

RELIGIOUS STUDIES COURSES SP2022

RELSTDS 2102.01 | LITERATURE & RELIGION

WF 12:45-2:05PM | S. DEW

RELSTDS 2102.02 | COMPARATIVE SACRED TEXTS

TR 11:10-12:30PM | S. FINVER

RELSTDS 2370H | INTRO TO COMPARATIVE RELIGIONS

MWF 1:50-12:45PM | S. JOHNSTON

RELSTDS 3673 | BUDDHIST TRADITION

TR 12:45-2:05PM | M. CURLEY

RELSTDS 3679 | POPULAR CULTURE & WORLD RELIGION

WF 11:10-12:30PM | S. DEW

RELSTDS 3972 | THEORY & METHOD IN THE STUDY OF RELIGION

TR 2:20-3:40PM | D. BRAKKE

WHY STUDY RELIGION?

Religion runs throughout the fabric of human life. We cannot fully understand culture, politics, economics, morality, or social change without considering how religion has influenced them. The academic study of religion does not favor any particular religious standpoint. Instead, it enables students to explore traditions ranging from antiquity to the present, from the local to the global.

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF RELIGION

For other courses offered in the Religious Studies Program, visit religion.osu.edu/courses.

Questions? Contact Melissa Curley (curley.32@osu.edu).