Student Spotlight - Kaley Wendorf

Kaley Wendorf is currently in her final year at Booth! She graduated from Northwestern with a degree in biomedical engineering and global health. During her time in undergrad, she studied abroad in South Africa to learn about their healthcare system. This inspired her to focus her career on improving the healthcare system in the United States. After graduating from

GPHAP Alumni/Student Reception & Networking

Join us for the Alumni/Student Reception and Networking event that will be held on Tuesday, April 25th to meet and mingle with GPHAP students and alumni! Save the Date - Brown Fellows Event

Wednesday, May 10, 2023: GPHAP Brown Fellows Event, Lunch time, Details to come

Northwestern, Kaley worked in health tech and consulting.

To further her understanding of how healthcare operates in America, Kaley joined GPHAP. She was drawn to GPHAP because she wanted to learn from her peers pursuing different disciplines. As a Brown Fellow, Kaley oversees planning the wonderful events, such as the cross-school internship panel in the fall.

When she is not working at her women's healthcare start up, ALEYE, Kaley is teaching boxing classes!
