HEADLINE

Stanford list of top 2% of scientists in world includes 12 at UWM's College of Engineering & Applied Science

COPY

Fifty-nine scientists at UWM—including 12 current faculty members of UWM's College of Engineering & Applied Science—are listed in a ranking of the top 2% of scientists in the world in a study by Stanford University. The study identifies the top scholars in their fields by considering how often their work has been cited over the course of their careers.

Congratulations to the following researchers who are included on this prestigious list.
