 - Taking at least one 3-credit Honors course each year
 - Pursuing the General Honors Award and Honors Degree (if applicable)
- Maintain a positive standing with the Office of Community Standards & Conflict Resolution, and abide by all university policies as well as local, state, and federal laws.
- Complete all required housing contract obligations as required by the Office of Residence Life & Housing
- Live on campus for the full academic year
- Live in the Honors First-Year Living Learning Community while employed in the position

Overview of Position

Munson Fellows are named for Dr. Burnaby Munson, an influential chemistry professor at UD who was instrumental in creating the Honors experience. As upper-division leaders in the Honors College, Munson Fellows help facilitate the first-year experience. They serve as peer mentors to students who live in their residential section as well as to those who commute from home.

Specific Responsibilities

Active Engagement with all first-year Honors students.

- Arrive early to campus and assist with freshman check-in, as needed
- Advertise and promote opportunities for involvement in UDHC (FYF, HPB, HENS, HVSA, PACCT, Honors Ambassadors, etc.)
- Be familiar with the University's support services and refer students when appropriate
- Develop collaborative working relationships with the Resident Assistant staff toward the development of a positive social and academic community

Serve as an Honors College peer mentor.

- Define at least two ways mentees can contact you
- Be present and available on the floor – visibility builds community
- Connect mentees to other peer mentors and Honors staff as appropriate
- Contact and meet with an assigned group of mentees regularly and consistently
- Conduct individual academic check-ins during the first 6 weeks of each semester

Be a good academic and personal role model.

- Make good judgments in personal decisions
- Balance academics, social commitments with position responsibilities
- Fully adhere to the UD Code of Conduct and Residence Life & Housing regulations
- Actively participate in Honors College events, lectures, and activities

Plan section events consistently and according to agreed upon themes and timeline.

- Offer a variety of activities at a variety of times
- Ensure commuter students have a way to engage with their residential peers
- Collaborate with other Munson Fellows to build a bigger network and share workload

Implement and promote activities for the entire first-year community.

- Plan and participate in the Honors New Student Kick-off
- Plan signature events such as Dr. Munson's Study Breaks and Faculty Chats
- Plan large-scale community events that interest and engage students

Participate in all required professional development and training sessions.

- Participate in all training sessions, including asynchronous and in-person training prior to the start of Fall semester
- Attend Munson Fellow meetings (bi-weekly)
- Meet regularly with the Co-Curricular Coordinator for 1-on-1 meetings

Compensation

Munson Fellows receive a stipend of $3,200 for the academic year.

Note: Munson Fellows do not receive a room fee waiver. Munson Fellows who live in single rooms pay the cost for a single room with air conditioning. Munson Fellows who live in double rooms pay the cost for a double room with air conditioning. Please see the Residence Life & Housing website for current rates.

Additional Benefits

- Mentoring training and experience providing guidance and support to peers
- Creative thinking and problem-solving experience
- Increased confidence and ability to communicate with others
- Camaraderie among the Munson Fellows team
- Developing genuine relationships with people with different interests and experiences
- Connection to the Honors College staff and a greater awareness of opportunities
