Begin in 1982, the Legislative Fellows program provides a unique capacity of the University of Delaware with the research needs of the Delaware General Assembly.

For students, who are selected through a competitive process, the experience offers a valuable opportunity to contribute to the governmental decision-making process.

Through their nonpartisan, in-depth work with Delaware legislators in dealing with critical issues over the past years, Fellows have worked on a wide range of issues including reform, healthcare, government transparency, and women's rights.

Any full-time graduate student or senior-level undergraduate student is eligible to apply.

Program Highlights

Opportunities

Recruitment is underway for the 2024 Legislative Fellows Program and junior and senior Honors students are encouraged to apply. The Legislative Fellows Program is a research scholarship opportunity offered in partnership by the University and Delaware General Assembly. Through their nonpartisan, in-depth research, Legislative Fellows assist legislators in dealing with complex public policy issues facing the state and earn research stipends of $11,000. Application deadline is Wednesday, November 1. Email resume to Lisa Moreland Allred regarding your interest as soon as possible, and find out more and apply here.
