Brown School

Dear Colleagues,

We are pleased to share the latest CMHSR updates. May is Mental Health Awareness Month, and we encourage you to learn more through the National Alliance on Mental Illness, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, and other organizations that promote mental health and wellbeing. In case you missed it, please check out our most recent seminar co-hosted by the Brown School's Open Classroom initiative and delivered by Dr. Brenna Maddox, who presented "Suicide Prevention and Mental Health Promotion for Autistic Individuals: The Important Role of Stakeholder Engagement." Below you will find updates on upcoming CMHSR seminars, recent publications and upcoming presentations, workshops and conferences, and some of the things we've been reading. Many thanks for your support and for all that you do to support mental health!

Best,

Leopoldo J. Cabassa and Byron J. Powell

Workshops and Conferences

The NIMH Division of Services and Intervention research is excited to announce an event sponsored by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) and the National Council for Mental Wellbeing, with support from NIMH and NIDA. For registration, please follow the link:

May 4, 2022, 2:30PM \(Eastern Time\), Meeting Registration - Zoom

The purpose of this event is to facilitate research-practice partnerships and help applicants responding to priorities outlined in this recently published Notice of Special Interest be successful: NOT-MH-22-170: Research using implementation science to support the delivery of evidence-based practices in community-based mental or general medical healthcare settings.

To be competitive under NOT-MH-22-170, researchers must partner with healthcare delivery organizations and/or organizations charged to deliver implementation support to healthcare delivery organizations (such as CCBHCs).

Please come join us on May 4th, 2:30 – 4pm \(Eastern Time\) to learn more about this opportunity to partner with CCBHC-E applicants and awardees.

The NCI-sponsored short course 'Cluster Randomized Trial Designs in Cancer Care Delivery Research' is being held virtually on May 3, 4 and 5, 2022 from 11 am to 5 pm EST. By the end of this course, attendees will be able to critically appraise and apply a range of appropriate design approaches and analytical methods for cluster randomized trials (CRTs), including parallel CRTs, stepped-wedge CRTs, and cluster randomized cross-over trials (CRXO).
