

Cleveland Student Blog Draft

| | 4 | 3 | 2 | 1 |
|----------------------------|---|--|--|--|
| Vulnerability and Valiance | Content includes all aspects of the author's personal experiences or connections (including wins and fails) | Content includes some aspects of the author's personal experiences or connections (mostly positive, and some negatives) | Content includes only positive aspects of the author's personal experiences or connections | Content includes no aspects of the author's personal experiences or connections. |
| Value | Content is written in a manner that adds a lot of value to both the author and the audience | Content is written in a manner that adds some value to both the author and the audience | Content is written in a manner that some/little value to either the author and the audience | Content is written in a manner that adds no to either the author and audience |
| Voice | Author writes with a very distinguished voice and always provokes questions and meaningful thoughts | Author writes with a developing voice and sometimes provokes questions and meaningful thoughts | Author writes with little voice, (offering only facts, pictures etc.) and only asks 1-2 questions. | Author writes with no voice and does not provoke or ask any questions or provide any meaningful thoughts |
| Vigilance | Author always publishes, posts and/or updates his/her blog frequently | Author publishes, posts and/or updates his/her blog sometimes | Author publishes, posts and/or updates his/her blog on an inconsistent or very seldom basis. | Author rarely publishes, posts and/or updates his/her blog. |
| Varying Views | Author always accepts varying points of views and portrays a multiple lens through his/her blog content. | Author sometimes accepts varying points of views and portrays a an openness to look through ideas through a different lens in his/her blog content. | Author rarely accepts varying points of views and rarely portrays a multiple lens through his/her blog content. | Author only writes with a closed mind , and does not accept or acknowledge varying views in his/her content. |
| Volunteer | Author always provides meaningful feedback and comments on the blogs of others. | Author sometimes provides meaningful feedback and comments on the blogs of others. | Author provides some meaningful feedback and comments on the blogs of others, or rarely comments on the blogs of others. | Author never provides any feedback and/or comments on the blogs of others. |
| | | | | |