

Migration and Global Mediterranean Studies Forum presents:

“Applying the Transnational Disability Model
(TDM) to State Violence: Going ‘Mad’ Under
Torture in Political Prisons”
Talk by and discussion with Sona Hill

Monday, January 27th, 2020
4-6pm

Research Commons, Classroom #352

Sona Hill is a multi-lingual postdoctoral researcher of migration studies, disability studies, and medical humanities at The Ohio State University. Her research program is located in contradictions among transnational disability rights frameworks in the context of global and regional imperialism(s).

Join us for this reading discussion, followed by light refreshments.

Please RSVP to migrationstudiesworkinggroup@gmail.com by January 23.

The event is sponsored by the Migration and Global Mediterranean Forum. The Migration and Global Mediterranean Forum is an interdisciplinary graduate student-led and founded organization, which aims to create an inspiring and productive interdisciplinary environment for a range of migration and global Mediterranean studies scholarship at The Ohio State University.