PREAMBLE

The purpose of developing this tool was in response to academic and clinical educators' requests to provide a voluntary, consistent and uniform approach for students to evaluate clinical education as well as the overall clinical experience. Questions included in this draft tool were derived from the many existing tools already in use by physical therapy programs for students to evaluate the quality of the clinical learning experience and clinical instructors (CIs), as well as academic preparation for the specific learning experience. The development of this tool was based on key assumptions for the purpose, need for, and intent of this tool. These key assumptions are described in detail below. This tool consists of two sections that can be used together or separately: Section 1-Physical therapist student assessment of the clinical experience and Section 2-Physical therapist student assessment of clinical instruction. Central to the development of this tool was an assumption that students should actively engage in their learning experiences by providing candid feedback, both formative and summative, about the learning experience and with summative feedback offered at both midterm and final evaluations. One of the benefits of completing Section 2 at midterm is to provide the CI and the student with an opportunity to modify the learning experience by making midcourse corrections.

Key Assumptions

- The tool is intended to provide the student's assessment of the quality of the clinical learning experience and the quality of clinical instruction for the specific learning experience.
- The tool allows students to objectively comment on the quality and richness of the learning experience and to provide information that would be helpful to other students, adequacy of their preparation for the specific learning experience, and effectiveness of the clinical educator(s).
- The tool is formatted in Section 2 to allow student feedback to be provided to the CI(s) at both midterm and final evaluations. This will encourage students to share their learning needs and expectations during the clinical experience, thereby allowing for program modification on the part of the CI and the student.
- Sections 1 and 2 are to be returned to the academic program for review at the conclusion of the clinical experience. Section 1 may be made available to future students to acquaint them with the learning experiences at the clinical facility. Section 2 will remain confidential and the academic program will not share this information with other students.
- The tools meet the needs of the physical therapist (PT) and physical therapist assistant (PTA) academic and clinical communities and where appropriate, distinctions are made in the tools to reflect differences in PT scope of practice and PTA scope of work.
- The student evaluation tool should not serve as the sole entity for making judgments about the quality of the clinical learning experience. This tool should be considered as part of a systematic collection of data that might include reflective student journals, self-assessments provided by clinical education sites, Center Coordinators of Clinical Education (CCCEs), and CIs based on the Guidelines for Clinical Education, ongoing communications and site visits, student performance evaluations, student planning worksheets, Clinical Site Information Form (CSIF), program outcomes, and other sources of information.

Acknowledgement

We would like to acknowledge the collaborative effort between the Clinical Education Special Interest Group (SIG) of the Education Section and APTA's Education Department in completing this project. We are especially indebted to those individuals from the Clinical Education SIG who willingly volunteered their time to develop and refine these tools. Comments and feedback provided by academic and clinical faculty, clinical educators, and students on several draft versions of this document were instrumental in developing, shaping, and refining the tools. Our gratitude goes out to all of those individuals and groups who willingly gave their time and expertise to work toward a common voluntary PT and PTA Student Evaluation Tool of the Clinical Experience and Clinical Instruction.

23. Was your CI'(s) evaluation of your level of performance in agreement with your self-assessment?

Midterm Evaluation ☒ Yes ☐ No Final Evaluation ☒ Yes ☐ No

24. If there were inconsistencies, how were they discussed and managed?

Midterm Evaluation there were little inconsistencies that existed between my self-evaluation and his evaluation. If there were small inconsistencies he would explain what he felt and why he placed me at a certain level, also making suggestions on what I could do to improve in a certain category.

Final Evaluation There were no inconsistencies during this final evaluation. Both of us were able to agree on the areas that could be improved in the future as well as on my areas of the strength and my growth over the course of my first clinical.

25. What did your CI(s) do well to contribute to your learning?

Midterm Comments Up to this point my CI has been able to identify the way that I learn the best and use this knowledge to help me to improve my manual skills as well as knowledge of different therapeutic exercises.

Final Comments My CI has provided with several opportunities for learning over the course of my clinical. He was always available whenever I wanted to go over different joint mobilizations/ soft tissue mobs/ and areas such as goniometry and MMT. He always provided me with academic material that he has found useful in his years post graduation, which I was able to review during down time/lunch. He always encouraged me to be able to have an explanation for why I was doing something so that whenever I patient would ask the question in the future, I would be able to answer them with confidence. He also provided me with opportunities to provide care to a small number of pts on my own, with close supervision- so that I was able to gain some independence in patient care.

26. What, if anything, could your CI(s) and/or other staff have done differently to contribute to your learning?

Midterm Comments provide more opportunities for patient care in regards to manual therapy

Final Comments Everything that my CI and the other staff members have done for me during my clinical experience has helped me to grow immensely as a student physical therapist and has significantly enhanced my learning. I would not hesitate to recommend this site to any student because of how devoted both my CI and the other staff members were to developing my knowledge. If anything needed to be improved I would just suggest providing the student with a packet of the exercises commonly used in the clinic earlier on.

Thank you for sharing and discussing candid feedback with your CI(s) so that any necessary midcourse corrections can be made to modify and further enhance your learning experience.
