

Need a STEM speaker?

Meet-a-Scientist Program

Would you like a working scientist or engineer to visit your science class, club or organization to discuss a particular topic? What’s it like to make a discovery or to a design solution to a complex problem? What does it take to become a scientist or engineer?

We have OSU scientists, both faculty and graduate students, who will visit in the Columbus area to discuss the importance of science and engineering in our world and to encourage students to consider a career in STEM.

Interested Teachers, for class or club.

Service or community organizations, churches or synagogues interested in a speaker.

OSU graduate students, postdocs and faculty interested in speaking.

Or, contact Dr. Noah Weisleder (weisleder.3@osu.edu).