

SUN BEARS CELEBRATE 100 DAYS OF SCHOOL

UPCOMING DATES:

Spring Break:

March 20 – 24

WUNS Family
Play Date:

April 6

3:15 – 5:00 pm

Sun Bears have been counting, counting, counting the days of school since September, grouping every 10 popsicle sticks into a bundle and finally reaching 10 bundles of 10 sticks to make 100 on Friday, February 24. We enjoyed a week of art, writing, and math activities that strengthened the children's skills in one-on-one correspondence, patterning and number recognition. We made crowns out of 10 strips of paper with 10 dots on each, wrote a class book about what 100 things each Sun Bear wished for, stacked 100 magnet tiles, and collected 100 pennies hidden in the classroom to sequence on a 100s chart.

More Fun With 100

Other activities during the 100th day week included making bread shaped into the number 100, cutting out handprints and counting by fives, and reading books like Jake's 100th Day of School, 100th Day Worries, and Miss Bindergarten Celebrates the 100th Day.

This week, as well as the next, Sun Bears are immersing themselves in our OCEAN THEME. We've had a whale of a good time so far, and all the activities are going swimmingly. We better end this newsletter now before it gets any punnier. Watch for our next newsletter for more on this theme as well as photos of the children's ocean creations.

*Until next time,
Miss Colleen & Miss Katie*
