Explosion of the Maine Lesson Plan

Central Historical Question:

What sank the Maine?

Materials:

- Maine Powerpoint
- Copies of Journal Document
- Copies of Times Document
- Maine Guiding Questions
- Maine Graphic Organizer

Plan of Instruction:

1. Put the following headlines on the board:

   - Search for Missing Bride Continues
   - Bride Missing! Groom’s Family Blame History of Mental Illness

   Have each student respond in writing:

   - How do these headlines differ?
   - Consider the wording and how a reader might respond to each article.

2. Discussion:

   - What does each headline imply?
   - If these were articles, which would you have wanted to read first?
   - Which do you think would have been the most reliable story? Why?
   - Why might different newspapers choose to present the same event so differently?

3. Transition and Powerpoint: Today we are going to be comparing two newspaper accounts of an event that happened in 1898.

   Show slide of Maine exploding and explain the following:

   - Cuba was colonized by Spain.
   - Cuban rebels had been fighting for independence.
   - Spain was thought to be brutal in repressing the rebellion.
   - U.S. had business interests in Cuba.
   - President McKinley had sent the Maine to Cuba (Why? To protect American interests? To prepare for war? To intimidate Spain? This is debated by historians. . .).
   - Maine explodes on Feb 15, 1898.
Introduce inquiry question: Who sank the Maine?

Show slide of “Awake! United States.” Read out loud.

Discussion questions:
• According to this song, who sank the Maine?
• Does this prove the Spanish blew it up?

4. Hand out Journal document and Times document and have students read and fill out the graphic organizer.

5. Whole class discussion:
• Do you know what happened to the Maine?
• What evidence do you have for your answer? Give an example where the reporter uses solid evidence to support a claim made in the article.
• Do you think these articles would have been received differently by their readers in 1898? How so?
• What effect might the Journal article have had on its readers?
• What effect might the Times article have had on its readers?
• How significant do you think the Maine explosion was to the American people at this time? Why?

6. Assessment

Writing prompt: Which account is more believable? Why?

First section: Compare the evidence used by both papers to support their claims that the Maine was blown up by attack or by unknown causes. Which uses stronger evidence? Use at least three specific examples/phrases/words from the articles to support your position.

Second section: Does this difference in accounts matter? Why or why not?

Citations:

"Destruction of the War Ship Maine was the Work of an Enemy," New York Journal and Advertiser, (Feb. 17, 1898).
http://historicalthinkingmatters.org/spanishamericanwar/0/inquiry/intro/

http://historicalthinkingmatters.org/spanishamericanwar/0/inquiry/intro/resources/10/

© Copyright 2009, Avishag Reisman and Bradley Fogo.
DESTRUCTION OF THE WAR SHIP MAINE WAS THE WORK OF AN ENEMY
Assistant Secretary Roosevelt Convinced the Explosion of the War Ship Was Not an Accident.
The Journal Offers $50,000 Reward for the Conviction of the Criminals Who Sent 258 American Sailors to Their Death.
Naval Officers All Agree That the Ship Was Destroyed on Purpose.
NAVAL OFFICERS THINK THE MAINE WAS DESTROYED BY A SPANISH MINE.

George Bryson, the Journal's special reporter at Havana, writes that it is the secret opinion of many people in Havana that the war ship Maine was destroyed by a mine and 258 men were killed on purpose by the Spanish. This is the opinion of several American naval authorities. The Spaniards, it is believed, arranged to have the Maine drop anchor over a harbor mine. Wires connected the mine to the magazine of the ship. If this is true, the brutal nature of the Spaniards will be shown by the fact that they waited to explode the mine until all the men had gone to sleep. Spanish officials are protesting too much that they did not do it. Our government has ordered an investigation.

This newspaper has sent divers to Havana to report on the condition of the wreck. This newspaper is also offering a $50,000 reward for exclusive evidence that will convict whoever is responsible. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt says he is convinced that the destruction of the Maine in Havana Harbor was not an accident. The suspicion that the Maine was purposely blown up grows stronger every hour. Not a single fact to the contrary has been produced.

Source: Excerpt from New York Journal and Advertiser, February 17, 1898.
Purchased by William Randolph Hearst in 1895, the Journal published investigative and human interest stories that used a highly emotional writing style and included banner headlines and graphic images.
Document B: New York Times (Modified)

MAINE’S HULL WILL DECIDE

Divers Will Inspect the Ship’s Hull to Find Out Whether the Explosion Was from the Outside or Inside.

It has been a busy day for the Navy Department. The war ship Maine was destroyed in Havana Harbor last night. Officials in Washington and Havana have been sending cables all night long. Secretary Long was asked whether he thought this was the work of the enemy. He replied: “I do not. I am influenced by the fact that Captain Sigsbee has not yet reported to the Navy Department. It seems he is waiting to write a full report. So long as he has not made a decision, I certainly cannot. I should think from the signs however, that there was an accident – that the magazine exploded. How that came about I do not know. For the present, at least, no other war ship will be sent to Havana.” Captain Schuley, who knows a great deal about war ships, did not entertain the idea that the Maine had been destroyed on purpose. He said that fires would sometimes start in the coal bunkers, and he told of such a fire on board another war ship that started very close to the magazine. The fire became so hot that the heat blistered the steel wall between the fire and the ammunition before the bunkers and magazine were flooded with water to stop the fire. He did not believe that the Spanish or Cubans in Havana had either the information or the equipment necessary to blow up the magazine, while the Maine was under guard.

Source: New York Times, February 17, 1898. Established in 1851, the New York Times provided investigative coverage of local New York issues and events, as well as national and international news.
Guiding Questions

New York Journal

Sourcing
1. How long after the explosion of the Maine was this article written?

2. What does the headline of the article suggest about the newspaper’s point of view?

Close Reading
3. Upon what type of evidence does the New York Journal base its claims?

New York Times

Sourcing
1. How does the date of this article compare with the date on the New York Journal and Advertiser article?

Close Reading
2. According to these headlines, what happened to the Maine?

3. What kinds of evidence does the New York Times include to support its account of the incident?