

Big Interview Registration Directions

Big Interview is the #1 job interview-training tool in the world. It is a 24/7 resource that can help you prepare for industry specific and graduate school interviews. Big Interview can teach you to formulate powerful answers and share your answers with others for feedback. Follow the 3 easy steps below to create an account.

1. Using Google Chrome version 77 (if you do not have this version, Big Interview will prompt you to update your browser when necessary), go to <https://widener.biginterview.com/> or visit Career Design and Development on myWidener, hover over Design and Development, hover over Professional Preparation, select interview guides and then click on the Big Interview icon.
2. Click the green “Register” button. Big Interview is not single sign on, however you must use your Widener email to create an account. You may select a password of your choosing.

3. Click the green “Start Here” button in the middle of the screen

4. Watch the 3 videos that are listed to familiarize yourself with the platform and learn how to use this resource to help you prepare for your next big interview.

User Tips for Submitting Assignments on Big Interview:

- a. If you prefer to use Big Interview on your phone or are having trouble with Big Interview on your computer, download the app by searching Big Interview in your app store.
- b. When completing an assignment you will need to save your video to export the link for someone to view. More information about recording, saving, and exporting videos can be learned by watching videos #3 under “Start Here”.

A note for Faculty:

Faculty can register for the student version of Big Interview by following the directions above. If you are interested in creating an assignment for your students using Big Interview, please careers@widener.edu for more information.
