<sup>1</sup>Beginning in Fall 2017, SAT scores reported consist of two sections: (1) evidence-based reading and writing and (2) math with a total of 800 potential points per section and a maximum score of 1600 points on the overall test. This replaced the 2400 point scale prior to 2016.

<sup>4</sup>The average "Total SAT EBRW and Math Scores" are calculated by first summing each student's highest scores on the EBRW and Math tests and then finding the average of this total score for all students.

Notes: Converted ACT scores are not included with SAT scores. UD accepts self-reported scores for admissions review. As such, not all scores are verified. Applicants for Fall 2022 were not required to submit standardized test scores. For Fall 2022, a total of 1926 Newark Campus students (564 Delawareans; 1362 Nonresidents) submitted SAT scores
