

SCIENCE CAREER FAIR

ARE YOU GRADUATING OR LOOKING FOR A SUMMER INTERNSHIP?

The Science Career Fair is focused on helping you find an internship, a first job, or your next job! The event is open to ALL current Ohio State University students and recent alumni.

Attending employers recruit across a broad range of disciplines, but the focus will be on careers in The Sciences. There will be a large number of private, non-profit, governmental sector companies recruiting for Interns, R&D developers, chemists, microbiologists, lab technicians & scientists, pharmaceutical researchers & sales, medical consulting & sales, medical researchers, medical scribes, data scientists, software analysts, and many other related technical careers. In addition, there will likely be opportunities for technology, marketing, communications, business, data analytics, and engineering students.

Advanced research and registration via Handshake is recommended to determine if a particular employer of interest will be in attendance. Keep checking back, as employers will be registering all the way up to the event. Attending employers seek to fill full-time, entry level positions, as well as summer internships.
