

Social Identity and Politics
2017 Comparative Politics Annual Conference (CPAC)
April 28, 2017
Washington University in St. Louis

All conference sessions will be in Seigle Hall, Room 248

8:30-9:15 am Poster Session and Continental Breakfast

The Long-Term Effects of War Exposure on Civic Engagement: Evidence from the Vietnam War

Joan Barceló, Washington University in St. Louis

Ethnicity, Violence, and Attitudes Toward Out-Groups

Dino Hadzic, Washington University in St. Louis

The Electoral Consequences of Separate Voting

Jonathan Homola, Washington University in St. Louis

Direct Democracy and Women's Political Engagement

Jeong Hyun Kim, Washington University in St. Louis

The Effect of Charitable Donations in Incentivizing Public Officials

Miguel M. Pereira, Washington University in St. Louis

Daniel Butler, Washington University in St. Louis

Immigrant Diversity, Native Attitudes, and Integration

Dalston G. Ward, Washington University in St. Louis

9:30-11:45 am Session I

Group Inequality and Civil Conflict

John Huber, Columbia University

Laura Mayoral, Barcelona Graduate School of Economics

Discussant: Joan Barceló, Washington University in St. Louis

Risk Tolerance during Conflict: Evidence from Aleppo, Syria

Sam Whitt, High Point University

Discussant: Dino Hadzic, Washington University in St. Louis

Ethnicity and Religion as Sources of Political Division in Africa

John F. McCauley, University of Maryland

Discussant: George Oforu, UCLA/Washington University in St. Louis

1:45-3:15 pm

Session II

Immigration Attitudes and Urban Residence in Europe

Rahsaan Maxwell, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Discussant: Dalston G. Ward, Washington University in St. Louis

National Belonging and Majority Support for Multiculturalism

Sara W. Goodman, University of California, Irvine

Hannah M. Alarian, University of California, Irvine

Discussant: Jonathan Homola, Washington University in St. Louis

3:30-5:00 pm

Session III

Investigating Intersectional Identities: Gender, Islamism, and Ethnicity in Jordanian Elections

Lindsay J. Benstead, Portland State University

Kristen Kao, University of Gothenburg

Discussant: Jeong Hyun Kim, Washington University in St. Louis

The Political Utility of Fear: Assessing the Material and Non-Material Determinants of Political Behavior in Lebanon

Melani Cammett, Harvard University

Sami Atallah, Lebanese Center for Policy Studies

Dominika Kruschewska, Harvard University

Discussant: David Carlson, Washington University in St. Louis