Faculty Spotlight - Loren Saulsberry

We are pleased to introduce Loren Saulsberry, Ph.D who will be teaching the 1st year GPHAP course. Loren joined the University of Chicago earlier this year as Assistant Professor in the Department of Public Health Sciences. She earned her PhD at Harvard in Health Policy, and she went to undergrad at Wellesley College. Her interests are health policy and politics, health services, health communication, and health disparities. Her full bio can be read here: <https://pbhs.uchicago.edu/program/faculty/loren-saulsberry>.

Student Spotlight - Erikson Fellows

Welcome Back!

Welcome back returning students, and welcome to the incoming students. There are 43 students in the incoming class. The updated Roster, including the names of all the new and returning students, has been posted on the GPHAP Canvas Site.

GPHAP Canvas Site

The GPHAP Canvas site is the place where we store GPHAP documents, and is where you will upload your co-curricular write-ups. New students will be added to the Canvas site this week.

GPHAP Co-curriculars

All events listed in the Weekly Digest count as GPHAP co-curriculars unless noted otherwise.

Six GPHAP students participated in the GPHAP Erikson Fellowship program over the summer. The Fellowships are full-time 10-week jobs at the medical center. Their work covered a wide range of topics, service lines, and initiatives currently being undertaken at the University of Chicago Medical Center. The Erikson Fellows presented their work to Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer, Jason Keeler, and their mentors on August 15, 2019. The presentations were informative and impressive, and we thank each of our Erikson Fellows for all of their hard work this summer!

First year students who are interested in learning more about the Erikson Fellowship are welcome to reach out to the Fellows, and can learn more on the GPHAP website. An information session regarding the Erikson Fellowships will be held in the Winter Quarter where the Fellows will discuss their experiences and we will provide information on the application process for this coming summer.

2019 Erikson Fellows:

- Vanessa Buie, Booth – Engaging and Aligning Frontline Clinicians in Institutional Value Improvement, Department of Medicine, UCM
- Jinglin Fu, Harris – UCM Cancer Service Line: 2025 Cancer Strategic Plan
- Rich Gauthier, SSA – Comprehensive Care, Community and Culture Program, Section of Hospital Medicine, UCM
- Sooeun Tiffany Kim, SSA – UCM Diversity, Inclusion and Equity Program Specialist
- Ellen Plonsky, SSA – Advancing Primary Care in the Era of Population Health, UCM

Zotero is available to you for download at the UChicago Library. To learn more about Zotero, you can contact Holiday Vega, MSW, MLISc, Health and Social Services Librarian at holi@uchicago.edu

Starting Wednesday, Oct. 2, 2019: 2019-20 MacLean Center Lecture Series: The Present and Future of the Doctor-Patient Relationship

Co-sponsored by the MacLean Center for Clinical Medical Ethics, the Center for Health and Social Sciences (CHeSS), and the Bucksbaum Institute for Clinical Excellence, this year's lecture series will begin on October 2 with a lecture by CHeSS Director Dr. David Meltzer. View the flyer for the entire series here.

About this year's theme: The critical questions we will examine are whether the doctor-patient relationship will survive the challenges of the 21st century and whether, in an era of rapidly advancing medical technology, physicians will be able to practice personal and caring medicine. This lecture series will address these and related questions in the context of the current political and economic climate and in light of the uncertain future of the American health care system.

First Lecture: Noodge: The Economics and Ethics of the Doctor Patient Relationship

David Meltzer, MD, PhD

Fanny L. Pritzker Professor of Medicine Director, Center for Health and the Social Sciences

Billings Hospital Auditorium, P-117
