ADMINISTRATIVE ACCOMPLISHMENTS

As Associate Dean for Faculty Affairs in Ohio State's College of Engineering, she oversees recruitment, retention, promotion and tenure, and conduct for nearly 400 tenure line, clinical, and research faculty.

As Section Head for City and Regional Planning (CRP) in the Knowlton School of Architecture at the Ohio State University, I guided the transition of faculty due to generational retirements. A philosophy of intellectual, methodological, and personal diversity guided hiring decisions, resulting in a faculty with a range of methodological and content expertise, half of whom are women and nearly a quarter of whom are underrepresented minorities. These new faculty position the program to contribute to the major planning challenges into the 21st century, including regional equity, resilience, sustainability, globalization, fast-changing technologies and the development of new planning processes. The 2017 Site Visit Report from the Planning Accreditation Board (PAB) noted these strengths as well as the high level of engagement with the program among faculty and the professional community. It has also been my privilege to mentor both tenure track and clinical faculty across varied disciplines and who undertake interdisciplinary research to increase their success in the tenure and promotion process.

My cooperative and networked manner of leadership builds on my experiences as the graduate program coordinator at the Evans School of Public Affairs at the University of Washington and as principal investigator leading teams of postdocs and graduate students.
