

Widener Residence Life and Co-op

What happens if my co-op is far away and I leave campus for the spring?

When students leave for the spring, the Residence Life office needs to be notified and can remove you from your current housing assignment. If you intend to live on campus in the summer, you must complete the summer housing application by the university deadline. This application is available in late spring.

What is Widener's housing policy?

Widener University's 2-Year Residency Program requires all full-time undergraduate students in their first and second years to live in on-campus housing. Students who qualify for commuter status are not required to live on-campus. To qualify for commuter status, first- and second-year students must reside at their permanent, legal residence within 25-commutable miles from campus with a parent or legal guardian. There are exceptions. To learn if you qualify, connect with the Residence Life team directly.

What happens if my co-op is far away and I leave campus for the fall?

When students leave for the fall, the Residence Life office needs to be notified and can remove you from your current housing assignment. Between Thanksgiving and Winter break, you will be able to apply for housing for the spring. We guarantee housing for our students who meet university deadlines. However, we CANNOT guarantee the same housing assignment you selected for the fall. We do our best to accommodate requests on a space available basis.
