This liberation force has already killed many Pakistani soldiers. Major Salik says that he is in charge of about 40 sq. Miles of area surrounding the Sealdah river. Many other parts of Bangladesh have already been liberated by the Mukti Bahini. People from these areas are mostly farmers who feel happy and luckily to have been liberated. They become scouts and contribute to the freedom movement. All the arms that Mukti Bahini is using has been snatched over from the Pakistani soldiers. More soldiers are being trained to use arms and ammunition. Major Malik says that they will continue fighting with Pakistani soldiers till the very end and will eventually win to liberate Bangladesh.	Hindi	1971	9.19	B&W	Not Available	Not Available

2855	004265	Manavalakurichi, My Village	Documentary	Public Administration	Urban & Rural Development	Through a sentimental journey of Lakshmi to her village, Manavalakurichi in Kanyakumari district in Tamil Nadu, this film demonstrates the overall transformation that has taken place in rural India. However, for all its progress, Manavalakurichi, for instance, still retains its old character. It is still a land of fisher folk, people who constantly battle with the stormy seas to earn a living. But there is a change: now there are three co-operatives which find a good market for their catch in the hinterland. Through its co-operation and industriousness, Manavalakurichi could earn the recognition of the best village- both by the state and the central governments. People of Manavalakurichi are also engaged in the task of creating economic opportunities for all so that the gap between the rich and the poor can be reduced. 2874	004285	This - Our only Earth !	Documentary	Public Administration	Urban & Rural Development	This film cautions us against the hazards of reckless urbanisation and industrialisation, causing danger to environment. Intensity of air pollution in the city of Bombay with its 500 odd textile mills and chemical factories and other industries can well be imagined. In 1973, Bombay burnt over 9000 tonnes of fuel and spewed out 14 core gallons of sewage every day. Industrial effluents in cities wantonly flow into the rivers and sea, contaminating water, killing the fish and surrounding vegetation. Providing cleaner environment to people is a big challenge. It is a primary need. Government of India collaborated with the UN and the World Meteorological Organisations to establish regional and base stations to keep a close watch on pollution. 2884	004298	Kuchipudi Dance : Bhama Kalapam ( Part - I ) Ancient & Modern	Documentary	Arts	Dance	Kuchipudi is a village, fifteen miles away from Masalipatnam in Andhra Pradesh. This village in its quiet surroundings has fostered a dance form named after it. Known in earlier days as Kuchelapuram, it was here that Siddhendra Yogi settled in the 15th century to train young devotees of the Vaishnava sect to perform his dance-drama, Bhama Kalapam. Training in Kuchipudi involves imparting knowledge of the vedasand shastras. Siddhendra Yogi and Teertha Narayana Yogi, both ascetics are generally credited as the originators of this dance form. The technique of Kuchipudi dance incorporates all three fundamental aspects of classical Indian dance, viz. Nritya, Nritya and Natya. The first part of the film briefly traces the tradition of this dance form.	English	1973	20.15	Col	T. A. Abraham	Cinematography - M. K. Vighne, Sound - M. J. 2945	004376	NR1275 - A	News Coverages / Reels	News Coverage	Indian News Review	A Challenge: The rains did not come and this resulted in the total loss of standing kharif crops, a shortfall of 8 million tonnes of food grains. This natural calamity poses a challenge. An emergency programme swings into action to wipe out the kharif deficit by keeping a target to increase 15 million tonnes of food grains. The estimated expenditure is Rs.1500 million. But irrigational inadequacies and power shortage upset the programme in many states. This is not time for despair as farmers strive for better harvest. Short term loans of Rs.800 million is allocated to help farmers buy pesticides and fertilizers. Rainfall in the north gives hope of an increased yield, an increase of over 2 million tonnes. In terms of statistics there is hope of a better rabi harvest, Punjab 5.8 million tonnes, Haryana 2.6 million tonnes, Uttar Pradesh 8.5 million tonnes, Bihar 4.4 million tonnes, Madhya Pradesh 11.1 million tonnes, Kerala 1.65 million tonnes, Tamil Nadu 1.8 million tonnes. If the efforts to boost the rabi crops are any indication, our farmers have proved their capacity in facing a crisis.	English	1973	7.45	B&W	Not Available	Not Available

2956	004389	NR1287 - A	News Coverages / Reels	News Coverage	Indian News Review	A Bold Step: People from various villages and cities in India are complaining about the shortage of necessary food grains. Since a few years, inspite of a good harvest the farmers still face black marketing and price increase. Simple and innocent people face the most problems. It is the responsibility of the government to protect people from such atrocities. Food grain traders were cheating the farmers through illegal activities. Inspite of a good produce by the farmers, the traders would under purchase the food grains forcing the farmers to sell their produce at a lower price. Hence the government has intervened and taken a bold step. The main objective of the Food Corporation of India is to safeguard the consumers and farmers in all ways. The government is also opening many shops that offer correct price for the farmers produce. Farmers are now happy that the government has taken such a step but also hope to get other essential commodities like oil at an economical price from the government. 2986	004422	NR1313 - A	News Coverages / Reels	News Coverage	Indian News Review	For A Better Future – Prime Minister’s Call The Prime Minister Srmt. Indira Gandhi draws attention on ‘planning’ to be an integral part in the functioning of free India. She considers the last 20 years to have laid a secure foundation of the nation’s economic strength and future growth which will help to overcome poverty. She highlights the forming of 5 year plans as a chart of action and effort that the nation has to put it. The Prime Minister stated that economic growth and social justice are not conflicting objectives but something to be reconciled and advanced together through such plans. She assured people that the plan is a blue print which will ensure better standards of living and also enhance national strength. She recognized the failure in mobilizing talent and the existing distance between people and the plans. She appeals to people from public or private enterprises to work with faith and confidence. The Prime Minister showed concern about sufferings of people due to the rise in prices but also reassured efforts of the government in bringing stability. She also declared that the 5th plan emphasis will have to be placed on non inflationary methods of financing development programmes. She appeals to the people of the country to consider issues affecting them in the wider national perspective and stresses on hard work and co-operation to be the need of the hour.	English	1973	6.42	B&W	Not Available	Editor - S. Among the memoirs of the courtiers, ambassadors and historians, we discover the account of the magnificence of Shivaji coronation in 1674. Shivaji was born in 1630, when the Nizamshahi kings ruled over most of Northern Maharashtra. The sultan of Bijapur ruled parts of South India. On the coast, Siddis of Abyssinia were dominant. The Portuguese were already opening the doors for colonialism.	Hindi	1974	18.34	Col	P. B. Pendharkar	Cinematography - Ram Mhatre, Sound - T. A. Jagannathan, Editing - K. M. 3112	004593	NR1209 - C	News Coverages / Reels	News Coverage	Indian News Review	A Message from the Prime Minister: Indira Gandhi My brotherly soldiers, you are fighting with braveness for the security of our country. All the citizens of the country supportively stand alongside you. The people of Bangladesh who are mostly followers of Islam, have given a fitting reply to the soldiers of Islamabad. We both are fighting for the same cause of equality amongst all religions. India is not only mountains or rivers but an emotion that has been surviving over 3000 years. I surge my army brothers to continue fighting with braveness and victory shall be ours – Jai Hind. All Out Support – Mr. Ebrahim Sulaiman Sait: Our country is passing through a very critical period in history. Time has come when our patriotism and solidarity is put to test because of the naked aggression by Pakistan against our mother country. We have to rise to the occasion and pledge our full support to our government and be prepared for all sacrifices that may become necessary for the integrity and honor of our country. Let us all co-operate in full by donating generously in the defence fund and blood banks and success will be ours. Mr. K Narayana Rao: Article 21 of the universal declaration of Human Rights proclades that the will of the people shall be the basis of authority of government. American President Thomas Jefferson annunciated the same principle for the recognition of new governments and new states. The new state of Bangladesh satisfies this basic test of recognition. The union general assembly ignored the adjacent aspirations of the people of Bangladesh. With due respect to the general assembly, we find it difficult to accept its recent resolution which relegated the other related issues to a subsequent stage. Mr. A.K. Gopalan: We would welcome any proposal for peace which ensures full democracy and freedom. Our party has always supported the liberation struggle of the people all over the world. Not satisfied with the mass killings of lakhs of people in Bangladesh, the Agyakan aided by American arms has imposed a war on the people of India simply not because of our solidarity with the fighting people of Bangladesh but the defeat of west Pakistani armies on the land of Bangladesh has	English	1974	11.39	B&W	Not Available	Not Available

3879	005522	The World of Children ( shishu - sansar )	Documentary	Children	Welfare	A film is indicating the fact about deprivation experienced by millions of children in India. For nearly a hundred million of India's children there is little laughter and a great deal of hardship. When their parents can hardly afford to feed them, how can they send them to school? India's constitution proclaimed that the State shall endeavour to provide within ten years free and compulsory education to all the children under 14. Yet even in 13th year (in 1979) of the Republic 20% of them do not go to school at all. 65% of those who join become drop-outs. We must remember that it is through children that the aspirations of humanity are going to be realized. What we need are not pious resolutions but genuine action pleads this film. 4094	005761	Homoeopathy - The Humane Medicine	Documentary	Medical System	Homoeopathy	April 10, 1755. A small village of Meissen in Germany. In the house of a poor porcelain painter was born Samuel Hahnemann. He qualified himself as an allopath at the age of 24 and practised allopathic medicine for several years. But he soon grew disgusted with it and went on to develop a new system called Homoeopathy. Homoeopathic medicines are prepared from vegetable, chemicals, minerals and animal matter by a process of dilution. The medicines so prepared have less of the crude drugs, but become more potent and effective. They are called "Potencies." The idea of potency was Hahnemann's. This film introduces to the viewer the development and working of homoeopathy. Dr. Honigberger, a European physician brought homoeopathy to India to the court of Maharaja Ranjit Singh to treat and cure the ailing ruler. The International Homoeopathic Medical Congress held at Vigyan Bhavan, New Delhi in October 1977 is also shown. 4249	005943	Gita - Govindam	Documentary	Literature		The Gita Govindam of Jaydev is a unique work in Sanskrit literature. It can be read purely as a long poem. But it is also an unexpected fusion of poetry and music, with specific raags and taals, dance and drama. It is one of the earliest examples of what the 20th century likes to term a multimedia performance. This film presents the temple of Golden Gouranga at Navadwip in Bengal. Recital of songs from the Gita Govindam is part of daily ritual here. In the early 16th century, the presence of the mystic seer of Sri Chaitanya turned Navadwip into a leading centre of Vaishnavism. Hundreds of palm leaf manuscripts from Orissa illustrate every shade and nuance of this epic poem. In the 17th and 18th centuries, Gita Govindam provided important motifs for all the schools of Rajasthani painting, as this film demonstrates. 4308	006025	Babasaheb Ambedkar	Documentary	Biography	National Leader	A biographical film about Babasaheb Ambedkar, the chief architect of the Constitution of India. Dr. Ambedkar dedicated his life to the cause of the downtrodden. Born of humble parents, Bhimrao the 14th child of an army subedar had his primary schooling in Dapoli in Konkan and at Satara in Maharashtra. Aided by scholarships, brilliant Bhimrao attended college in Bombay. Later he went to Columbia University in New York. He set up his legal practice in Bombay High Court in 1924. As a member of the Bombay Legislative Assembly, an active public career was already in the making. A public pond at Mahad in Kolaba District of Maharashtra was claimed by caste Hindus as private property. Harijans were being denied their civic right of drawing water from this pond. In 1927, Ambedkar and his followers led a satyagraha to protest against this unjust practice. From here his protracted battle followed. He emerged as the undisputed leader of the depressed classes who lovingly called him Babasaheb. He died in Delhi on December 6, 1956 at the age of 65.	English	1981	15.20	B&W	A. V. 4397	006187	Books That Talk	Documentary	Education	Classroom Films	Blindness imposes severe restriction on the acquisition of knowledge which for the most part is through the sense of sight. For about 150 years, Braille, the raised script has made it possible for blind people to perceive written information. In this film the director, Sai Paranjpye narrates her own experience about how she developed a 'talking book project'. "In 1962, I was in England on a UN Fellowship and I saw the 18-track, 21-hour playing time metal cassettes which will be of tremendous benefit to our country. I spoke to the Government of USA, Health Education & Welfare Dept. They made available a grant of $ 17,000 while British made equipment was shipped to India in October 1963. 4586	006385	A City At Stake	Documentary	Public Administration	Urban & Rural Development	A film is about the city of Bombay and housing conditions prevailing in this metropolis. About 80% of the city's population lives in slums and dilapidated houses. Providing land for housing is the concern of the Government. There is an opinion that the Urban Land Ceiling Act and the way it has been administered has in fact created artificial scarcity of land which is still available in the city. The Housing Development Finance Corporation provides loans to married couples to buy very modest flats. In north Bombay, HDFC has financed 1000 tenements for mill workers. A collective effort is required from both Government and people. The city will not collapse if its citizens plan and act with vision and resolution to preserve it, says this film. 4590	006494	Nritya - Nalanda	Documentary	Arts	Dance	In India, dance as an art form has been in existence for almost 5000 years. A torso of a male dancer and a copper figurine of a dancing girl found among the Mohen-jo-daro relics is a testimony to this. Since the earliest time, the principal aim of all art forms was to create rasa, or a sentiment in the beholder. An integral part of an Indian dance orchestra is the "talams" or cymbals. They were originally used by the sutradharor the conductor of a performance. In the contemporary dance recital it is the Guru or the teacher, who wields these talams. The very intricate art can be learnt ideally through the Guru-Shishyaparampara. Nritya Nalanda, the dance institute that this film presents continues the ancient tradition of learning, in the contemporary academic environment. The Bombay-based Nalanda Nritya Institute run by Ms. Kanak Rele is affiliated to the University of Bombay. Facilities for post-doctoral research are also provided at this institute. 4593	006525	Towards Zero Population Growth in Kerala	Documentary	Economics	Census	The state of Kerala has one of the lowest population growth rates in the whole of India. One reason for this is education. Kerala's literacy rate of over 70% is the highest in the country. It has been found that education has a direct impact on fertility; people respond well to Family Planning programmes. Within the last 10 years a remarkable demographic change has taken place here. The birth rate is dropping dramatically by a point every year. While the rest of the country's population growth rate is nearly 2.1/2 % that of Kerala is under 2%. The state has already very nearly achieved what India aims to realize by the year 2000. This film while motivating the viewer about low birth rate, familiarises him with about a new family planning scheme -the Family Property Fund introduced in the state. 4604	006375	Struggle for Freedom Part - II : Inquilab Zindabad	Documenta ry	Freedom Struggle		Part II of the series Struggle for Freedom. This film covers the period 1900-30. At the turn of the century, the Governor General of India, Lord Curzon wrote to London: "The Congress is tottering towards its fall. I will assist it to a peaceful demise."He was ignoring the rumbling thunder of freedom. In the name of administrative efficiency, Lord Curzon proclaimed the partition of Bengal in 1905. People of India unitedly protested against the British move of "Divide and Rule". There was a nation-wide revolt against the British. In 1911, the Delhi Darbar was held in Delhi, and the capital was shifted from Calcutta to Delhi. In 1914the First World War broke out. More than one million Indians were recruited into this European war, more than 100,000 Indians died. Until independence, over 50% of India's revenue went to support the British Empire elsewhere. In 1927, the British Government sent the Simon Commission to discover whether India was fit for Dominion status. All over India the cry was: Simon Go Back. By 1930, the call of Inquilab Zindabad was echoed from across the country.	English	1983	21.01	B& W	Bimal Dutt	Acknowledgement - Dr. Usha Mehta, Smt. Meera Mekherjee, Smt. Arti Dutt, Dr. P. N. Chopra.

4621	006396	Happiness Unto Others	Documentary	Sociology	Castism	A documentary is on Parsis, a remarkable community in India which has become an indivisible part of India. Parsis' contribution to India's political and economic fields has been historic. The term "Parsi" is derived from Parsa, a province in Iran. It was from Parsa that Cyrus the Great Achaemenian rose to power in the 6th century BC. He extended his sovereignty over the whole of Iran and the country came to be known as Persia. After the downfall of the Sasanian dynasty and the collapse of the Sasanian Empire in the 7th century AD, the Parsis found that their religion was threatened. Many of them sailed away to the West coast of India. The Hindu king Jadhav Rana granted them shelter and they settled in Sanjan, 150 KM north of the present Bombay. This film narrates the history of the Parsis' settlement in India and their precious nation building contribution.	English	1983	21.06	Col	Homi D. 4762	006569	NR1809	News Coverages / Reels	News Coverage	Indian News Review	Devastating Downpour: In June 1983, a cyclonic storm was followed by four days of continuous torrential rainfall in Gujarat's saurashtra region. Several villages in the vanthali area of Junagadh District and in the low- lying Ghed area were still inaccessible to vehicular traffic more than a week after the storm. Thousands of head of cattle perished , stored foodgrains were destroyed , and the mango crop , for which the Vanthali region is well known, was a total loss. The Gujarat state government quickly mobilized resources to carry out relief measures, with the Minister of Agriculture in charge of operations. The chief minister and other state officials made an aerial survey of the stricken area and later visited some of the most affected towns. The Indian defense services were called upon to assist civil authorities in relief and rescue efforts. After touring the stricken area by helicopter and jeep on June 27, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi called for a national effort to assist the flood victims. The National Scene: Indira Gandhi and Rajiv Gandhi remember the late Sanjay Gandhi and give a speech in his memory.
