

poetry & poetics workshop

Monday October 21
4:30-6pm
Midway 108

Roy Chicky Arad is a poet, author, journalist, musician, and social activist from Tel Aviv, Israel. Arad published eight books of poetry and prose, and invented Kimo poetry, a hairy Hebrew version of Haiku. Additionally, he released seven musical albums. Arad is a journalist for Haaretz newspaper and from 2004, the editor of Maayan poetry, prose and ideas magazine. His book "The Israeli Dream" is hailed as "one of the ten greatest Hebrew books of the twenty-first century" (Mako). Culture Guerrilla group, which he co-founded, took poetry into Israeli streets and protests. He participates courtesy of Fulbright