regarding the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Rehabilitation Act, and related statutes and regulations: Anne Jannarone, Director, Office of Disabilities Support Services, 119 Alison Hall, University of Delaware, Newark, DE 19716, 302-831-4643.
 - ii. For inquiries regarding the non-discrimination policies and to serve as the overall campus coordinator for purposes of Title IX compliance: Susan L. Groff, Director, Institutional Equity and Title IX Coordinator, 305 Hullihen Hall, Newark, DE 19716, 302-831-8065. The following individuals have been designated as deputy Title IX coordinators:

- a) For undergraduate students: Adam Cantley, Associate Dean of Students, 101 Hullihen Hall, University of Delaware, Newark, DE 19716, 302-831-8939
 - b) For graduate students: Mary Martin, Associate Vice Provost for Graduate and Professional Education, 234 Hullihen Hall, Newark, DE, 19716, 302-831-8916;
 - c) For Athletics: Richard Stumpf, Associate Director-Compliance, Intercollegiate Athletics, Bob Carpenter Center, University of Delaware, Newark, DE 19716, 302-831-0833; and
 - d) For faculty: Matthew Kinservik, Vice Provost for Faculty Affairs, Hullihen Hall, Newark, DE 19716, 302-831-2793.
- iii. For Inquiries concerning Title VI and VII compliance: Office of Equity and Inclusion, 305 Hullihen Hall, Newark, DE 19716, 302-831-8063.
 - iv. For Inquiries concerning compliance with the Age Discrimination Act or Age Discrimination in Employment Act: Patricia Fogg, Director, Labor and Employee Relations, 413 Academy St., Newark, DE 19716, 302-831-1102.

b. Development of Grievances

The student grievance procedure was established during the 1976-77 academic year, in part as a response to guidelines established by the United States Department of Health, Education, and Welfare related to non-discrimination on the basis of sex (Title IX). University procedure states that "if a University of Delaware student alleges that he or she has been grieved because of perceived discrimination on the basis of race, sex, or handicap, or because a faculty member or University official failed to follow established procedure, the student may utilize the student grievance procedure."

c. Categories of Grievances

Student grievance complaints generally fall into four categories:

- i. Americans with Disabilities Act ("ADA") complaints: a claim that alleges any actions prohibited by Section 504 of the Rehabilitation

Act of 1973 or the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C. § 12101, et. seq.

- ii. Grade complaints: a claim that an inappropriate grade has been assigned because of a faculty member's bias or failure to follow an established standard for assigning a grade. A grade complaint may not be based solely on a claim that a faculty member exercised allegedly erroneous academic judgment (i.e., a student may not complain that class standards are too high, reading is too heavy, the grade curve too low, and so on).
- iii. Harassment complaints: a claim that alleges any instance of abuse, ill-treatment, or exploitation involving the irresponsible or unjust misuse of a position of authority, power, or trust.
- iv. Other grievances not described above.

d. Grievance Process Does Not Replace the Student Conduct Process

The rights and procedures established here do not replace or supersede the Student Conduct System. A pending ADA, grade or other grievance made by a student does not halt any ongoing Student Conduct System process involving that student.

2. Grievance Procedures

a. ADA Grievance Complaints

The ADA grievance procedure is as follows:

- i. All ADA complaints shall be submitted to the University ADA Coordinator or, in the event that the complaint alleges a violation by the Director of Disability Services, to the Provost (or designee.) In that event, all references here to the ADA Coordinator shall mean the Provost or the Provost's designee.
- ii. All complaints must be filed in writing, must contain the name and address of the complainant, and must describe the alleged violation.
- iii. The complaint must be filed within 90 calendar days after the complainant becomes aware of the alleged violation.

- iv. The University will conduct an informal investigation, affording all interested persons and their representatives with notice and an opportunity to be heard and to submit relevant information.
- v. A written decision on the complaint and a description of the proposed resolution, if any, will be issued by the ADA Coordinator no later than 15 business days after the complaint's submission.
- vi. The ADA Coordinator will, subject to University procedures and any applicable laws or regulations, maintain the files and records relating to the complaint.
- vii. If the student wishes to appeal the ADA Coordinator's written determination or proposed resolution, the student may appeal within 15 business days of the date on which the determination was sent. The appeal request must be in writing, describe the basis for the appeal, and be submitted to the Office of the Dean of Students.
- viii. A written decision on the appeal, and a description of the resolution, if any, will be issued by the Dean of Students no later than 15 business days after its submission. The determination of the Dean of Students shall be final and binding.

b. Grade Grievance and Other Related Academic Complaints

The procedure to file a grade grievance and other related academic complaint is as follows:

- i. A student with a complaint should, where appropriate, first try to reach agreement with the faculty member. This concern will be forwarded to the faculty member, in writing, within 10 business days of the end of the semester. Upon being notified of a student complaint, the faculty member must meet with the student to discuss the complaint within 10 business days.
- ii. If the faculty member does not meet with the student within 10 business days, or if such a meeting would be inappropriate under the circumstances, or if the issue remains unresolved after a meeting between the student and the faculty member, the student may submit a written appeal to the faculty member's department chairperson (or designee), who will attempt to mediate the complaint. If the student does not know the faculty member's department, or cannot ascertain the department chairperson, the student should contact the Office of the Dean of Students (if an undergraduate student) and the Office of the Assistant Provost for Graduate and Professional Education (if a graduate student). The appeal must be submitted within 5 business days of the meeting between the student and the faculty member.

- iii. The department chair (or designee) must issue a written decision on the appeal and a description of the proposed resolution, if any, no later than 15 business days after its submission.
- iv. A student may appeal a decision by the department chair (or designee) to the dean of the college in which the department is organized. If requested, the department chair (or designee) shall provide the name and contact information for the appropriate dean to the student. This appeal request must be submitted no more than 5 business days after the date on which the department chair's decision was sent.
- v. The dean will select the members of the hearing panel within 15 business days of receiving the appeal or, if that is too close to the end of a semester or session, within 15 days after the beginning of the next semester. This hearing panel shall consist of 5 members, 3 faculty members and 2 students. Of the faculty members, only 1 may be from the same department as the faculty member in question. The other 2 faculty members shall be drawn from other departments within that college or, if the college has too few departments, from other colleges. Of the student members, both must be either undergraduate students (if the student submitting the grievance is an undergraduate) or graduate students (if the student submitting the grievance is a graduate student.) Neither of the student members may be enrolled in the department of the faculty member in question.
- vi. The hearing panel shall:
 - a) Select the date, time and location of the hearing and notify the student and faculty member of this information.
 - b) Make available to the student and faculty member, at least 5 business days prior to the hearing, all material that has been furnished to the hearing panel and the names of any witnesses who may give testimony.

- c) Provide the student and faculty member with the opportunity to hear all testimony and examine all documents or other materials presented to the hearing panel.
 - d) Provide the student and faculty member with the opportunity to question each witness.
 - e) Allow the student and faculty member each to be assisted by an advisor of their choice from among the members of the University community. The advisor may help prepare the presentation before the hearing panel, raise questions during the hearing, and, if appropriate, help prepare an appeal. A department chair who has mediated or attempted mediation is not permitted to serve as advisor to either party.
 - f) Permit the faculty member and student to make a summary statement at the conclusion of the hearing.
 - g) Make an audio recording of the hearing that shall be kept in the dean's office for at least one calendar year after the hearing's conclusion. No other electronic devices (included, but not limited to, cellphones, computers and additional recorders) may be used, unless expressly permitted by the members of the hearing panel.
 - h) Apply a preponderance of the information standard when deciding whether the student has proven the facts underlying the grievance.
- vii. Within 10 business days after the conclusion of the hearing, the hearing panel shall prepare a written decision and proposed resolution, if any. A representative of the dean's office will inform the student, the faculty member, the Registrar's Office (for undergraduate students) or the Office of Graduate and Professional Education (for graduate students) and the dean of the college in which the student is enrolled (if different) of the decision.

- viii. A student or faculty member who is not satisfied with the decision by the hearing panel may appeal to the Academic Appeals Committee of the Faculty Senate. This appeal must be submitted within 30 business days of the date on which the hearing panel's decision was sent. This Committee, on reviewing the case, may uphold the decision of the college committee without a hearing or decide the appeal should be heard.
- ix. The Chair of the Academic Appeals Committee may appoint an ad hoc hearing panel from among the current members of the committee, consisting of 3 faculty members and 2 students, or the entire committee may serve as the hearing panel. If the submitting the appeal is an undergraduate graduate student, the 2 student panel members must be undergraduate students, and if the student submitting the appeal is a graduate student, the student panel members must be graduate students. During the hearing, the student and faculty member may be assisted by an advisor they have chosen from the University community. The process set forth for the hearing panel (above) also shall govern this hearing.
- x. The decision of the Academic Appeals Committee or, if applicable, the ad hoc committee, shall be final. The committee shall inform the dean's office, who, in turn shall inform the student, the faculty, the Registrar's Office (for undergraduate students) or the Office of Graduate and Professional Education (for graduate students) and the dean of the college in which the student is enrolled (if different) of the decision.
- xi. No grade shall be changed as a result of a grade grievance complaint, except as follows. In the case of a grade grievance, the University Registrar's Office is authorized to change the student's grade in the following situations:
 - a) When the student and the faculty member agree;
 - b) If the department chair approves the student's appeal and the faculty member does not appeal that decision;
 - c) If the dean approves the student's appeal based on the hearing panel's recommendation and the faculty member does not appeal that decision; or

d) If the Academic Appeals Committee approves the student's appeal.

c. Discrimination and Harassment Grievance

- i. All incidents of harassment based on a student's sex, gender, gender identity or expression or sexual orientation will be resolved through the Sexual Misconduct Policy.
- ii. Incidents of harassment based on a student's race, color, national origin, disability, religion, age, veteran status or any other characteristic protected by law will be resolved through the Student Conduct System (if the alleged harasser is a student) or through the Chief Human Resources Officer in accordance with University personnel policies (if the alleged harasser is a faculty member, staff or vendor).
- iii. A student may also seek emotional support by discussing the alleged harassment privately and in confidence with a psychologist from the Center for Counseling and Student Development.
- iv. Non-Retaliation: It is a violation of University policy to retaliate in any way against students because they have raised allegations of discrimination or unlawful harassment.

d. Other Alleged Grievances

The University may, at its discretion, permit a student to submit a grievance for problems other than those described above. A request must be submitted by the student to the Office of the Dean of Students for undergraduate students and Office of Graduate and Professional Education for graduate students within 30 business days after the last event giving rise to the alleged violation. If the request is granted, the University will decide upon the appropriate process to govern its resolution and may, but need not, follow the process set forth above for grade complaints.

B. Special Problems

1. Student Behavior Consultation Team

The mission of the Student Behavior Consultation Team (SBCT) is to coordinate information in a systematic approach to assist the University in identification of and response to students whose actions raise concerns. The SBCT consults with and collaborates with campus community members; develops support plans to promote student health, well-being and successful academic experiences; and promotes campus safety through an active process of threat assessment and behavioral intervention. Additional information may be found on the SBCT homepage.

2. Medical Leave of Absence

a. Statement of Policy

- i. An undergraduate student who wishes to suspend or postpone studies at the University for any medical reason may request a medical leave of absence. The request must be submitted to the Office of the Dean of Students. A medical leave of absence may be granted for a maximum of no more than 2 semesters. The Office of the Dean of Students will send written notification of the approval or denial of the requested leave.
- ii. A graduate student who seeks a leave of absence for personal, medical, or professional reasons should obtain written approval from the department chair or graduate program coordinator. The request and the recommendation from the department should be sent to the Office of Graduate and Professional Education. The length of time needed for the leave should be indicated. Upon approval by the Office of Graduate and Professional Education, the student's academic transcript will record the approved leave in the appropriate semesters, and the absence will not affect the limitation of time for completion of the degree requirements as given in the student's official letter of admission. The Office of Graduate and Professional Education will send written notification of approval or denial of the requested leave.
- iii. A medical leave of absence in no way negates the student's financial responsibility to the University. If the student is a financial aid recipient, the student should contact the Financial Aid Office to discuss the medical leave of absence and its potential ramifications. If the student is insured under the University's health insurance plan, the student should refer to the insurance documentation for information.

- b. Verification of Medical Condition The following procedures govern the University's decision to grant a leave of absence:
 - i. Verification of the medical condition from a physician or other medical professional acceptable to the University must be presented at the time the leave is requested.
 - ii. If the medical leave is granted, the student may continue in the same college or program in which he or she was enrolled prior to the leave and may continue his or her studies without applying for readmission to the University.
 - iii. The student must contact the office that approved the leave of absence if the student is unable to return at the conclusion of the leave.

3. Active Military Duty

A student ordered to active duty due to national crisis, under circumstances that preclude completion of a semester or session, will be allowed to take a leave of absence from the University. The student must present a copy of the military orders. The student will receive a 100% rebate of tuition for all courses for which academic credit is not received. Housing costs, meal charges, and mandatory fees will be pro-rated based on the beginning date of the student's official leave. Students should contact the Office of the Dean of Students or the office of the assistant or associate dean of the student's college to complete a withdrawal/leave notification form.

4. Missing Students

a. Statement of Policy

The University of Delaware takes student safety seriously. To this end, and in compliance with the Missing Student Notification Policy and Procedures (Section 488 of the Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008), the following procedures have been developed in order to assist in locating University of Delaware students, who, based on the facts and circumstances known to the University, are determined to be missing. It is the policy of the University to actively investigate any report of a missing student. All students will be notified of the Missing Student Policy and the procedures the University would follow in the event that they are reported missing.

b. Procedure

- i. Each student will be asked to identify the name and contact number of the individual(s) whom the University will notify within 24 hours of the determination that the student is missing. Students' contact information will be registered confidentially, made accessible only to authorized campus officials, and will not be disclosed except to law enforcement personnel outside the University in furtherance of a missing person investigation.
- ii. For any student under the age of 18, and not an emancipated individual, the institution is required to notify a custodial parent or guardian within 24 hours of the determination that the student is missing, in addition to notifying any additional contact person designated by the student.
- iii. If a member of the University community has reason to believe that a student is missing, he or she must report it to the University of Delaware Police Department (UDPD), located at 413 Academy Street, Newark DE 19716. For non-emergencies call 831-2222; for emergencies call 911.
- iv. All efforts will be made immediately (no waiting period) to locate the student to determine his or her state of health and well-being. These efforts include, but are not limited to:
 - a) calling the student's cell phone and sending a text message;
 - b) looking at social networking sites;
 - c) checking the student's room;
 - d) interviewing roommates and friends;
 - e) checking attendance in class;
 - f) checking ID card access and key fob use; and
 - g) locating the student's vehicle.

- v. If upon investigation by UDPD, the student is determined missing for at least 24 hours, the Dean of Students will contact the student's designated emergency contact (or custodial parent or legal guardian if the student is under the age of 18 or has failed to designate an emergency contact) UDPD will notify the Newark Police Department within 24 hours of the determination that a student is missing, unless Newark police was the entity that made the determination that the student is missing. UDPD will continue to investigate utilizing established police investigative procedures and in collaboration with staff from the Office of the Dean of Students and Residence Life. UDPD will also coordinate its efforts with outside law enforcement agencies in full compliance with legal obligations and good police practice.

Sexual Misconduct

Home

At the University of Delaware, we strive to create and maintain a campus community where respect and personal safety are valued by everyone and where community members work individually and together to ensure a safe environment. The University has clear policies in place intended to keep the University community free from sexual misconduct, including sexual harassment, stalking, dating violence and domestic violence. This ensures a safe and nondiscriminatory environment that protects the rights of students, faculty, staff, vendors, guests, visitors and volunteers.

We work toward that vision through a number of campus efforts:

- Prevention and awareness programs for students, faculty and staff;
- Educating students, faculty and staff about our resources, policies and processes and bystander intervention methods;
- Providing services that support victims and meet their needs;
- Enforcing campus policies, state and local laws around sexual misconduct; and
- Sending out timely alerts to inform the campus and community about known crimes.

Please note that all University employees, who are not listed as “confidential resources”, must promptly notify the University Title IX Coordinator of any alleged incidents of sexual misconduct they witness or learn of. The employee will report all relevant details about the alleged sexual misconduct known to or shared with them to the University Title IX Coordinator. The employee and the University Title IX Coordinator will not share information about the alleged incident with law enforcement without the consent of the complainant unless the employee has a duty under University police, federal or state law (e.g., mandatory reporting of child abuse). For more information about the responsibility to report, click here.

The Campus Climate Survey on Sexual Misconduct

The University of Delaware's Campus Climate Survey was conducted in spring 2015 to examine the extent of sexual misconduct, particularly sexual assault, and to explore student perceptions of resources and the climate around these issues at the University.

The confidential survey asked students about their experiences with sexual misconduct, perceptions of the University's response to sexual assault, knowledge and education about sexual misconduct and campus climate.

Workshops & Compliance Trainings

OEI's mission is to provide leadership and support in creating an equitable and inclusive work and learning environment. OEI provides education and resources in the areas of bias, prejudice, harassment and discrimination to encourage and develop awareness and knowledge of individuals' differences and similarities. Applying this knowledge and promoting this awareness will help us build a stronger and better UD! Join us for one or more of our sessions by registering through UD's Learn IT Calendar at <http://www.it.udel.edu/learnit>

ONLINE TRAINING

Here are several online "briefings" you may watch at your convenience on topics related to policy compliance.

2015-2016 Educational Programs

Creating an Inclusive Campus Climate (3 part series)

Series 1: Unintentional Bias: the Context of Discrimination: This workshop analyzes the subtle ways that racial, ethnic, gender and sex biases inhibit a positive and inclusive campus environment. The training provides participants with strategies on increasing awareness of microaggressions and how to mitigate the effects of unintentional biases. (Sept. 29th 2pm-3:30pm, Oct. 8th 1pm-2:30pm, & Oct. 15th 9-10:30am)

Series 2: Understanding Harassment: This training enables employees to correctly identify issues of harassment and discrimination, understand their mandatory reporting options, and implement strategies on how to respond to people and various scenarios. (Oct. 20th 2-3:30pm, Oct. 27th 1-2:30pm, Nov. 4th 9-10:30am)

Series 3: Respect & Courtesy in the Workplace: This workshop aims to tackle the pervasiveness of workplace bullying by helping participants identify troubling behavior and how to be an effective bystander. (Nov. 10th 2-3:30pm, Nov. 18th 9-10:30am, Dec. 3rd 1-2:30pm)

ABC's of Diversity

This training is an introduction to the basics of diversity as it relates to various populations such as the LGBT and other underrepresented communities. This program will also touch on the importance of diversity in higher education. (Jan. 19th 9-11am, & March 17th 9-11am)

Intercultural Team Building (per request starting January 2016)

This workshop aim to assist departments with unifying individuals comprised of diverse backgrounds and cultures. This workshop will place emphasis on creating positive and collaborative work relationships by educating participants on strategies for effective communication and conflict management.

UD employees can register for one or more sessions through the ConnectingU calendar.

UD students or part time employees can register for one or more sessions by contacting Jennifer Daniels, Associate Director, Diversity and Inclusion at jendan@udel.edu or 302-831-8736.

ELIGIBLE PROGRAMS: In addition, the following clinical science programs have submitted Letters of Intent to apply for PCSAS accreditation, and have been deemed eligible: Rutgers University (Ph.D.); University of Illinois at Chicago; University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill; University of Texas--Austin; University of Toronto.

SUMMARY OF REVIEW CRITERIA & BASIS OF ACCREDITATION DECISIONS

Overview of Accreditation Decisions: The PCSAS Review Committee (RC) is solely responsible for reviewing, evaluating, and reaching a final decision on all applications for PCSAS accreditation. The RC normally meets twice each year, in May and December. Only the nine RC members may vote to decide the final outcome for any application, and even then, members may vote only if they have no conflict of interest and if they have been present for the full discussion of that case during the meeting. RC votes are by secret ballot. Committee members have only two options when making a final decision on a given application: (a) to accredit, or (b) to deny accreditation. (There is no other category of accreditation, such as 'provisional,' 'conditional,' etc.) If the committee members are unable to reach a clear final decision in a given case at an RC meeting, based on the available information, they may defer a decision until the next meeting. In that case, the affected program simply will be designated as 'under review,' with neither an 'accredit' nor 'deny accreditation' label, pending the delayed final decision.

All PCSAS accreditation decisions are based on the same evaluation process, standards, and criteria. Therefore, there are no distinctions among PCSAS accredited programs, in terms of the underlying reasons for the RC's decision to accredit them; there is only one category of PCSAS accredited programs.

A decision to accredit signifies that, based on the RC's evaluation of the applicant program's application materials and the site visit report, the majority of the committee judged the applicant program to have met or exceeded all of the PCSAS standards and criteria for accreditation. A decision to accredit requires a positive vote by the majority of the Review Committee members (i.e., five votes in favor). All positive decisions are for full accreditation; there are no other status categories. Accreditation in all cases is for a period of up to ten years, provided that the program submits satisfactory annual reports, pays the annual dues, responds satisfactorily to all inquiries from PCSAS, and continues to uphold PCSAS's high accreditation standards.

A decision to deny accreditation signifies that the majority of the Review Committee, after evaluating the applicant's materials, judged the applicant program to have been deficient in one or more of the PCSAS standards and criteria for accreditation. If an applicant is denied accreditation, the basis for the negative decision will be transmitted in writing to the applicant. The basis for the decision also will be summarized in a publicly accessible report of committee actions on the PCSAS website. An applicant who is denied accreditation must wait one year before reapplying. If the applicant reapplies, it is considered as a new application, and judged without prejudice. Since a goal of PCSAS accreditation is to raise the overall quality of doctoral training in psychological clinical science, PCSAS will work positively with any applicant program to help it improve its chances of satisfying the high standards for PCSAS accreditation.

To date, PCSAS has accredited 29 Ph.D. programs in Psychological Clinical Science. It has not denied accreditation to any applicant program, nor has it withdrawn its accreditation of any program. The programs that have applied thus far have been self-selecting, all of high quality. For example, PCSAS has been told by some programs that they are eager to apply, but are waiting until they can be confident that they will meet the criteria. PCSAS's accreditation criteria are clear and publicly available, so when programs apply they should know what is expected of them.

Pre-submission process: To be eligible to apply for PCSAS accreditation, potential applicants first must submit a 3-page 'Letter of Intent' explaining how they meet all of the following PCSAS Eligibility Standards. The letter is reviewed by PCSAS to decide whether the program is eligible. To date, all programs that have submitted Letters of Intent have been judged to be eligible. In part, this is due to the fact that these eligibility criteria are clear and publicly available (see Initiation Packet in the appendices of the Purpose, Organization, Policies & Procedures Manual, first item on the Relevant Publications and Links page of the pcsas.org website):

- Only Ph.D. programs in psychological clinical science, housed in departments of psychology (or their equivalent) in non-profit, research-intensive universities in the U.S. or Canada are eligible.
- The program's primary goal must be to produce graduates who are competent and successful at (a) conducting research relevant to the assessment, prevention, treatment, and understanding of health and mental health disorders; and (b) using science methods and evidence to design, develop, select, evaluate, implement, deliver, supervise, and disseminate empirically based assessments, interventions, and prevention strategies.
- In their notice of intent and in their public documents, potential applicants must demonstrate an established commitment to providing an education within the limited boundaries that define PCSAS accreditation! i.e., in scope, epistemology, mission, goal, and domain.
- Potential applicants must agree to conduct a detailed self-study prior to preparing an application and to provide an accurate summary of the self-study's results in their application materials. Each program must agree to a full disclosure of all information the Review Committee (RC) requires in order to carry out its responsibility of evaluating programs and reaching accreditation decisions.
- Applicants must agree to arrange, host, and complete a site visit of their program after submitting the application and prior to the scheduled RC review, and must agree to accept the Review Committee's decision.

General Accreditation Standards: PCSAS reviews applications only from programs that explicitly claim to fit within the defined scope of PCSAS accreditation and to satisfy PCSAS's standards. The Review Committee (RC) rigorously and objectively examines and evaluates the evidence from each program's application materials and from the program's site visitors' report to assess how well the program lives up to all of PCSAS's high standards. The RC makes qualitative evaluations of each program in five general areas; the program must meet all five (see the Review Criteria page of the pcsas.org website for a more detailed explanation and illustration of these five criterion areas):

(a) Conceptual foundations: The RC examines evidence that the applicant adheres to the epistemology, mission, goals, and domain that define PCSAS accreditation. While encouraging innovation, the RC evaluates the quality, coherence, integrity, and success of each individual program's particular interpretation and embodiment of these core concepts.

(b) Design and resources: The RC examines the quality, logic, soundness, and coherence of each program's overall operation: i.e., its stability; educational plan and pedagogical approach; content and curriculum; administration; and availability and use of resources. The RC evaluates how effectively the program's design and resources are channeled toward realizing the program's goals.

(c) Quality of the science: The RC evaluates the overall quality of the scientific content, methods, and products of the program's doctoral training and education i.e., how well the program embodies the very best, cutting-edge science of the discipline.

(d) Quality improvement: The RC examines the program's investment in continuous quality improvement i.e., its on-going critical self-examination, openness to feedback, flexibility and innovation, and monitoring of program results.

(e) Outcomes: The RC's evaluations place the greatest weight on each program's record of success i.e., the extent to which the activities and accomplishments of its faculty, students, and graduates exemplify the kinds of outcomes one expects of programs that successfully educate high-quality, productive psychological clinical scientists?

All RC Decisions: For every applicant, the RC examines, integrates, and evaluates all the evidence in each these five areas, makes a qualitative judgment, and decides whether the program deserves to be awarded the distinctive recognition of PCSAS accreditation. The basis for the RC's accreditation decision is the same for all applicants: To be accredited, the applicant must satisfy PCSAS's standards in all five areas. If an applicant is found to be deficient in any area, it will be denied accreditation.

Interim Director
School of Nursing
University of Delaware
25 North College Avenue, 391 McDowell Hall
Newark, DE 19716-3710

Dear Dr. Schell:

On behalf of the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE), I am pleased to advise you that at its meeting on December 21, 2011, the CCNE Board of Commissioners reviewed the continuous improvement progress report submitted by the baccalaureate degree program in nursing and master's degree program in nursing at the University of Delaware and determined that the programs continue to meet all accreditation standards.

According to our records, the next on-site evaluation of the baccalaureate degree program in nursing and master's degree program in nursing should be scheduled for fall of 2015. Approximately 12-18 months prior to the time the on-site evaluation is to be scheduled, you will be contacted by CCNE staff with information on initiating the re-evaluation process.

As a reminder, programs are expected to continue to comply with the CCNE Standards and Procedures throughout the period of accreditation. These documents are available at <http://www.aacn.nche.edu/ccne-accreditation/standards-procedures-resources/baccalaureate-graduate>. This includes advising CCNE in the event of any substantive change in the nursing programs or of any major organizational changes that may affect the programs' administration, scope, or quality. Substantive change notifications must be submitted to CCNE no earlier than 90 days prior to implementation or occurrence of the change, but no later than 90 days after implementation or occurrence of the change. These reporting requirements are discussed further in the CCNE Procedures (pages 22-23).

The Commissioners join me in expressing our best wishes as you proceed with tasks important to the future of your nursing programs.

Sincerely,

Dr. Patrick T. Harker
President
University of Delaware
200 Academy Street, 104 Hulliher Hall
Office of the President
Newark, DE 19716

Dear Dr. Harker:

Let me begin by thanking you for your commitment to high quality educator preparation as exemplified by your participation in the NCATE national accreditation process. I am writing to inform you that at its April 21-24, 2012 meeting in San Antonio, Texas, the Unit Accreditation Board of the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) considered the continuing accreditation of the Delaware Center for Teacher Education at the University of Delaware. I am pleased to inform you of the Unit Accreditation Board's decision to continue the accreditation of the Delaware Center for Teacher Education at the University of Delaware at the initial teacher preparation and advanced preparation levels. This accreditation decision indicates that the unit and its programs meet rigorous standards set forth by the professional education community. A certificate that acknowledges the unit's accomplishment is enclosed with the copy of this letter that has been sent to the head of your professional education unit.

Special congratulations are in order because the Unit Accreditation Board has cited no areas for improvement relative to any of the standards. You may use the information provided in the Board of Examiners report at your discretion.

The next NCATE visit is scheduled for Fall 2018. In partnership states, the actual date of the visit must be determined jointly by the state and NCATE. As you know, all institutions are asked to complete the NCATE annual report each year during the accreditation period. We ask that you provide us with information on your unit's efforts to assure that you continue to meet expectations of the unit standards.

Also, for your information enclosed is a copy of NCATE's Policies on Dissemination of Information, which describe the terms and dates by which your current accreditation action becomes a matter of public record. This document also indicates organizations that will be notified of accreditation action. If your state has a partnership agreement with NCATE, the state agency with program approval authority has access to these documents in NCATE's Accreditation Information Management System (AIMS).

To celebrate your accreditation, I encourage you to use the online press packet on NCATE's website. From the homepage, click on "Accreditation," then "After the Visit," "Celebrating Accreditation," and then "Press Packet." The packet includes a sample press release announcing a school of education's accreditation status to the media, as well as samples of announcements that can be sent to P-12 schools, foundations, businesses, policymakers, and other stakeholders in your area. Other strategies are also included for garnering media attention throughout the year. In addition, because the education unit is professionally accredited, we encourage you to use the NCATE logo on print materials such as brochures and catalogs, as well as on your unit's website. The logo can be found at the link just above "Press Packet" under the subhead "Celebrating Accreditation" as noted above. The logo is a distinctive mark that demonstrates that you have met demanding national professional standards for educator preparation. In addition, we have a sample graduation certificate with the NCATE logo that can be adopted for use as a supplement to the institutional graduation certificate.

Congratulations again on this accomplishment. Should you have any questions regarding NCATE's action or the items reported herein, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely,

James G. Cibulka
President

Calculating Units/ Credit Hours

This is most accurately calculated if required meeting hours are converted into minutes. A course must meet 12 hours/term for each credit (12 hours for a 1 credit course; 36 hours for a 3 credit course; 48 hours for a 4 credit course, etc.). The following is an example of how to compute the meeting minutes/week required.

Examples:

3-credit course that wants to meet twice/week:

36 hours x 60 minutes = 2,160 minutes.
 2,160 minutes / 14 week term = 154.29 minutes per week
 154.29 minutes / 2 days = 77.14 minutes
 The course must meet 75 minutes both days (77.14 is rounded to nearest 5 min. increment).

Courses with Labs:

4 credit course w/1-credit LAB must meet 6 hours/week:

2 hours/week for each credit of LAB
 4 hours/week of LEC, DIS and/or combination of both (if approved for both)

3 credit course w/1-credit LAB must meet 5 hours/week:

2 hours/week for each credit of LAB
 3 hours/week of LEC, DIS and/or combination of both (if approved for both)

3.1.7 Class Meetings/Size

Class meeting hours at the University of Delaware follow the normal standards adopted by most colleges and universities. For a three credit course meeting three times a week (e.g., on Monday-Wednesday-Friday), there typically will be three, 50 minute weekly meetings for a minimum of 39 scheduled class meetings during the fall and spring terms (40 or 41 class meetings are normally scheduled). For a three credit course meeting twice a week (e.g., on Tuesday-Thursday), there typically will be two, 75 minute weekly meetings for a minimum of 26 scheduled class meetings (27 or 28 class meetings are normally scheduled). Courses for other than 3 credit hours should likewise meet for the equivalent of 50 minutes per credit hour per semester week. Courses with laboratory components grant one credit for every two or three hours of laboratory work per week. Class meeting time during the winter and summer sessions should be equivalent to that scheduled in the fall and spring academic terms. (Rev 3/2014)

Courses are offered and instructors are assigned at the discretion of each academic department chair in concert with the University Registrar's Office and sponsoring unit (Professional and Continuing Studies, Special Sessions, or the Center for International Studies). Fall schedules are composed in early spring; winter schedules during the summer; spring schedules in early fall; and summer schedules beginning in January. Once registration for each term is underway, department chairs will periodically be appraised of enrollment. If it is determined that enrollment is insufficient to justify a particular course section, then the decision to cancel that section should be made by the department chair in time that students can find substitute - normally no less than two weeks before the start of the academic term in question, and the academic department should make every effort to notify the affected students as soon as possible. The absolute minimum enrollment for undergraduate courses is ten students and for graduate courses (500 level and above), six students. Exceptions to these minimums require the formal approval of the Dean in each case.

Student attendance as a grading factor is a matter left to the discretion of the faculty. Students should be clearly informed of attendance policy in each class. Whatever attendance policy an individual instructor adopts, there are certain situations that should be considered "excused" absences including certain medical ones, religious holidays, participation in conflicting University events, and others (see "University Attendance Policies" in the UD Catalog). Severe weather may cause an instructor or student to be absent if in their personal judgment traveling to campus is hazardous. In this event, faculty should notify their departmental offices when weather precludes them from meeting their teaching obligations; similarly, students should notify their professors when inclement weather precludes them from class attendance. In such cases, students should be allowed to make up missed class time and, whenever possible, canceled classes should be rescheduled.

Class lists are distributed at the beginning of each term by the Registrar's Office. Faculty should verify that those attending their class are on the most current list. Students should not attend a class for which they are not registered. Responsibility for registration lies solely with the student, but faculty should make them aware when they are not registered and not entitled to attend.

Course content and expectations should be clearly stated, through the provision of a written syllabus and through a review, at the outset of each class. Modification of those initial plans is at the discretion of the faculty, but such modifications should also be communicated to students in a clear and timely way.

Faculty Senate Online Course Approval Instructions

The University's course inventory consists of all courses listed in the current undergraduate/graduate catalog. Part of the Faculty Senate's yearly course approval process, the online course approval application is for proposing a new course or revising or deactivating a course. This application is also used to apply for multicultural status and FYE and DLE requirement designations. Course proposals are routed electronically through the approval process and culminate in the Challenge List, also available through this application during the Challenge Period.

The course approval cycle begins in July and course proposals are required to be approved through the college level by December. Courses not approved by the college dean by the December deadline will not appear on the Challenge List. The Challenge List is the list of all course proposals in the current cycle that have received the required approvals. The Challenge Period, which usually falls during the first two weeks of spring classes, is a 10 day period in which all university faculty can review the Challenge List and submit electronically any concern or challenge they might have in reference to a particular course. Challenges are routed electronically to the chairperson of the Undergraduate Studies Committee for courses numbered 001-499, and to the Graduate Studies Committee chairperson for courses numbered 500 and above. The respective committees are responsible for determining the validity of the challenge and overseeing its resolution. All courses approved by the Undergraduate and Graduate Studies Committees become part of the permanent course inventory, effective the following fall. The specific dates and deadlines for the current cycle are available in the current online application.

How to Propose a New Course

- Go to the course inventory <http://www.udel.edu/courseinv>
- Authenticate with your UDeID and password and click SUBMIT.
- Select Propose a New Course under Submit a Course
- Enter the required information and click NEXT STEP. If you want to save your work and return later, click SAVE WITHOUT SUBMITTING at the bottom of the page.
- Continue completing the required information and clicking NEXT STEP until you are presented with the following: Propose a New Course: Confirm Before Submitting. If the listed information is correct, click FINISH AND SUBMIT at the bottom of the page. If you'd like to save the information and submit it later, click SAVE WITHOUT SUBMITTING. If you need to correct previously typed information, click PREVIOUS PAGE to back up to the place where the mistake can be corrected. Make your correction and click NEXT STEP until you can click FINISH AND SUBMIT.
- Once you have clicked FINISH AND SUBMIT, you should receive confirmation that your proposal was successfully received.

- May 17, 2016 Last class day; classes end at 10:00 p.m.
- May 18, 2016 - May 22, 2016 Reading Day; no examinations scheduled.

How to Propose a Course Revision

- 1) Go to the course inventory <http://www.udel.edu/courseinv>
- 2) You will be asked to authenticate with your UdelNetID and password. Enter them and click SUBMIT.
- 3) Select Revise or Deactivate a Course under Submit a Course.
- 4) Browse by department or subject area to find the course you want to revise.
- 5) If you entered part of the course id in the search box or browsed by department or subject area, you should see a resulting list of courses. Click the REVISE button to the right of the course id.
- 6) You are presented with the existing course detail on the left side of the page, and you can make your changes on the right side.
- 7) Continue making your changes and completing the required course justification information and clicking NEXT STEP until you are presented with the current course details on the left and your proposed changes on the right. If the information is correct, scroll to the bottom of the page and click FINISH AND SUBMIT. If you need to make corrections, click PREVIOUS PAGE to return to the page where the incorrect information was entered. After corrections are completed, click NEXT PAGE until you can click FINISH AND SUBMIT. At any time you can click SAVE WITHOUT SUBMITTING and return to the proposal at another time.
- 8) Once you have clicked FINISH AND SUBMIT, you should receive confirmation that your proposal was successfully received.

How to Propose a Course for Deactivation

- 1) Go to the course inventory <http://www.udel.edu/courseinv>
- 2) You will be asked to authenticate with your UDeNetID and password. Enter them and click SUBMIT.
- 3) Select Revise or Deactivate a Course under Submit a Course.
- 4) Browse by department or subject area to find the course you want to deactivate. Click the DEACTIVATE button to the right of the course id.
- 5) Scroll to the end of the course detail and click SUBMIT FORM.
- 6) You should receive confirmation that your proposal was successfully received.

COURSE ID

Enter a course number as the subject area code and the three-digit number for the course; example ARTH402.

The course numbering scheme used at the University of Delaware is as follows:

- 001-099 Below baccalaureate degree.
- 100-199 Introductory-level courses.
- 200-299 Introductory and intermediate courses, usually requiring some previous knowledge or experience in the discipline.
- 300-399 Courses with a more concentrated focus on the subject matter in a particular discipline.
- 400-499 Advanced courses for majors and other qualified students. See Note 3 below.
- 500-599 Graduate-level courses for the nonspecialist. See Note 1 below.
- 600-699 Graduate-level courses, also open to advanced undergraduates. See Notes 2 , 3 and 4 below.
- 700-799 Graduate-level courses.
- 800-899 Graduate-level courses.
- 900-999 Ph.D.-level courses.
- X66 Special problems and independent study.
- X67 Experimental course (may be offered twice).

Note 1: Courses numbered 500 to 599 may not be taken for graduate credit in a student's major. With the approval of the graduate student's major department, 500-level courses taken outside the student's major may be counted toward graduate degree requirements.

Note 2: Courses numbered 600 to 699 are graduate-level courses also open to qualified advanced undergraduates with the consent of the instructor. There should be a single standard of expectation and grading for all students registered at this level.

Note 3: In those few cases where the number of either undergraduate students or graduate students does not permit adequate offerings of both a 400-level and a 600-level course, a graduate 600-level course may be combined with a separately numbered 400-level undergraduate course in the same section. The graduate component must then be offered with a graduate standard of expectation and grading.

Note 4: The appropriateness of 600-numbered courses for undergraduate credit is subject to review by the Committee on Undergraduate Studies.

COURSE TITLE

Enter the short title (limited to 30 characters), as it will appear in the registration booklet and on students' transcripts. Every effort should be made to make this title meaningful by avoiding long titles with many abbreviations.

CREDIT

The Maximum (Max) and Minimum (Min) information must be completed for each course. When determining the number of credit hours for a fixed credit course, you must teach at least 50 minutes class time of lecture for each 1 credit hour and at least 2 hours of laboratory for 1 credit hour for a regular semester.

Fixed

Courses offered for a certain fixed number of credits every time it is offered. All fixed credit courses must have the Max and Min completed.

Max has the same meaning for all courses, whether it is fixed credit or variable credit. Maximum credits means the maximum credits a student can take in this course (not a section) in a given semester. For most fixed credit courses, students take only one credit bearing section in a semester, in which case the Max equals the Min. In a few cases students may take more than one credit bearing section of some courses, varying topics courses for example, where the Max is greater than the Min.

Min is the minimum number of credit hours for a section of a course.

Variable

All variable credit courses must have Max and Min completed.

Max has the same meaning for all courses, whether it is fixed credit or variable credit. Maximum credits means the maximum credits a student can take in this course (not a section) in a given semester. For most courses students register for and take only one section in a semester, but sometimes students take more than one section of some courses, for example, our experimental courses, x67, and special problem or independent study courses, x66.

Min is the least number of credit hours that a student may register for in a variable credit hour course.

Courses with variable credit hours can be offered in a semester in one of two ways. When scheduling a course in a term you may choose to have a range of credit hours between the maximum and minimum. The student then registers for credits within this range. The second way is to schedule it as a fixed credit hour course, in which case a student can only register for the minimum credit in a section.

MAXIMUM REPEATABLE CREDITS

Enter the maximum number of credits for this course that will be allowed to count towards graduation.

GRADE TYPE

Indicate whether the course is to be graded as a letter grade (standard) or pass/fail only.

MULTICULTURAL COURSE

If this course is a NEW course and you would like it to be evaluated for multicultural status, or if the course is currently approved as multicultural and course changes are being proposed, select "Yes." You will be prompted to complete the required Multicultural Course Approval Supplement form.

Courses certified to meet the multicultural requirement must meet three of the four criteria. On the web form, upload the assignment this course uses to satisfy each of the three criteria (this could be a reading, project, essay, etc.) in the appropriate space below that criteria. You may also offer a brief explanation of the assignment in the text box, but this is not required.

1. Diversity Self-Awareness and Perspective Taking: Students can articulate their own individual identity in relation to key concepts such as race, ethnicity, gender, sexuality, language, social class, disability, national origin, and religious affiliation, and can also reflect on how their social position differs from, and impacts, their relationships in diverse environments. In other words, students will learn to locate themselves within larger structures of difference and understand how their own position shapes their identity and/or worldview, as well as how that identity and/or worldview may differ from others.

2. Cultural Difference: Students gain in-depth knowledge of the history, lived experience, artistic production, identity and/or worldview of one or more underrepresented groups in the West (i.e., the US, Great Britain, Europe, Canada, Australia, New Zealand) and/or of a non-Western culture (or cultures). Students can articulate particular aspects and experiences of these cultures as well as how they may be similar to or different than the students' own.

3. Personal and Social Responsibility: Students analyze the ethical, social, and/or environmental consequences of policies, ideologies, or actions on marginalized communities/groups within the US or internationally. Based on this analysis, students identify a range of potential personal and civic responses to these issues. A service learning version of this course may allow students to directly take informed and responsible action to address these challenges.

4. Understanding Global Systems: Students gain and apply the tools to think systematically about how institutions, ideologies, rhetoric, and/or cultural representations shape a people's culture and identity, which may include their role in perpetuating inequality, whether historically or in the present day.

These guidelines are based in part on the diversity competence rubric developed by James Jones and J.M. Lee. See Jones, J.M. & Lee, J.M. (2016). Conceptualizing and measuring diversity competence: Psychometric properties of the Diversity Competence Scale. Unpublished manuscript, Center for the Study of Diversity. University of Delaware.

FIRST YEAR EXPERIENCE

If this is a NEW course or a REVISED current course and you would like it to be evaluated for the First Year Experience requirement designation, then click the YES radio button. As you progress through the course proposal form, you will be prompted to complete the FYE justification form prior to the submission of your course. Additional information is available at <http://www.udel.edu/fye/>.

DISCOVERY LEARNING EXPERIENCE

If this is a NEW course or a REVISED current course and you would like it to be evaluated for the Discovery Learning Experience requirement designation, then click the YES, all sections or YES, some sections radio button. As you progress through the course proposal form, you will be prompted to complete the DLE justification form prior to the submission of your course. Additional information is available at General Education website, under DLE, "For Students" or "For Faculty".

UNIVERSITY BREADTH

If this is a NEW course or a REVISED current course and you would like it to be evaluated for the University Breadth requirement designation, then click the YES radio button. As you progress through the course proposal form, you will be prompted to complete the University Breadth justification form prior to the submission of your course.

REPLACES

If this course is proposed as a course that is replacing another course, enter the Course ID of the course being deactivated.

INSTRUCTIONAL FORMAT

Instructional format information is required for all courses. If you have two instructional formats for a course, then indicate the combination of activities that includes more than one activity. For example, if some of your sections meet as three one-hour lectures per week, and others meet with two one-hour lectures and one recitation period, use the latter by entering 2 for Lecture, and 1 for Discussion. A 50-minute period is counted as one hour for this purpose.

For courses that meet only in Winter or Summer sessions, the contact hours should be calculated as if they meet in a fall or spring semester.

For variable credit courses you must choose at least one instructional format, but you can indicate "0" for the contact hours. Actual contact hours will vary depending on how many credits for which a student enrolls.

A variety of activities are grouped under each of these activity types. The list includes:

Lecture	Laboratory	Discussion	Independent study
Lecture	Laboratory	Discussion	Independent study
Seminar	Studio	Problem session	Special problem
Colloquium	Seminar	Private Study	Reading
	Field study	Recitation	Research
	Practicum		Master's Thesis
	Clinical		Dissertation
	Co-op
	Internship
	Student teaching

Lecture, Discussion and Independent Study meet one hour per week per credit.

Laboratory meets two hours per week per credit.

CROSS-LISTED and DUAL-LISTED COURSES

Cross-listed definition – a course with different subject areas and the same course level. (HIST/JWST 254) For cross-listed courses, only one form should be sent forward from the primary department. The secondary subject area codes and numbers should be entered in the boxes provided. While the number of the secondary need not be the same as the primary, the course level must be the same as the primary. Only one form should be sent forward from the primary department with all the appropriate approvals on the one form.

Dual Listed definition – two courses (400 and 600 level) with the same subject area. (ECON420 and ECON620) For dual listed courses, two forms should be sent forward from the primary department with the identical course title, course description, grading basis and credits.

COURSE CATALOG TITLE

The title that will appear in the Undergraduate/Graduate Catalog is frequently the same as the short title, but should contain no abbreviations.

NARRATIVE

This is the body of the course description that appears in the catalog. The narrative should be brief and concise, using phrases or short sentences, and not exceed 45 words. Don't begin with "This course is..."

PREREQUISITES

Courses that should be taken prior to this course.

COREQUISITES

Courses that are taken along with this course.

RESTRICTIONS

Requirements other than specific courses. Included here are such statements as: "Not open to freshmen" or "Required of all senior majors."

APPROVALS AND REVIEWS

The Department Committee, Department Chair, College Committee and College Dean's approvals are required on all forms before they are forwarded to the Registrar's Office.

If the course is cross-listed, then all department chairs involved must approve the form. Again, only one form should be forwarded for cross-listed courses, initiated in the primary department.

INSTRUCTOR REFERENCE

This is generally the name of the faculty member who is proposing the new course or revision. This field is optional.

How to Finish or Delete a Course Change You've Started and Saved, But Not Submitted

- 1) Go to the course inventory, (<http://www.udel.edu/courseinv>).
- 2) Authenticate with your UDeID and password and click SUBMIT.
- 3) You are now at the Main Menu. Under the sub-title (Search course changes in Progress) Look for Include only: and highlight "Course not submitted."
- 4) Click SEARCH.
- 5) You will see a list of course changes that were saved but not submitted. Next to the course id, either click RESUME to finish the proposal and submit it, or click DELETE to remove the course. If you've already submitted a version of the course, you should delete any incomplete versions in here.

How to Access Courses Awaiting Your Approval

- 1) Go to the course inventory, (<http://www.udel.edu/courseinv>).
- 2) Authenticate with your UDeID and password and click SUBMIT.
- 3) You are now at the Main Menu. Under the sub-title (Search course changes in Progress) Look for Include only: and highlight "Course changes requiring my approval."
- 4) Click SEARCH.
- 5) Click on the course id for the course you want to review.
- 6) Scroll to the end of the course detail and click the radio button for either Approve or Not Approve. Courses that are not approved should have an explanation entered in the comments box.
- 7) Click SUBMIT and you should immediately receive a screen message that your submission was successfully received. "Approved" courses move on to the next approver in the system. "Not approved" courses return to the individual who initiated the course proposal.

How to Access Courses Returned to You for Changes to be Made

- 1) Go to the Course Inventory (<http://www.udel.edu/courseinv>).
- 2) Authenticate with your UDeID and password and click SUBMIT.
- 3) You are now at the Main Menu. Under the sub-title (Search course changes in Progress), click on any of the query fields to narrow your search or leave this area blank.
- 4) At the second drop down menu (Include only:), highlight "Course changes requiring my approval."
- 5) Click SEARCH.
- 6) Click on the course id for the course you want to edit.
- 7) Scroll to the end of the course detail and click the radio button for "Edit and Resubmit." Then click the "Submit" button directly below that.
- 8) Now you may edit any information you entered on the course. Keep going through the course detail and clicking on "next step" until you get to the end and can click "submit form."
- 9) You should immediately receive a message that your submission was successfully received.

How to Change Departmental Approvers

If your departmental approvers have changed, please complete the Subject Approvers form for each course rubric for which there are changes. Only department chairs or their assistants should submit requests for approver changes. Once the form is submitted, it is automatically routed to the Registrar's Office and the changes will be entered in the online application. Course proposals that have already been submitted and are waiting for an approver who is no longer responsible for approving courses will be automatically routed to the new approver when the new information is entered.

How to Submit a Course Not Yet Certified as Multicultural for Multicultural Certification

- 1) Go to the course inventory (<http://www.udel.edu/courseinv>).
- 2) Authenticate with your UDeID and password and click SUBMIT.
- 3) Click on Revise or Deactivate a Course.
- 4) Search for the course you want to revise and click on the course link.
- 5) On the right side of the course detail, across from the Multicultural label, click the radio button next to Yes.
- 6) Proceed with any other course revisions you are proposing for this course (if you have any) and click NEXT STEP at the bottom of the page.
- 7) Continue filling out the requested information and clicking NEXT STEP until you get to the end and can click SUBMIT. You should receive a confirmation that your proposal was successfully submitted.

How to Submit a Course for the First Year Experience Designation

- 1) Go to the course inventory (<http://www.udel.edu/courseinv>).
- 2) Authenticate with your UDeID and password and click SUBMIT.
- 3) In the box under Current Course Inventory, type the course ID and click the SEARCH button.
- 4) Scroll to end of the course detail and click the REVISE button.
- 5) Authenticate with your UDeID and password and click SUBMIT.
- 6) On the right side of the course detail, across from the First Year Experience field, click the radio button next to Yes.
- 7) Proceed with any other course revisions you are proposing for this course (if you have any) and click NEXT STEP at the bottom of the page.
- 8) Continue filling out the requested information and clicking NEXT STEP until you get to the end and can click SUBMIT. You should receive a confirmation that your proposal was successfully submitted.

How to Submit a Course for the Discovery Learning Experience Designation

- 1) Go to the course inventory (<http://www.udel.edu/courseinv>).
- 2) Authenticate with your UDeID and password and click SUBMIT.
- 3) Search for the course you want to revise and click on the course link.
- 4) On the right side of the course detail, across from the Discovery Learning Experience Designation field, click the radio button next to Yes.
- 5) Proceed with any other course revisions you are proposing for this course (if you have any) and click NEXT STEP at the bottom of the page.
- 6) Continue filling out the requested information and clicking NEXT STEP until you get to the end and can click SUBMIT. You should receive a confirmation that your proposal was successfully submitted.

General Education Requirements

General education at the University of Delaware prepares students who are able to:

- 1) Read critically, analyze arguments and information, and engage in constructive ideation.
- 2) Communicate effectively in writing, orally, and through creative expression.
- 3) Work collaboratively and independently within and across a variety of cultural contexts and a spectrum of differences.
- 4) Critically evaluate the ethical implications of what they say and do.
- 5) Reason quantitatively, computationally, and scientifically.
